

Development Fund Campaign Ready For Takeoff

The count-down is under way as final preparations are being rushed to completion for the formal launching next week of the 1962 Development Fund

Campaign of the Diocese of Miami.

With fair skies ahead and unprecedented enthusiasm on the part of the nearly 400,000

Catholics in the 16 counties of South Florida, the drive gives every promise of going quickly into orbit and soaring beyond its target goal of $1 million.

More than 7,000 volunteer workers will provide the rocket power.

Beginning next Monday, they will start making their door-to-door rounds which within a week will embrace the home of every wage-earner in the Diocese. Of necessity, most of the calls from Monday through Saturday will be during the evening hours:

Then, a week from next Sunday — on March 4, designated as "Stay at Home" Sunday — the campaign will come to a climax. On that day, every family which has not been contacted during the week will be asked to remain in their homes in order to receive the volunteer workers during the hours from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll, through the Development Fund workers, has expressed this message to all the Faithful of the Diocese:

"As each succeeding year passes, I am made increasingly proud of the people of the Diocese of Miami. Never have I come to you with

ARCHBISHOP-ELECT PAUL J. HALLINAN
Metropolitan of Atlanta

A new ecclesiastical province in the southeast section of the United States, with Atlanta as the metropolitan see and the dioceses of Charleston, Miami, Raleigh, St. Augustine and Savannah as suffragans, was established this week by Pope John XXIII.

According to an announcement made Wednesday by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, Pope John named Bishop Paul J. Hallinan of Charleston as first Archbishop of Atlanta, which has been elevated to the rank of archdiocese.

Atlanta is the capital of the State of Georgia and the gateway to the South. In its rapidly growing metropolitan area there are now 1,014,349 inhabit-

BISHOP PROPOSED AS MEDIATOR

Aid Offered To End Bus Tieup

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll has offered to serve as mediator, or in any other capacity, in any efforts which might be proposed to bring about a peaceful settlement of Dade County's bus controversy.

The suggestion that Bishop Carroll "use his good offices" to bring together the Metro Commissioners and officers of the bus drivers' union in an attempt to end the transportation dispute quickly was made by George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

Speaking at a rally sponsored by the drivers at Bayfront Park Tuesday night, Mr. Meany declared:

"I suggest — I publicly urge one of Miami's most distinguished citizens, Bishop Coleman Francis Carroll, to use his good offices to bring these parties together and get the talks going again.

"With a man of Bishop Carroll's reputation and integrity acting as an impartial chairman, the citizens of this county could be sure that all parties would receive fair and honest treatment — and discussions on ending this impasse could go forward."

He proposed that a group of responsible citizens, including leading members of the clergy in Miami of all faiths, establish themselves as a fact-finding committee to gather the facts and weigh the statements of both sides in an effort to get the buses rolling again without delay.

Bishop Carroll issued the following statement:

"I have been informed of Mr. George Meany's statement suggesting that I act as a mediator in an attempt to bring together for renewed negotiations the disputants in the bus controversy.

"As a citizen of Greater Miami, I am very willing to offer my services in any capacity which might help clarify this

Examinations For Seminary To Highlight Vocation Month

March will be observed as Vocation Month throughout the Diocese of Miami.

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll has called upon the priests and laity to join in the occasion with a spirit of dedication to prayer and work in order to foster vocations to the priesthood and the religious life.

The Bishop has asked that a daily prayer for vocations be said in every church after Mass on weekdays and Sundays for vocations.

Widespread activities in every parish of the Diocese will be climaxed on Vocation Sunday, March 25, when Bishop Carroll will celebrate a Pontifical High Mass at 1 p.m. in St. Mary Cathedral. At that time, the Serra Altar Boy Awards will be presented to top boys from each parish.

EXAMS PLANNED

As a result of the year-around vocational program carried out under the direction of Father James J. Walsh, Diocesan Director of Vocations, large numbers of boys in the eighth and ninth grades are expected to apply for admission next September to the St. John Vianney Minor Seminary in order to study for the priesthood in the Diocese of Miami.

Entrance examinations will be held in these six different cities on Saturday, March 17, beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at noon:

regrettable situation and eventually lead to better understanding and restoration of normal transportation in this area.

"If all the pertinent facts in this matter can be brought to light by a fact-finding committee, made up of conscientious citizens with objective viewpoints, we have reason to be confident that a common ground can be found on which both sides can meet and settle their differences for the well-being of everyone in our community."

Mr. Meany contended that the sale of the bus properties by William Pawley to the Metro government would saddle the citizens of Dade County with a huge liability and called for a referendum vote on the sale and county operation of the buses.

He proposed a four-point plan to settle the dispute. It would include a return to the status quo before the Metro commissioners voted to purchase the bus lines; arbitration of all economic issues involved, with binding arbitration; the referendum vote by taxpayers on the purchase and county operation, and solving all of the legal questions through the courts.

Regarding the sale of the bus properties by Mr. Pawley to the county for $7,705,000, Mr. Meany said:

"There are experts, including those the union retained, who say that price is too high — by about $3 million.

"Mr. Pawley is to be paid in bonds — by obligations of every citizen of Dade County — redeemable over a 15-year period, and during that time he is to receive five per cent interest, tax free."

He charged also that Mr. Pawley still maintains actual control of the bus properties by the right to hire and fire the trustees, the day-to-day management and the consulting engineers who will have the right to set fares and decide what routes will be served without any public hearing.

Employees, Mr. Meany declared, would have no rights whatever, including the right to protest, adding that "this is the most fantastic, unregulated private utility that I have ever heard of and a bold and cynical plan to give Mr. Pawley all of the gravy and none of the risks."

The union, Mr. Meany said "has been a responsible and conscientious union" for 21 years and that during that time, "despite endless provocations, there have been only four previous strikes in the history of this local."

What the union wants, he asserted, is the right to engage in collective bargaining on wages, hours and conditions of employment with Mr. Pawley, "the owner of these companies — the man who will control the transportation system for 15 years under this proposed scheme."

Mr. Pawley and the county government, he insisted, "are out to destroy this union."

"These are the facts," he said, "which led the union to strike some three weeks ago.

"This case has been in the courts. Judge Eaton has ruled — despite what you have read in the newspapers — that these workers have the right to strike against Mr. Pawley as they have done. Judge Eaton has ruled that this enterprise can engage in collective bargaining with this union because substantial control is retained by Pawley. The judge said Mr. Pawley retains substantial operating and financial control. If he doesn't, he is a fool and Mr. Pawley is no fool, the judge added."

The National Labor Relations Board is considering the union's charges of unfair labor practices against the company, the county and the Transit Authority, Mr. Meany continued and stated:

"It must be clear to you that this is a complicated, complex legal situation. There will be delays while this matter is litigated. I think anyone who knows anything about the courts will admit that there is at least a couple of years of litigation involved here.

"Certainly no one can wait for this seemingly endless legal tangle to be unwound. Certainly fore that day is reached."

Laity Charged With Future Of Church-Related Schools

PHILADELPHIA (NC) — A priest-political scientist charged here that future historians will hold today's Catholic laity responsible if the nation's church-related schools are lost.

Father Virgil C. Blum, S.J., a Marquette University political scientist, speaking in a Convent of the Sacred Heart lecture series here, scored the passivity of American Catholics.

"Their refusal to organize with Protestants and Jews for participation in the democratic processes may well make the collapse of religious education inevitable," the Jesuit educator stated.

Any program of Federal aid for public schools only would violate the basic civil rights which the Constitution defends, Father Blum said.

"The crisis is not so much in classroom shortages and low teachers' salaries, as in the resolution of the question: who shall control the minds of our children?" Father Blum said.

"In America we see that parents in increasing numbers are being forced to surrender the control of their children's education," he said. "The cost of education has increased more than 700 per cent since 1940.

NEW ARCHBISHOP OF ATLANTA

Archbishop-elect Hallinan was one of the principal speakers at the January meeting of eastern vocation directors to which the Miami Diocese was host at Miami Beach. A native of Painesville, O., he was awarded a bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Notre Dame in 1932 and studied for the priesthood at St. Mary Seminary, Cleveland.

He was ordained to the priesthood in St. John Cathedral, Cleveland, and took graduate studies at John Carroll University from 1951 to 1953, taking the Master of Arts Degree in American History. He made further studies in American History at Western Reserve University from 1953 to 1958, and served as assistant pastor in St. Aloysius parish, Cleveland from 1937 to 1942.

