*The Word is spoken, given life – it instructs and now gives light.
The message is uncommonly simple:
to become totally human.*

Dedication

*From his wealth of vitality and spontaneity
We gained two good things –
A spirit of enthusiasm and perseverance,
An appreciation of his warmth and wit.
For the generosity of his time,
For his boundless energy,
For the light which he shed on our college years
We thank him.*

*Man is an animal of History,
Each drawing from the common spring of a common History.
What the past would tell us is weighed,
Applied or discarded by the individual person.*

Seniors

*. . . and the Word became Flesh –
Became Man to glorify and confirm the uniqueness of our station;
To teach us to be satisfied with our gift of humanity.
To this we must give our assent,
Must accept and in our acceptance
Find salvation and perfection.*

*The Word is Tomorrow . . .
Opening upon the vista of the future.
Within the confines of Today we formulate
The hopes and dreams
Which give rise to the days ahead;
And what we are now is the frame
Of all our Yesterdays.*

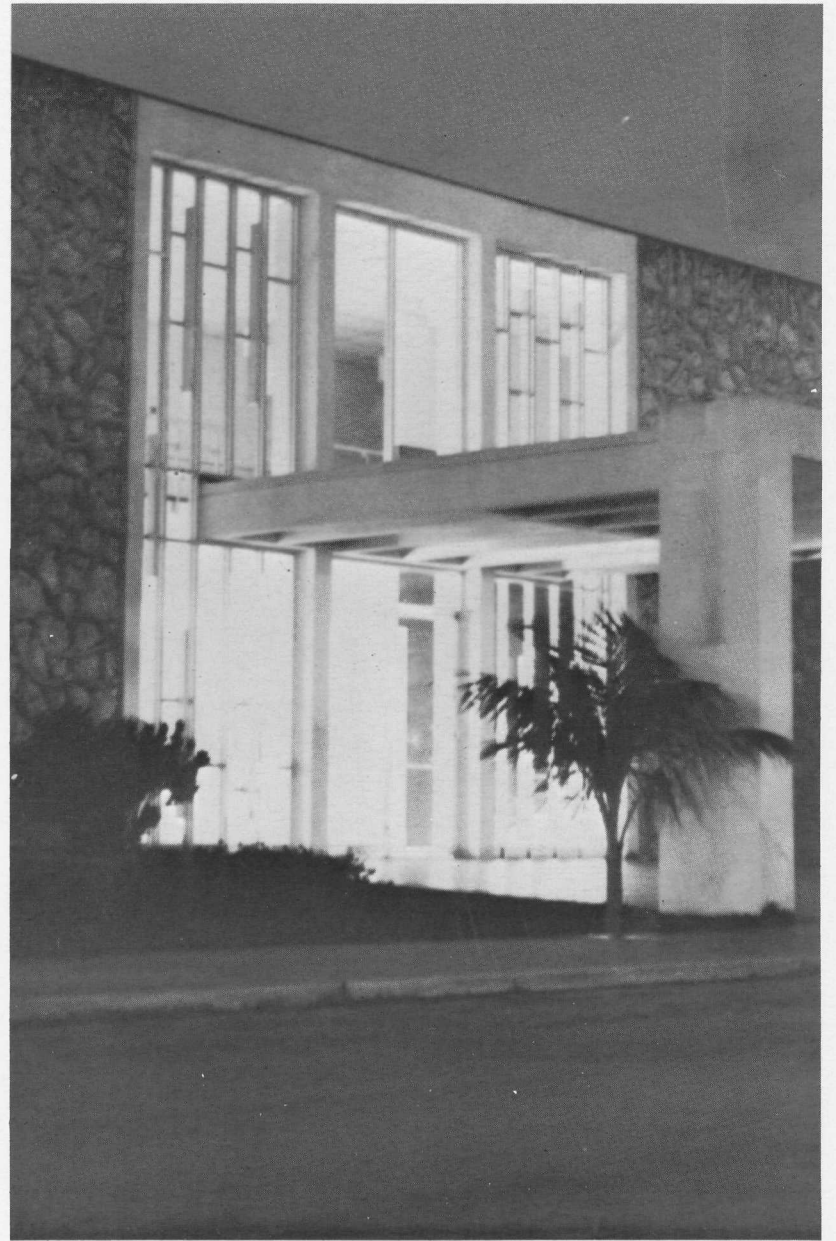

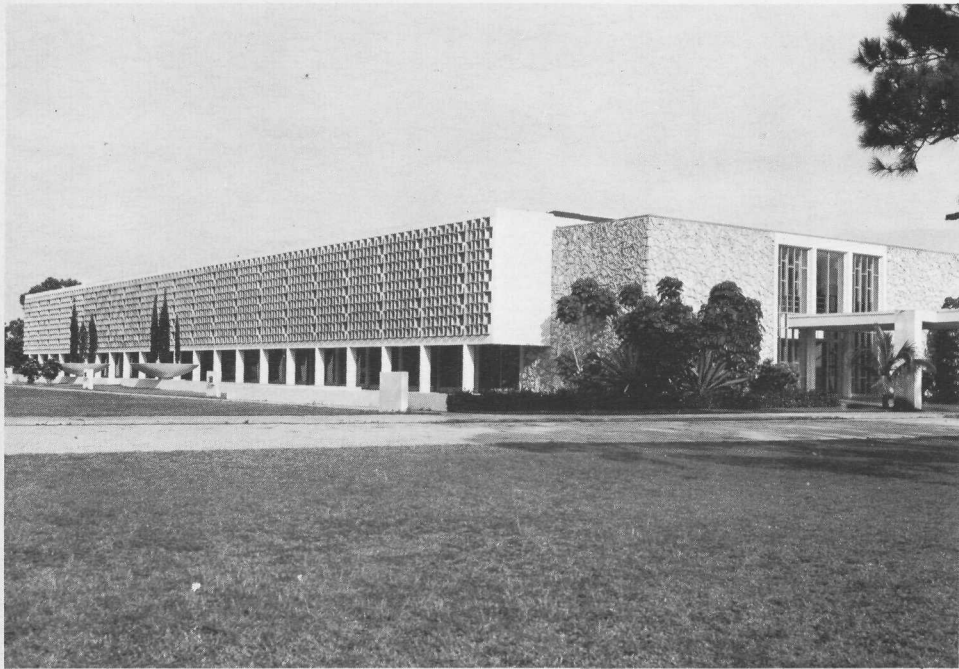