During the next three years he was on duty as a U. S. Army chaplain with the engineers in the South Pacific and after his return was assistant pastor at St. John Cathedral in Cleveland from 1945 to 1947.

In addition, Archbishop-elect Hallinan was a member of the faculty of Notre Dame College, South Euclid, O., and taught in the evening division at St. John College, Cleveland.

Prior to his consecration as the eighth Bishop of Charleston on Oct. 28, 1958, the new metropolitan of Atlanta was director of the Intercollegiate Newman Club of Cleveland.

Six College Groups Appeal For Both Loans And Grants

WASHINGTON (NC) — Six influential organizations representing U. S. higher education have appealed to Congress to include both grants and loans in the final version of Federal aid to colleges.

Most public institutions, they said, will be unable to benefit if only loans are provided. This is because of statutory limitations or state constitutional provisions restricting them on borrowing, they said.

Both Senate and House have passed bills to aid construction of non-religious academic facilities by colleges. But among differences between them is the House bill's provision to extend only loans. The Senate measure offers colleges a choice of loans or grants.

The six organizations signing the statement are: the American Council on Education, the American Association of Junior Colleges, the Association of American Colleges, the Association of State Colleges and Universities, the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges and the State Universities Association.

There is no national group devoted exclusively to higher education. But Catholic colleges are represented in the Association of American Colleges and the National Catholic Educational Association is a constituent member of the American Council on Education.

Serrans Plan Essay Contest On Vocations

The third annual Essay Contest on the subject of Vocations to the Priesthood and the Religious Life will be conducted during March in every school of the Diocese of Miami. It will be sponsored by all four of the Serra Clubs in the Diocese — Miami, Palm Beach, Broward County and Indian River.

Contestants will be boys and girls from the seventh grade through high school. Beginning on March 1, the contest will close on April 2. More than 10,000 entries are expected.

Prizes will be awarded in each of 12 divisions and the school of each winner will receive a trophy to be retained for one year. The awards will be made on May 1 at a regular Serra luncheon to be attended by the winners, their parents, their pastors and their principals.

The following subjects have been selected for the various divisions:

For Boys

DIVISION "A" — 4th High (400-500 words)

"What is a Diocesan Priest?" (Give the background of the diocesan priesthood; the meaning of the diocese; the great variety of his work; why the Church depends so greatly on the diocesan clergy.)

DIVISION "B" — 3rd High (400-400 words)

"Is God Calling You?" (Discuss the signs of a vocation; why the need of direction and prayer; when one should enter the minor seminary; obstacles to be overcome, such as feeling of unworthiness, etc.)

Division "C" — 2nd High (300-400 words)

The Diocesan Priest — A Missionary at Home" (Describe how every parish has Mission territory; missionary land within the Diocese of Miami; how the diocesan priest fills the role of missionary.)

DIVISION "D" — 1st High (300-400 words)

"The Need for Vocations in the Diocese of Miami" (Why the need is so great here as in many missionary lands; the reasons for this acute need; the solution to the problem)

Division "E" — 8th Grade (200-300 words)

"Life in the Minor Seminary" (Rules of the house; curriculum of studies; spiritual program; recreation and athletics)

DIVISION "F" — 7th Grade (200-300 words)

St. John's U. Plans $10 Million Expansion

JAMAICA, N.Y. (NC) — St. John's University will construct within the next two years three new buildings and an athletic stadium at a cost of 10 million dollars.

Father Edward J. Burke, C.M., president, said the Vincentian school is now the largest Catholic university in the Middle Atlantic States and the second largest in the nation, with almost 11,000 students. The University of Detroit is the largest, with about 13,000.

Bishop Calls For Prayers For Diocesan Vocations

To the Priests, Religious and Faithful:

As you know from past years, the observance of March as Vocation Month has profound significance in the Diocese of Miami. All of our residents are aware that the increase in our Catholic population has continued to be so unusual that our need for priests and sisters remains a major problem.

Your prayers and sacrifices on behalf of vocations these past few years have obviously borne fruit. And it is with joy that I tell you we are about to reach two milestones in our vocation crusade — St. John Vianney Minor Seminary will graduate its first class in June; and St. Vincent Major Seminary will open its door to its first class in September.

Thus you can see that a tradition of vocations is slowly being established and for this we have reason to be deeply grateful to God. Moreover we are confident that on March 17 your prayers will bring it about that a larger group than ever before of our young men will take the entrance examination for the minor seminary.

Let the evidence of God's goodness to us serve as a stimulus this Vocation Month. May it encourage thousands of our lay people to attend daily Mass and receive Holy Communion for the cause of vocations during March. Let everyone say fervently the prayer for vocations to be recited after every Mass during the month. Most especially do I urge parents to recite the Family Prayer for vocations with their children every night and to say these Hail Marys with them that God may honor them with the highest honor of calling a son or daughter to the service of Christ.

Your bishop and priests will be united with you in earnest prayer this month, as we seek Divine assistance in solving our vocation problem.

Imparting to you my paternal blessing, I remain
Devotedly Yours in Christ and St. Anastasia High School, Fort Pierce.

Southwest Deanery — St. Francis Xavier School, Fort Myers.

Key West Area — Mary Immaculate School, Key West.

Broward Deanery — St. Thomas Aquinas High School, Fort Lauderdale.

North Dade and South Dade Deaneries — Archbishop Curley High School, Miami.

Only eighth and ninth grade students are eligible to take this written examination. Older applicants will be interviewed separately. All boys who are interested have been urged to go immediately with their parents to see their pastor and to have the preliminary form filled out.

First opened in September, 1959, the Diocesan minor seminary's phenomenal growth has been called "the miracle of St. John Vianney." The initial enrollment of 60 young men has increased to 170 at the present time. To take care of the expanding student body, an addition was built to the original building in 1960 and a separate college building in 1961, along with a new refectory and science building and a faculty residence.

In order to provide accommodations for the new students this year, still another dormitory with a larger chapel will be constructed and opened by next September. Funds for this further expansion will be provided by the Diocesan Development Fund Campaign which gets formally under way next week.

To help in the education of all these seminarians, the first event in this year's Vocation Month observance will be the Burse Dinner of the Serra Club of Miami to be held at Key Biscayne Hotel on Sunday, March 4.

On Monday, March 5, the Broward County Serra Club, the third to be chartered in the Diocese, will have a dinner at which the formal charter from Serra International will be presented.

The annual Serra Essay Contest, sponsored by all four Serra clubs of the Diocese — Miami, Palm Beach, Broward and Indian River — will be conducted in all Diocesan schools during March, with 12 prizes to be awarded.

Also during the month, printed material, prayer cards for schools and for families as well as posters will be distributed by Serra Club members. The clubs also will continue to show films to classes of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine and conduct various other activities.

Cardinal Criticizes Italian Efforts To Seek Leftist Aid

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, Secretary of the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office, has sharply criticized current efforts to form an Italian government with the support of extreme leftists.

The Cardinal's statement, published by the ASSI News Agency, broke the silence the Italian Hierarchy had observed regarding the so called "opening to the left."

The decision to seek the "opening" was made at the close of the national convention of the Catholic-oriented Christian Democratic party, which has governed Italy alone or in coalition since 1948.

The following day, Premier Amintore Fanfani resigned and announced he would seek to form a coalition government with the small Social Democratic and Republican parties that would have the support in Parliament of the leftist Socialist party, a former ally of the Communist party.

Cardinal Ottaviani said:

"The teaching of the Church is constant and consistent. It rejects every kind of demagogical solution to social questions, and therefore also rejects every form of Marxism and materialism degrading to the human person and human dignity. The defense of Christian values is fundamental and binding on all Catholics who are engaged in this work, particularly when they are figures in public life.

"Today, for example, improvident Christians are shamefully bartering, among other things, freedom of education (in Italy). They do this for their own interests and personal gain. But the Church will not passively bear this new wave of materialism which is being leveled against Italy. It is the Church's right and duty to prevent it."

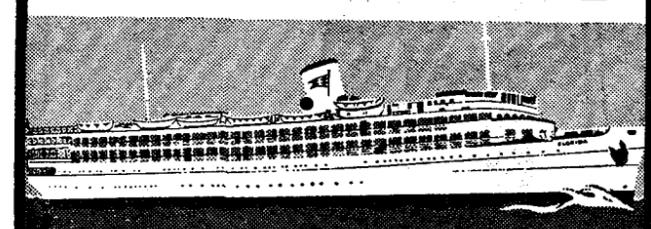

Rome newspapers interpreted the statement as being aimed primarily at Fanfani for his negotiations for Socialist party support. Fanfani announced that agreement had been reached on the formation of a new cabinet and its policy. He said:

"I believe that (the new government) may be given the support of the socialists."

Fanfani's statement has been interpreted as indicating that the question of state aid to private schools, which are mainly Catholic schools in Italy, will not be included in the education plan before Parliament.

Get Out Of Birch Society, Priest's Advice To Catholics

CLEVELAND (NC) — Catholics who belong to the John Birch Society should get out of it and start reading Pope John XXIII's encyclical Mater et Magistra instead of the Birch "Blue Book."

This advice was offered by Msgr. Francis W. Carney, president of the National Catholic Education Commission, who said the Birch Society, by its principles and practices, stands in open opposition to Catholic social principles.

Msgr. Carney, director of the Institute of Social Education at St. John College here, said:

"The philosophy of government which the society espouses, viewing government as a necessary evil, is wholly antagonistic to Catholic social philosophy.

"In principles, Mr. Robert Welch would find himself in conflict with every major recommendation of Pope John XXIII in Mater et Magistra."

Msgr. Carney made his denunciation of the controversial right-wing group after hearing Welch, its president and founder, speak here at the City Club. The society, Msgr. Carney said, returns to the rugged individualism and economic liberalism condemned by both Pope Leo XIII and Pope Pius XI.

Welch said at the meeting that he "guessed" that Catholics make up 40 per cent of the society's membership.

"Msgr. Carney said the estimate is indicative of 'an appalling ignorance of many Catholics of the social teaching of the Catholic Church.'"

He said that "in practice, the recommendations and program of the society for the defeat of communism are inconsistent with the recommendations of the social encyclicals of the popes since 1891."

Msgr. Carney said of Welch: "His loose use of words, his general indictments of persons and organizations, his immoderate and irresponsible language do not equip him to lead a 20th century crusade against communism.

"What is not kind is not Christian," Msgr. Carney said. "The John Birch Society is not kind."

Msgr. Carney urged that Catholic parish groups be conspicuous with study clubs devoted to the study of the encyclical rather than with individuals who are promoting the ideals and aims of the John Birch Society.

He pointed out that Pope John twice has appealed for more teaching of his encyclical since it was published last July.

Welfare Proposals Feared Perils To Private Charities

WASHINGTON (NC) — A spokesman for the U. S. Catholic Church's welfare programs says he is worried that the future of private charity is being limited unduly by welfare proposals before Congress.

In the rush to expand government welfare operations, according to Msgr. Raymond J. Gallagher, the promoters of public welfare legislation risk the very existence of private programs of assistance.

The secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities made these comments in an interview after his testimony before a House Committee that some of the Kennedy administration's public welfare proposals (H. R. 10032) prompt "serious questions."

As NCCC secretary, the Cleveland priest heads an office which coordinates activities of 375 Catholic Charities operations in 48 states and the District of Columbia.

He does not think the last page in the history of America's private agencies will be written tomorrow, but he believes that it may ultimately be produced if two current trends gain strength.

One trend is toward more government help — including Federal funds — to assist only public welfare agencies. The other is pressure on public operations to expand.

The greatest worry, he said, is expansion of the work of public relief — an area traditionally the responsibility of church-related and other private agencies.

What may lie behind it, he suggested, is a belief that public welfare is superior to private programs.

"This is basically incorrect," he said. "The only ingredient in which there is any superiority is the availability of money."

Fordham Rejects Plea To Bring Back Football

NEW YORK (NC) — Fordham University has formally rejected a student proposal to bring back intercollegiate football on a small-scale, non-scholarship basis.

Father Laurence J. McGinley,

S. J., Fordham president, said in a statement that the university's board of athletics had concluded that restoration of the sport "would not in the long run prove of lasting benefit to student spirit at Fordham."

Parents Are Key To Success In Crusade For Vocations

A great many of the laity in our Diocese no longer think of Vocation Month as a time when priests and sisters will make more intensive effort to interest young people to dedicate themselves to the service of Christ. Rather they regard Vocation Month now as a time when mothers and fathers unite with children and all the other laity in the diocese, especially the sick and handicapped, in offering more fervent prayer and more generous sacrifice to God that He will raise many of our youth to the dignity of priests and religious.

Gradually the view that the work of recruiting our future priests and sisters is solely the responsibility of those already dedicating their lives to God is disappearing. And it cannot disappear too quickly. It has long held up the progress so sorely needed in replenishing the ranks of our clergy and religious. What a source of encouragement it is to see in our diocese that more and more of the laity are recognizing their obligation actively to work and pray in order to foster vocations to the priesthood.

There is no doubt that parents are the key to success in the vocation crusade. We cannot stress how dependent our Bishop and priests are upon them. We cannot exaggerate how much the future Catholic population of this diocese will be indebted to zealous, God-centered Catholic parents of today whose homes are preparing sons and daughters for the Church.

However, sad to say, too many parents still merit to be included among those whom Pope Pius XII had in mind when he said, "Such parents have no scruple in opposing the divine call with objections of all kinds; they even have recourse to means which can imperil not only the vocation of a more perfect state, but also the very conscience and the eternal salvation of those souls they ought to hold so dear."

We call on all parents to read Bishop Carroll's urgent plea for cooperation in our vocation crusade and to heed his wise words with the spirit of faith and love.

The DDF Needs You

As announced in The Voice this week, the contact of homes for the Diocesan Development Fund campaign will begin on Monday and reach its peak of activity on the following Sunday. This procedure has been planned to insure greater chance of reaching the maximum number of people when they are at home.

The response of thousands of volunteers for the important task of presenting the cause of the campaign in the homes has been very satisfying. However, an operation of this magnitude, designed to be completed in a comparatively brief period of time, needs a considerable body of workers.

The success of many noteworthy undertakings like the DDF, depends on the individual, even though he may believe his role is not very important. It is the cooperation of many such willing, dedicated individuals that spells success.

This is a reminder, then, to thousands of others in the Diocese that you are needed to help out. Sign up with your pastor to share in the campaign for a few hours. Make the sacrifice in gratitude for the many blessings you have received through the church. Show your interest in our growth and expansion by assuming some of the responsibility.

A Mission Builder Dies

The prelate whose name was blessed most often in mission areas and in out-of-the-way places in the United States died a few days ago in Chicago. Behind him, Archbishop William O'Brien left an astonishing record of 55 years in bringing material and spiritual aid to these missionary areas in our country, whose isolated position often made it impossible for the diocese to provide for them adequately.

As president of the Church Extension Society for 37 years he administered an annual budget of $2 million with the primary objective of building churches, chapels and schools in rural areas where little or nothing could otherwise be done for the people.

Archbishop O'Brien is not a stranger to Catholics in Florida. His name has been spoken in gratitude for many reasons over the years as he gave repeated proof of his understanding of our mission needs by aiding in the building of much needed institutions. In our new diocese, three chapels in mission sections bear witness to the remarkable work of the Church Extension Society — St. William in Sebastian, St. Ann in Naranja, Sacred Heart in Okeechobee.

Not only the people in the isolated sections should commend his soul to God and hold his name in veneration, but the Catholic faithful in the United States should recognize our debt to him in helping to preserve and extend the faith in our mission areas.

"We need to develop our intellectual resources to the fullest."

7,000,000 PARISH AND PRIVATE PUPILS

Parish Group Donations Head Week's Burse Gifts

Within the past week, a $1,000 check was presented to the Burse Fund by the Fort Lauderdale Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. In addition, the Catholic Women's Club of St. Anthony's parish in Fort Lauderdale contributed $25. Other gifts included $10 from Miss May Adams for the SS. Peter and Paul parish Burse and another $10 from an anonymous donor.

A Burse is a sum of money, $20,000, which is invested so that its annual income will help to provide for the training expenses of a seminarian each year. A Burse is made up of large and small donations, from $1 up to many thousands of dollars. Once a particular candidate is ordained, the Burse income is applied to another seminarian until ultimately many priests have been helped to their ordination day by the generosity of the Catholic laity.