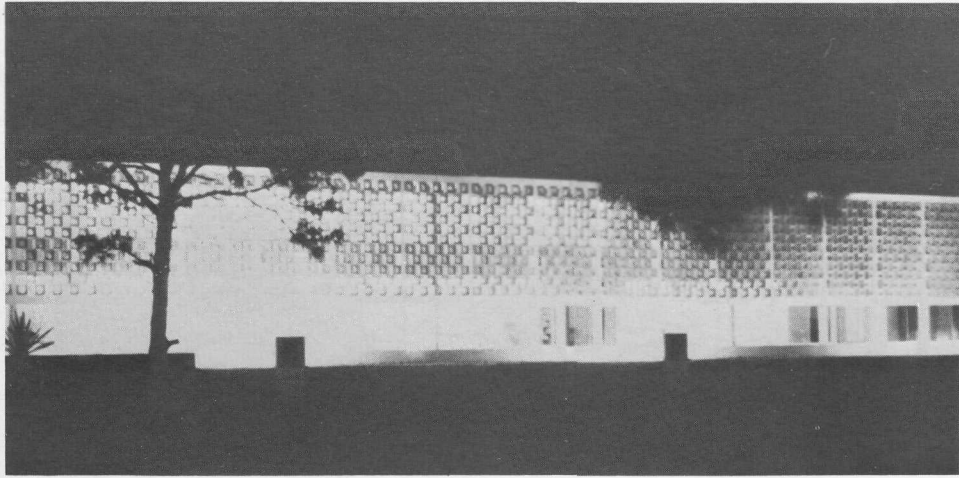

*Thus,
Impelled by the past . . .*

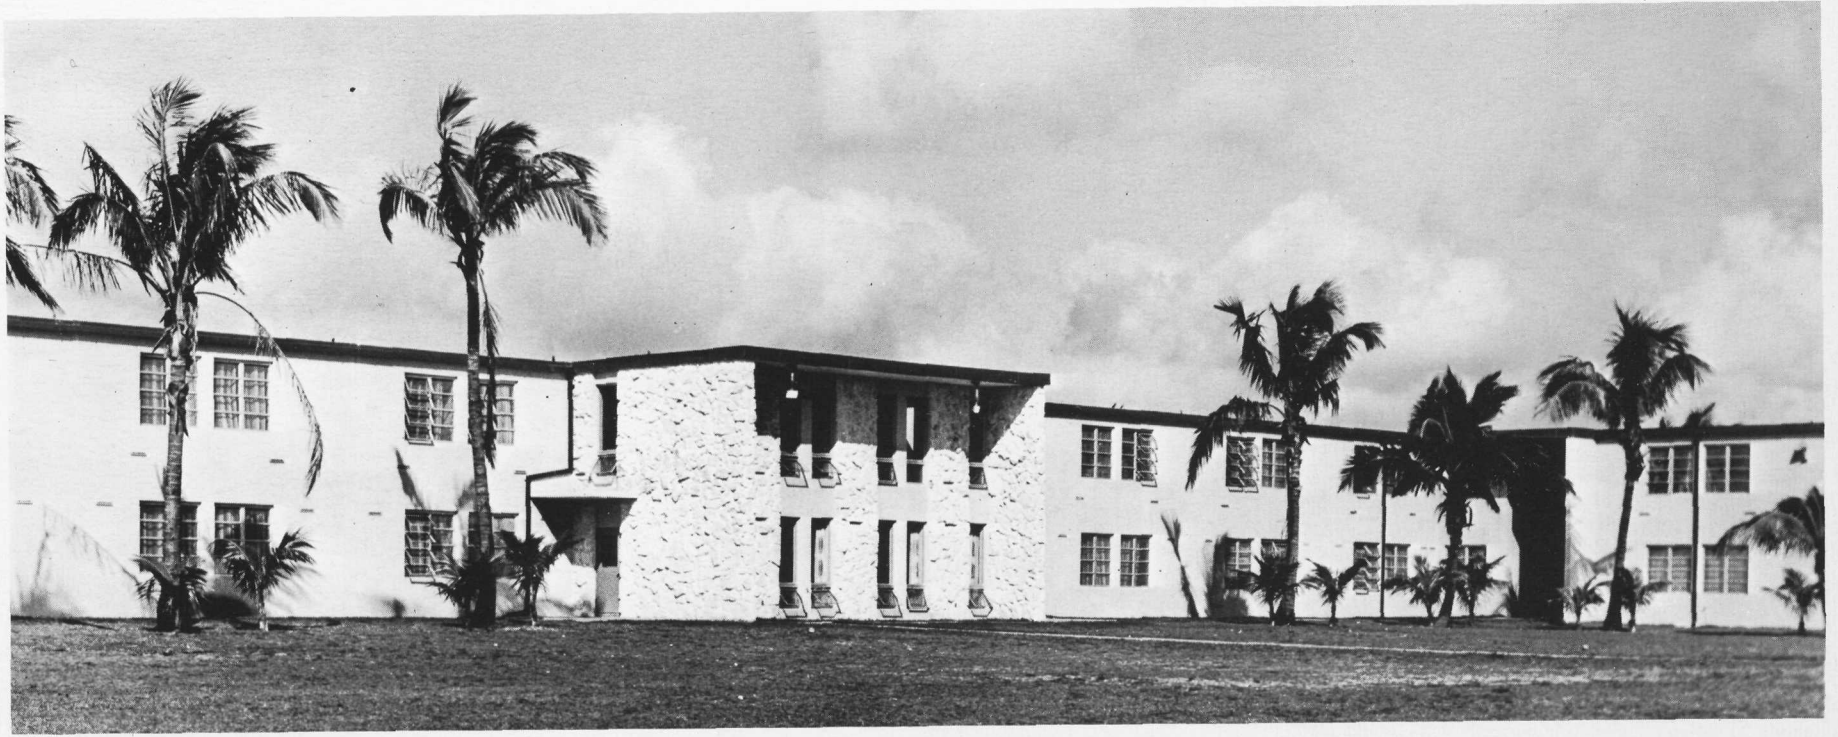

*We step into Tomorrow
Filled with the promise of Today
Aware that the process of Becoming
Is a fascinating and daring enterprise
Open only to those unafraid of their own humanity.*

*The Word is spoken.
The Word gives expression to the feelings which go to make up a man.
It tells of pain and loss,
Love and joy and all the things worth telling.
The Word is Love
And love to be effective must be spoken,
And men can speak the Word which tells of salvation.*