Pope Pius XII has stated that whoever helps even one candidate to the priesthood has a share in all the future Masses and good works which shall be his. In addition, whoever helps the seminary program of the Diocese of Miami is remembered daily at the Masses and prayers of the seminarians at St. John Vianney minor seminary in Miami.

If you are in the area for a visit or on vacation, why not send a donation to the Burse Fund as a way of thanking God for the blessings which he has given you? You will also be ensuring that when you return to this area there will be enough priests available to serve your spiritual needs.

Immediate donations are most needed, as the Diocese must care for over 160 seminarians at the St. John Vianney minor seminary. But in addition to helping the Burse Fund by such a donation, remember to include the Fund also in your will as a lasting memorial and tribute to your Faith. You can give no greater thank-you to God for the races he has given you than to help provide priests to care for those who will come after you.

In your will use the following wording:

"I hereby give, devise, and bequeath to the Most Reverend Coleman F. Carroll, as Bishop of Miami, a corporation sole, the sum of $. . . for the Burse Fund of the Diocese of Miami."

A Burse can be named for yourself or for a loved one whom you wish to be the recipient of the graces won by the Masses and prayers of priests and seminarians. Ask the Burse Office for further information.

The Family's Prayer For Vocations

O merciful god, we unite in begging You to give worthy priests, brothers and sisters to Your Church. We pray especially for a great increase in vocations to the priesthood in this new diocese. We make bold to implore you to bless all Catholic families, our own and those of our relatives and neighbors, with the wonderful privilege of having a son a priest, a daughter a nun. Grant that those whom You call may be encouraged and helped by us, and that they may serve You with all their hearts and their whole strength in seeking to work as fellow laborers of Christ in the salvation of souls. Amen.

O Mary, Queen of the clergy, pray for us; obtain for us many and holy priests.

Reports Of Soviet Scientists Seeking God Don't Add Up

By FATHER JOHN B. SHEERIN

Are Soviet scientists seeking God? Harrison Salisbury, in a frontpage feature article in the New York Times asserted that some of the top physicists, astronomers and mathematicians in Russia are no longer atheists. He claims that they have not become believers in a formal religion but are said to have shocked conventional communists with their belief in a God.

Father Sheerin

"Within the most advanced echelon of Soviet science there is emerging a tendency to seek a non-materialist, spiritual concept of the universe." Salisbury links up this "startling development within the elite corps of Soviet society" with an alleged revitalization of the Russian Orthodox Church. He sees the long-persecuted, half-dead Russian Church suddenly alive with bustling activity.

The ordinary reader of this article is tempted to feel that perhaps we have been misjudging the Soviets. Perhaps communism is evolving in the direction of humanism? Can Khrushchev and his Kremlin aids be so bad after all if they do not suppress religion among the scientists and if they allow the Russian Orthodox Church to operate unhampered and uncensored?

FALSE OPTIMISM

If one takes a second look at the Salisbury article, however, it is hard to find much evidence to support the optimism of the headline. As to the religious renewal of the Orthodox Church, I find little to cheer about.

There is a well-founded assumption in political circles that this Church is the puppet of the Government — and Salisbury, in my opinion only confirms that assumption. He notes that the Orthodox priests who are bustling about so energetically are "a new generation of young priests, the first really new generation trained since the Bolshevik revolution." That in itself is enough to cast suspicion on their motives.

Secondly, he reports that Government has not ceased campaign of harassing religion in every way possible, especially by closing churches and seminaries. Why then are these young priests allowed to function? The only logical answer is that they are obedient servants of the Government rather than of God. Salisbury mentions rumors to the effect that the late Metropolitan Nikolai refused to take orders from the Government, then met his death from "unnatural causes" due to improper medical treatment.

NOTHING STARTLING

As to the "startling" burst of religious interest among Soviet scientists, there is really nothing startling about it at all. Salisbury summarizes the trend as expressed in the work of young Tendryakov, describing the Tendryakov excerpt as "a succinct summary of the nature of this belief." Here is the excerpt:

"I do not imagine God as he is depicted on icons. To me God is a sort of spiritual principle, the stimulus to the emergence of the galaxies, the stars, the planets and everything which lives and reproduces on these planets, from the most elementary cells up to man."

Salisbury takes this to be a declaration of religious belief, a renunciation of atheism. It is nothing of the kind. It says nothing of a personal God or of a life to come. It refers simply to a spiritual force inherent in matter. Marx too accepted the spiritual element in life but saw it only as a phase of bio-chemical activity. He loathed religion as nothing more than a reflection or projection of the economic miseries of society.

Little Prayer That Can Guide Your Life

By Father JAMES J. WALSH

One of the most important of the little prayers that we are taught as children and are meant to use with profit all our lives is the Act of Hope.

Father Walsh

Here is a prayer that draws up a standard of values for us, reminds us that we have a careful where we put our trust in life, and puts before our eyes the only things worth hoping for.

Like the Our Father and the Hail Mary, this beautiful prayer suffers from too careless treatment, from too much familiarity. We need to take it apart now and then and see it, as if for the first time.

"O my God, relying on Thy infinite goodness . . ." It begins by giving us the one great reason for trusting God — His goodness.

We know very well there are times when God does not seem to be good. The world seems to be full of things that contradict His goodness. The atheist holds up the facts of war and disease, the crippled babies and insane children, and many other things that seem to deny the existence of a "good God."

So putting trust in God is not always easy. We have to make some effort. But we find that we can always do so, if we are fair. We have to praise Him for His goodness because of the overwhelming evidence of it in our lives and in the history of mankind. No matter how difficult our lives, we know God has been good to us. Moreover, God to be God has to be infinitely perfect. There can be no flaw in Him.

" . . . and promises . . ." Trust in divine goodness is bolstered by trust in His promises.

TRUTH OF THE MATTER

And what wonderful promises God has made to us!

When the Church is under attack, as in Cuba, when our faith might waver, we remember that Christ promised His Church would remain in the world until its end, that not even the forces of hell could conquer it. It has been proving that for 2,000 years.

What a wonderful consolation this is. It means that until the world ends, the great truths men yearn for will always be attainable, the sacraments will be available, mankind will have the means of finding God.

Christ promised that He would give Himself to us daily in Holy Communion — His own body and blood. This is why without the least doubt we can see at the altar rail what appears to be bread and firmly believe it to be the living Christ.

He promised we would not be tempted beyond our strength. What a help this is to everyone. It means we are assured in the weariness and bitterness of some trials that God sees what is going on and is backing up our weakness with His own strength.

" . . . I hope to obtain the pardon of my sins . . ." Once we are convinced of God's goodness and renew our faith in His promises, we are willing to be honest about our sins. It's so easy today to deny sin, to attempt to decide what is right and wrong, without checking one's view against the standard Christ insists on.

Therefore we trust God to give us the grace to recognize sin in ourselves and to call sin sin and not to excuse it away. We trust God to give us the grace to hate sin as the only enemy of our life and His love. Then we have good reason to look for pardon of sins.

" . . . the help of Thy grace . . ." This is the great hope of the present hour — the assurance, the consoling assurance of God's grace. After all Christ's warning rings in our ears, "Without Me, you can do nothing." Nothing at all!

But armed with the virtue of hope and confidence, St. Paul was bold enough to turn that thought around when he insisted, "I can do all things in Him that strengthens me." There is the secret of grace — it gives the ability to do all things.

" . . . Life everlasting . . ." Here is the goal. This is what we are living for — this and nothing else. This is the light that draws us on through all the trials and unhappy events of life.

How confused even the instructed Catholic who should know better when he lets himself forget the goal — life everlasting with God in the next world. How empty life is when we become indifferent to the real purpose of living. How frustrated if we look for happiness here and forget that it can only come hereafter.

This is a powerful, wonderful prayer, because it helps keep our feet on the ground. It does so by reminding us the great things worth hoping for in life are these — pardon of sin, the help of grace and life everlasting. This is the little prayer that keeps our eyes on genuine success and prevents us from being deceived.

AN ALTAR BOY NAMED "SPECK"

A Refuge For The Weary Who Seek Rest

By FR. KILIAN MCGOWAN, C.P.

Weariness is like the weather — it affects everyone and there's no escape from it. It hits us all, at least occasionally, and sometimes it ensnrouds us like a wet blanket. It doesn't have to be utterly frustrating, for it can be sanctifying.

Weariness played such an important part in the life of Our Blessed Lord that we must conclude that God has a special compassion and love for those who are heavily burdened. Perhaps that is why Christ made Himself the personal refreshment of those in need of rest. "Come to Me all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."

Most of us labor, practically all of us are burdened, but too many of us fail to get the refreshment demanded by the human spirit because we fail to go to Christ. Yet, He offered this invitation to all. Our Lord was more than a man acquainted with weariness; He was a God who told us — and showed us — how to use it well.

When Christ spoke of weariness He spoke as one who had been its constant companion throughout his life. Not just three years of exhausting public missionary work of preaching, healing, comforting and admonishing. Not just three hours of agonizing weariness on the cross. But a lifetime of 33 years with very few moments free from work or suffering.

How many times He must have been bone-tired by the four-day walk on the hot and dusty highway between Galilee and Judea. The Gospel mentions how weary He was when He rested at the well at Sichar. Imagine how exhausted He was the time He was sleeping in the boat during the storm on the Sea of Galilee. You have to be pretty tired to sleep through a storm that frightened tough fishermen like the Apostles.

How wearied He must have been after His agonizing prayer in the Garden of Gethesemane. It was the vision of our sins and the preview of His suffering that caused this exhaustion. And what about that seemingly unending trek along the Way of the Cross . . . why He must have felt as though the weariness of all humanity was poured into his very bones and muscles.

Any scientist or doctor can tell you that the most fiendish test of a man's ability to withstand weariness is the cruelty called crucifixion. This grueling torture annihilates a man's energies and gives him exhaustion for his soul. Yet again the God-man poured out His energies through his five precious wounds that we might be refreshed with the life of God.

Our greatest cross is not in being tired, or weary, or burdened with the trials of this life. It's in failing to use it well . . . in being ignorant of the true source of refreshment and peace . . . in failing to go to Christ when we need him most. He can only give us rest if we approach him with faith and confidence. It's the kind of rest and relaxation that the world cannot give!

He invited you to escape the tensions of the modern age when he said: "Come into a quiet place and rest a while." He did much more. He asked you to make Him a part of that refreshment of body and soul that we must all have: "Come to Me . . . and I will refresh you." Weariness is redemptive when borne for love of God. It will never crush you when shared with Christ.

'Guideposts' For Wage-Price Behavior

By Msgr. GEORGE G. HIGGINS

The Annual Report of the Council of Economic Advisors, which President Kennedy submitted to Congress Jan. 20, is required reading for anyone who wants to keep abreast of current economic developments in the United States. The report can be secured from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., at a cost of $1.25 per copy.

Students of industrial relations will be particularly interested in reading that section of the report in which the Council outlines certain "guideposts" for non-inflationary wage and price behavior.

The Council starts from the premise that since wage and price decisions in many crucial segments of our economy directly or indirectly affect the progress of the whole economy, "there is legitimate reason for public interest in their content and consequences."

But how is the public to appraise the content and consequences of crucial wage and price decisions? How is it to judge whether a particular wage or price decision is in the national interest?

The Council's answer is that "no simple test exists." In summary it makes these points:

- Compulsory wage and price controls in peacetime are neither desirable nor practical.

- On the other hand, it is highly desirable and necessary that labor and management take account of the national interest in determining wage and price decisions.

- Free collective bargaining between labor and management over the distribution of income of particular firms or industries is desirable, but collective bargaining over the general price level is undesirable.

The Council explicitly recognizes the need for flexibility to take account of special cases.

More specifically, the Council points out that "there is nothing immutable in fact or in justice about the (present) distribution of total production between labor and nonlabor incomes."

Some experts in the field of labor-management relations are of the opinion that the Council should not expect labor and management to worry about the impact of their wage and price decisions on the national economy.

Others maintain that while labor and management should, in all fairness, gear their wage and price decisions to the requirements of the common good, the Council is wasting its time in calling upon them to do so.

In view of these misgivings about the usefulness of the Council's approach to the problem of inflation, it is all the more significant that the Communications Workers of America met recently with Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, to discuss the Administration's wage-price guidelines in the light of conditions in their own industry.

After their unprecedented session ended, CWA president Joseph Beirne and other union officials said that they were impressed by Mr. Heller's presentation and agreed that their exchange of views will condition the atmosphere of CWA's forthcoming negotiations with the telephone industry.

Mr. Beirne and his associates in the top leadership of CWA are to be congratulated very sincerely on their constructive and statesmanlike approach to collective bargaining. Their willingness to take an objective look at the economics of collective bargaining in advance of their negotiations is most refreshing. Let us hope that other unions and employers will profit by their example.

Diocesan Development Fund Campaign Ready To Take off

problems that you did not immediately and generously respond to my appeal. For this I thank you.

"Each year brings with it new and pressing needs. The obligation to provide for the proper education of the young people of today, preparing them as the future citizens of tomorrow, is a challenge we cannot refuse.

MAJOR GOALS

"Again this year I turn to you with confidence that, as in the past, you will help provide for the educational needs of the Catholic youth of this Diocese.

"I urge you to give careful — and prayerful — consideration to this appeal, knowing that you will be as generous as your means will allow.

"I assure you that God will bless you for your sacrifice."

In order to keep pace with the ever increasing demand for Catholic educational facilities in the Diocese, three major goals have been declared "must" for this year's campaign. They are:

- Further expansion of St. John Vianney Minor Seminary to provide a new dormitory and increased chapel facilities for the constantly growing number of young men offering to give their lives to serve as priests in the Diocese of Miami.

- A new high school at Fort Myers, which will be the first Catholic high school on the west coast of South Florida.

- Additional high school facilities for girls at Monsignor Pace High School in North Dade County, making it co-institutional with the facilities provided there last year for boys only.

In addition, campaign workers expect that the drive will exceed its million dollar goal and make possible this further expansion:

- Additions to both boys' and girls' facilities at Cardinal Gibbons High School, in West Palm Beach.

- Additions to LaSalle High School for boys in South Miami.
- Additions to Immaculata High School for girls, Miami.

- Additions to Notre Dame High school for girls, Miami.

- A Newman Center at the Palm Beach Junior College, West Palm Beach.

The estimated cost of the entire program is a million and a half dollars.

"The 1962 Development Fund Campaign will be the most successful and the most fruitful ever conducted by the Diocese of Miami."

That is the prediction of Father Lamar J. Genovar, campaign moderator and the Bishop's representative. He added:

"This will be the third Development drive, and never before have I noticed such eagerness and enthusiasm on the part of both the clergy and laity alike. It is apparent in every section of the Diocese, and rightly so, since the campaign will prove of benefit to every section, to every parish.

"GREATEST NEED"

"In the first two campaigns it was necessary to provide urgent necessities for the aged, for dependent children, for all the people in the way of retreat houses and other facilities.

"The greatest need, of course, was for the construction of the St. John Vianney Minor Seminary. Now, in our third campaign, still another addition of a dormitory and larger chapel are still the greatest need. The blessing of God has been upon the Diocese in the granting of more and more vocations each year as 'the miracle of St. John Vianney' continues.

"This year we must start moving ahead in providing more high school facilities for our young people. At the present time, only a small percentage of Catholic grade school graduates can be accepted in our Catholic high schools. We have done much in the past, but we

Three Top Winners Named In DDF Poster Contest

The 1962 Diocesan Development Fund Campaign has an official poster, but its selection required intensive work and a great amount of serious study on the part of the judges. The many hundreds of posters drawn by pupils of the eighth to 12th grades revealed much talent and considerable originality.

The three prize winners were all eighth-graders. They are:

First place — Daniel Murphy, of St. Theresa School, Coral Gables. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, a registered nurse, of 6435 SW 32nd St. Theme of his poster is "Students Today — Leaders Tomorrow." He was awarded a $50 government bond.

Second place — Thomas Kocoras, of Corpus Christi School, Miami. He is the son of Mrs. Barbara Kocoras, of 250 West 40th Place, Hialeah. His poster's theme is "Help Your Dio-cannot, we dare not relax in our efforts. With the construction of new schools and additions to those already existing, we will have taken another giant step forward in reaching our ultimate goal — better and greater educational opportunities for all our children."

cese Now — Get Those Trucks Moving." He was awarded a $25 government bond.

Third place — John R. Rack, of Blessed Trinity School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rack, of 3820 NW 62nd Ave., Miami Springs. The theme of his poster is "Support your D.D.F. — Youth, Catholic Education." He was awarded $10 cash.

Honorable mention was given:

Edward Damich, St. Rose of Lima School — "DDF, Develop Deep Faith."

Linda Rocawich, St. Michael School — "Pave the Path."

Joanne Ennis, St. Anthony School — "Let's Bowl Them Over."

Steven Nohe, St. Brendan School — "Join the Army of Marchers."

Edward Gage, St. Michael School — "School — C.Y.O."

Spokesman Opposes Day Care Centers

WASHINGTON (NC) — The secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities has criticized as "un-American" a proposal to use Federal funds to help states set up day care centers for children of working mothers.

Msgr. Raymond J. Gallagher, testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee, provided the first criticism of the day care proposal during the public hearings.

"We believe it is un-American to place large numbers of children under government care in order to free so many mothers of young children to enter the labor market when there are so many able-bodied fathers being supported under other sections of this p. al," he said.

Hialeah Junior CYO Plans Hayride, Dance

HIALEAH — A hayride and dance will be sponsored by the Immaculate Conception parish Junior CYO Saturday, Feb. 24 at the Double H Ranch.

A bus will leave the school grounds at 6:15 p.m. and return from the ranch at 11 p.m. Members of all CYO groups throughout the Diocese are invited to attend and may obtain further information by calling Annette Rimkus at 821-1716.

"I wouldn't be without my FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYER"

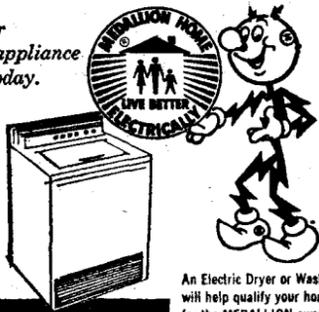

Just look at my next door neighbor. The pity is that her wash was almost dry. Then w-o-o-s-h... a sudden gust of rain! I've been telling her to get smart and quit lifting, lugging and doing pin-ups on a clothesline.

Let it rain, let it pour, that's what an Electric Dryer is for. A home without a flameless Electric Dryer would seem old-fashioned to me now. Night or day, I can laugh at time and weather. Gone is the pressure of washday. I just pop the towels, linens, shirts, lingerie, blue jeans and my little girl's school dresses into my Electric Dryer and presto!...in no time at all, everything comes out caressingly soft and fresh as a flower. No sun-fade, no wind-damage, no dust-smudge, no aching back! And the time saved can be spent in much better ways with my family.

For complete modern-day freedom from washday drudgery, you'll enjoy the "togetherness" of a flameless Electric Dryer, an Electric Washer, an Electric "sit-down" Ironer, and a super-fast, super-safe Electric Water Heater for all the hot water you need when you need it.

See your electric appliance dealer today.

An Electric Dryer or Washer will help qualify your home for the MEDALLION award.

There's no Match for flameless Electric Living... IT'S CHEAPER, TOO!

235 Attend
CCD Classes
In First Week

An estimated 235 persons attended the four classes in Doctrine and Methods which began in Dade and Broward Counties this week as part of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine program.

CCD officials met Friday to review the week and said they were pleased by the attendance. Doctrine classes drew an estimated 175 students while 60 attended classes in Methods.

A CCD spokesman said some of the persons who attended the Doctrine classes would transfer to the Methods classes this week.

The Doctrine courses are a preparation necessary for all who intend to become CCD teachers. It was decided that some could transfer into the Methods class as they have had enough Doctrine to justify such a move.

Students must attend at least 26 of the 30 hours for each course to get a certificate of completion. The certificate will not be given, even if the student passes the test, unless he has completed the necessary hours.

Because of this, anyone who wishes to start the courses must do so next week and attend all future classes to become certified.

Dade County courses are held Monday nights at Holy Family School, Wednesday nights at Immaculate Conception parish and Thursday nights at St. Brendan parish. Classes are also held Tuesday nights at St. Thomas Aquinas High School, Fort Lauderdale.

All classes begin at 7:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. The classes are staggered so a class missed in one location can be made up in another. Classes in Doctrine and Methods are taught at the same locations concurrently.

Knights To Sponsor 'Turf Night' Tuesday

A "Turf Nite," scheduled Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 8:30 p.m., will follow Knights of Columbus Day at Hialeah Race Track and will be sponsored by the Miami Council 1726 at 3405 NW 27th Ave.

The affair, for men only, will be open to all Knights, their guests and the public.

Student Council Officers Honored At Curley High

Outgoing and incoming officers of the Archbishop Curley High School Student Council were honored at a banquet, marking three years of the student government at the school.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, newly elected president of the council, gave the principal address. Other speakers included class presidents, Tom Craddock, Larry Rohan, Mike Morgan and Pat Heffernan as well as Richard Fleming, last year's council president.

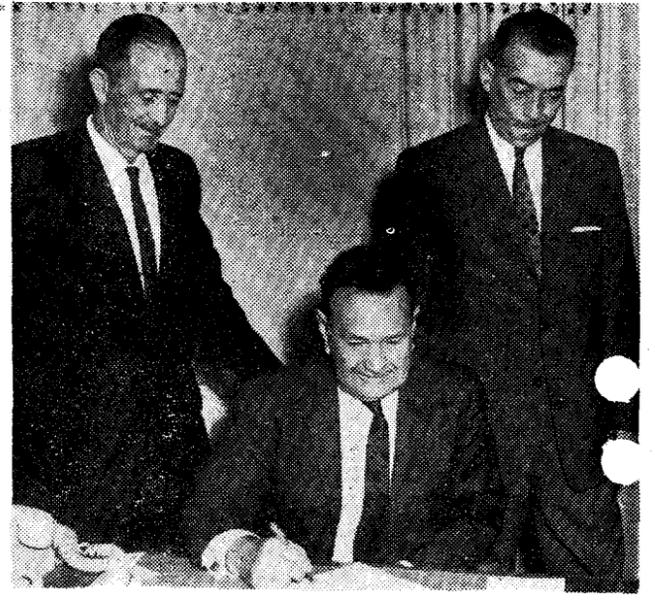

William Grant, foreign language and speech instructor, was master of ceremonies and Brother Keric Dever, C.S.C., principal, gave the final address.

Pompano Beach K-C Celebrates Founding

POMPANO BEACH — The Pompano Beach Council, Knights of Columbus will celebrate the 80th anniversary of the K of C with a Corporate Communion, Sunday Feb. 5 and an open meeting Monday, Feb. 26.

On Sunday, the Knights will receive Communion in St. Elizabeth's Church and will attend breakfast at the Vogue Cafeteria after Mass.

Monday night, the Council will entertain 160 men from the Holy Name Societies of St. Elizabeth, Our Lady of Assumption, St. Coleman, St. Joan of Arc and St. Vincent de Paul parishes in an open meeting at the Lighthouse Point City Hall. A film of the 1961 World Series will be shown at the meeting.

K OF C WEEK in Hialeah was proclaimed Feb. 25 to March 3, by Mayor Henry A. Milander. Watching the mayor sign the proclamation are County Commissioner Milton Thompson, left, and Grand Knight William M. O'Brien, Hialeah Council.

Activities For 'K Of C Week' In Hialeah To Start Sunday

Knights of Columbus Week in Hialeah will get under way Sunday, Feb. 25 with the youngest members of the K of C family starting off proceedings at an investiture of 10 boys into the Bishop Barry Circle of the Columbian Squires.

Sunday. At 4 p.m., Sunday, a barbecue for all local and visiting Knights will be held at 2683 W. 4th Ave. (Red Road).

The week, which was proclaimed by Mayor Henry A. Milander, will feature a barbecue, open-air square dancing, a special K of C day at Hialeah Race Track, a soft ball game and a grand ball.

Tuesday will be K of C day at Hialeah race track and the sixth race will be the K of C race. A trophy will be presented to the winner by Jack Adamson, state deputy for the K of C.

The squires will be invested after the 8 a.m. Mass in Immaculate Conception Church,

An open-air square dance will highlight the Thursday activities. The dance will be in the Palm Springs Village Shopping Center Mall at Red Road and W. 49th Street. William M. O'Brien, grand knight of the Hialeah Council said the dance will be open to all and there will be no admission charge. Mayor Milander also invited residents of Hialeah to join the Knights in the festivities.

Closing the event-filled week will be a grand ball Saturday night, March 3, in the Municipal Auditorium. An hour of professional entertainment will highlight the ball.

A hospitality room for visiting Knights will be open throughout the week in the Blue Room of the Red Road Lounge.

Mayor Milander proclaimed the special week in conjunction with the observance, by the Father Lawrence J. Flynn Council, Hialeah, of the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Knights of Columbus.

U. of Miami Students Receive Communion At Aquinas Center

Mass By Bishop Marks Founding Of U-M Center

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll offered a Pontifical Low Mass at Aquinas Student Center Sunday, Feb. 18 in observance of the founding of the center for students and faculty of the University of Miami.

More than 200 students assisted at the Mass and heard Bishop Carroll say the center was built through the generosity of the people of the Diocese so the students could practice their faith and grow in their faith.

The Very Rev. E. M. Hanley,

O.P., superior of the center said there are more than 800 Catholics living on the university campus and another 1,000 Catholic students live off the campus.

The center, located at 1400 Miller Rd. in Coral Gables, was blessed by Bishop Carroll Dec. 12, 1959.

Father John F. Monroe, O.P., first chaplain at the center and Father Thomas Anglim, former Newman Club moderator at the University, served as chaplains during the Mass.

Archbishop William D. O'Brien, president of the Catholic Church Extension Society of America which has aided in the erection of three mission chapels in the Diocese of Miami, is dead at the age of 83.

A frequent visitor to South Florida, the Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago who devoted 55 years of his life to the work for the home missions of the United States died in Little Company of Mary Hospital, San Pierre, Ind., where he had been a patient for some weeks.

The Archbishop, who observed his golden jubilee in the priesthood in 1953 and who referred to himself as a "teenage octogenarian" was born in Chicago in 1878. He was baptized in the Cathedral of the Holy Name where later he was confirmed, ordained, and then consecrated a bishop.

Solemn Pontifical Mass of Requiem will be sung Saturday in the Cathedral by Albert Cardinal Meyer.

In 1907 Archbishop O'Brien began his long period of service for the Catholic Church Extension Society which assists rural and mission areas in the United States and its possessions with the building of churches, chapels, schools, convents and other institutions. As president of the society he was in charge of administering an annual budget of

HIS 83rd birthday was observed by the late Archbishop William D. O'Brien last year in Chicago. He is shown opening a few of the many congratulatory messages sent to him on that occasion.

Beach were subsequently dedicated by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll.

"The Life of the Blessed Virgin in Pictures," written by the Archbishop in 1920 won for him membership in the Arcadi, a Roman society for authors.

He also served as editor-in-chief of Extension Magazine for many years and in that capacity began the foundation of a $5 million trust fund for the home missions. He ordained more than 400 priests after his elevation to the episcopate in 1934 and as Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago had served under three Archbishops of Chicago — the late George Cardinal Mundelein, the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch and Albert Cardinal Meyer.

Father T. A. McCarty Dies In Louisville, Ky.

Word has been received here of the death of Father Thomas A. McCarty in St. Joseph infirmary, Louisville, Ky.

Father McCarty came to Florida 12 years ago from the Diocese of Covington, Ky. Besides various Covington pastorates, he was Dean of Villa Madonna College in Covington for 12 years.

A Requiem Mass was offered in St. Paul Church, Lexington, Ky., by Bishop Richard Ackerman.

He is survived by a brother, J. C. McCarty and a sister, Mrs. Olin Gentry, both of Lexington.

some $2 million for this work and over the years traveled extensively for dedication of mission institutions.

Alert and vigorous as he neared his 82nd birthday in February, 1960, Archbishop O'Brien accompanied Bishop Coleman F. Carroll on an airplane trip to Okeechobee to inspect the site of the now completed Sacred Heart Church, one of the three missions for which the Society granted the sum of $30,000. On Sunday, Jan. 29, 1961, Archbishop O'Brien officiated at the dedication of the church which accommodates more than 200 persons.

Pope Names Ten Cardinals For Record Of 87

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope John XXIII has broken records for the fifth time in his reign with the naming of 10 new cardinals from eight countries, bringing membership in the College of Cardinals to an all-time high of 87.

The Pope announced that the prelates will be formally created at a consistory on March 19.

Three of the cardinals-designate are Italians, which will bring the number of Italian members of the college to a total of 30. Non-Italians will total 57, including five Americans.

TWO LATIN AMERICANS

Two of the newly named Princes of the Church are from Latin America — Chile and Peru — bringing the number of cardinals from that area to 13. Another new cardinal is Spanish, which will make the 16 Spanish-speaking cardinals the second largest language group in the college.

The other cardinals-designate come from Belgium, Ireland, Portugal and Syria. In order of precedence the new cardinals will be:

Archbishop Jose da Costa Nunes, Vice-Camerlengo of the Holy Roman Church, a native of Portugal.

Archbishop Giovanni Panico, Apostolic Nuncio to Portugal, an Italian.

NUNCIO TO SPAIN

Archbishop Ildebrando Antonutti, Apostolic Nuncio to Spain, an Italian.

Archbishop Efreim Forni, Apostolic Nuncio to Belgium, an Italian.

Archbishop Juan Landazuri Ricketts, O.F.M., of Lima, Peru.

Archbishop Gabriele Acacio Coussa, Melkite - Rite prelate who is Prosecretary of the Sacred Congregation for the Oriental Church. A native of Syria, he is a member of the Aleppine Basilian Order.

Archbishop Raul Silva Henriquez, S.D.B., of Santiago, Chile.

Archbishop Leo Jozef Suenens of Malines-Brussels, Belgium.

Father Michael Browne, O.P., Irish-born Master General of the Dominican Order.

Abbot Anselmo Albareda, O.S.B., Prefect of the Vatican Library, a native of Spain.

POPE HAS NAMED 52

During his pontificate, Pope John has named 52 cardinals, including the new ones, four of whom have since died.

The 52 included five from the U. S., two of whom have died — John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., Archbishop of Philadelphia, and Aloisius Cardinal Muench, the American cardinal ever to serve actively on the Vatican administrative staff, who died only two days before the new cardinals were named.

The Pope has also named 22 Italian cardinals, two of whom have died. More than half of the members of the College of Cardinals, including the new appointments, have been named by Pope John.

Five religious orders are represented by the newly named cardinals: Franciscans, Dominicans, Benedictines, Salesians and Basilians.

Pope John departed from long-established traditions on at least eight occasions.

Once he raised the total membership of the Sacred College to the highest number in nearly 400 years. Four times he raised it to all-time highs. He departed from a provision of canon law to name a new cardinal who already had a brother in the Sacred College. He twice raised the number of American cardinals to six, the highest in history. He increased the number of titular churches in Rome.

When Pope John announced the appointment of 23 new cardinals, including two Americans, in November, 1958, he raised the total membership of the Sacred College to 75. It was the first time in nearly 400 years it had been this high.

The number of cardinals reached 76 in the time of Pope

Gregory XIII (1572-1585), but his successor, Sixtus V, fixed the number at 70 in 1586. His edict to this effect remained in force until 1958.

In naming Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, then Apostolic Delegate to the United States and now Papal Secretary of State to the Sacred

College in 1958, Pope John made an exception to a provision of canon law which bars from a cardinal's dignity those "who are related in first or second degree of consanguinity to any living cardinal." Cardinal Cicognani's brother, Gaetano Cardinal Cicognani, Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, died on Feb. 5.

In naming eight new cardinals in November, 1959, Pope John raised the total membership of the Sacred College to 79, an all-time high. He elevated two more Americans, bringing the total of U. S. cardinals to six also a new high.

In naming seven new cardinals on March 8, 1960, the Pope raised the Sacred College membership to 85, another record high.

In December, 1959, Pope John designated three additional titular churches. Traditionally, members of the Sacred College have titular churches in Rome.

At the January, 1961, consistory, Pope John named four cardinals, again raising membership in the college to a record high of 86, again bringing the total of U. S. cardinals to six, and giving Venezuela its first cardinal in history.

TOTAL MAY BE HIGHER

The new appointments are again record breaking, bringing the number of cardinals to a high of 87.

The total may go still higher. At the consistory in March, 1960, Pope John announced he had named three cardinals "in petto." That means that he raised three clerics to the rank of cardinal, but was reserving their names for publication at a later date. It has not been announced that any of the 10 newly named cardinals are among the three named "in petto" in 1960.

Of the 52 cardinals named by Pope John, a majority (36) have been non-Italians, including the first cardinals in Mexico, Uruguay, Venezuela, Japan, the Philippines and Tanganyika. The Tanganyikan raised to the Sacred College — Laurean Cardinal Rugambwa, Bishop of Bukoba — is the first Negro Prince of the Church.

Including the cardinals-designate, there are now members from 32 countries in the Sacred College: Italy, 30; France, 8; Spain, 6; U. S., 5; Germany and Brazil, 3. There are two each from Canada, Great Britain, Argentina, Ireland and Portugal. The following 22 countries have one each: Armenia, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Chile, China, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Hungary, India, Japan, Lebanon, Mexico, The Netherlands, Peru, The Philippines, Poland, Syria, Tanganyika, Uruguay and Venezuela.

There is one cardinal in Africa and six cardinals in Asia, all natives.

Two Princes of the Church occupy Sees behind the Iron Curtain — Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, Primate of Poland, and Jozef Cardinal Mindszenty, Primate of Hungary. Thomas Cardinal Tien, Archbishop of Peking, cannot return to his See in Red China.

Cardinal Muench Dies In Rome

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Cardinals, other high Church officials, diplomats and lay dignitaries attended the Requiem Mass offered in St. Peter's basilica for Aloisius Cardinal Muench, first U. S. Prince of the Church to serve actively on the Vatican administrative staff.

The Milwaukee-born Cardinal died three days before his 73rd birthday at Salvator Mundi Hospital in Rome, where he had lived since his elevation to the College of Cardinals in December, 1959.

The Mass was celebrated by Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, Secretary of the Sacred Consistorial Congregation. Pope John XXIII imparted absolution.

Immediately after the Requiem Mass, Cardinal Muench's body was flown to Fargo, N.D., the diocese he had headed from 1935 to 1959, where he was buried following funeral services in St. Mary's cathedral.

A Pontifical Requiem Mass was also offered in Milwaukee, on Wednesday. Archbishop William E. Cousins was the celebrant of this Mass in St. John's Cathedral, where the body had lain in state on the previous day. On Thursday the body was in state in the Fargo cathedral. The Fargo Pontifical Requiem Mass on Friday was offered by Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, with Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati delivering the sermon.

While those at the dying Cardinal's bedside were praying a final Rosary, a telephone call was received from the Vatican to say that Pope John was also reciting the Rosary for him.

At his bedside were Cardinal Muench's three sisters — Teresa Muench, Mrs. Mary Herrick and Mrs. Dorothy Ott, all of Milwaukee — and his secretary, Father Raymond Lessard of the Fargo diocese, who later accompanied the Cardinal's body back to the U. S.

Cardinal Muench was a victim of Parkinson's disease, a nervous disorder, for several years. Early in February he suffered complications and took a turn for the worse. As soon as the Pope heard of his condition, he sent the Cardinal a message assuring him of his blessing and prayers. Pope John visited the Cardinal at the hospital and again sent his blessing on the morning of the Cardinal's death, caused by a circulatory cardiac collapse.

Cardinal Muench was the third cardinal to die within 10 days. Gaetano Cardinal Cicognani, Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, died Feb. 5 and Teodosio Cardinal de Gouveia, Archbishop of Lourenco Marques in the Portuguese east African territory of Mozambique, died a day later.

Pope John Marks Approach Of Second Vatican Council

VATICAN CITY — Pope John XXIII made his annual audience with Rome's lenten preachers this year a special occasion to mark the approach of the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council which will open Oct. 11.

Normally, the Pope receives the preachers in one of the Vatican's audience halls and speaks to them on the sermons they will deliver during Lent.

This year, however, the audience was held in St. Peter's basilica and was attended by many persons connected with the council in addition to the preachers. Present were all members and consultants of the council's Central Preparatory Commission, who had begun their third series of meetings, as well as all members of the Roman Curia, the Vatican administrative staff.

The gathering of so large a number of high Church officials from Rome and many parts of the world was a symbol of the coming council.

the College of Cardinals with a total of 77 members, 27 Italians and 50 non-Italians, including five Americans. Eight cardinals have died since the last consistory to name cardinals in January, 1961.

However, the membership of the College was raised to 87 later in the week, with the naming of 10 new Cardinals by His Holiness Pope John XXIII, including three Italians and seven others.

Thirty-five years ago, when he was a hale and robust young priest in Milwaukee, Cardinal Muench became co-founder of the Apostolate of Suffering, an association whose goal is to promote understanding of the moral value of suffering, and to aid the sick, the invalid and the shut-in to consecrate their suffering to God. He remained spiritual director of the Apostolate of Suffering through the years.

A stocky man whose lifelong hobbies were hunting and fishing, Cardinal Muench himself was able to join actively as well as vicariously in the Apostolate of Suffering in his last years. Parkinson's disease, a progressive paralysis characterized by a shaking palsy, began to show its debilitating toll in Rome, and in his last months Cardinal Muench was more and more confined to the Salvator Mundi Hospital.

But despite the tremor convulsing his body he persisted in attending meetings of the Vatican on which he served.

Cardinal Muench was a member of the Sacred Congregations of Religious, of Rites and of Extraordinary Ecclesiastical Affairs, as well as the Central Preparatory Commission for the council.

He was the first U. S. Cardinal to serve in the Roman curia, the Church's central administrative staff. The late Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago was named to a curial post — Pro-Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith — but died in Rome in 1958 before he could take up his duties.

Four of the artist's compositions will be heard. They are Chant Heroique, Miniature, At Buffalo Bill's Grave (from American Suite), and Te Deum.

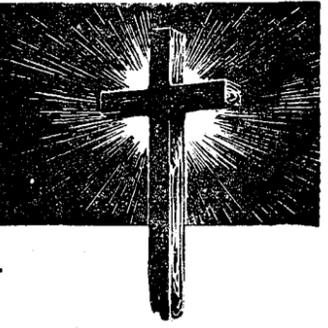

Recognized today as one of the leading composers for the organ, Langlais' many works have been published in France and England. His "American Suite" composed almost entirely during his stay in the United States recalls his personal impressions of this country.

The Cambridge Society has released a recording of Langlais' "Messe Solennelle," or Mass in Ancient Style, together with a work played by Theodore Marier. His "Te Deum" has been recorded four times as has his "Incantation pour un Jour Saint."

famous Churches of the World

The Cathedral of Notre Dame (Reims, France)

This cathedral has the three-fold distinction of being the metropolitan church of France, the place of coronation of its kings, and one of the finest specimens of Gothic architecture in the world.

The present edifice was designed in the 13th century, but its foundations date back to the 4th century. In the cathedrals which have succeeded each other upon this site nearly all the kings of France have been consecrated, from the time of Clovis in the 6th century. The baptismal font of Clovis, the first Christian king, is still preserved in this edifice.

The two towers crowning the front, each nearly 300 feet high, are models of grace. The grand entrance of the church is universally conceded to be the finest in the world. It is composed of 3 lofty-arched portals, each at least 100 feet high, and so deep and spacious that hundreds of people might easily find refuge within them without entering the cathedral.

More than 4,000 figures are sculptured upon the exterior of this cathedral, and many hundreds of these, some of them of colossal size, adorn the principal portals. Above the porch is a magnificent rose window, one of the finest in the world. The rest of the cathedral, both within and without, is worthy of this magnificent front.

Besides the simple fact of its association with royal coronations, this cathedral has many interesting historical reminiscences, such as being the scene of the crowning triumph of the venerable St. Joan of Arc.

Cairo Will Be First Stop For 21-Day Diocesan Tour

(This is the first in a series of articles describing the localities to be visited during the 21-day diocesan pilgrimage to Europe and the Holy Land, scheduled to leave New York July 29).

Diocesan pilgrims will travel by plane from New York July 29 and arrive July 30 in the great city of Africa, historically rich Cairo, Egypt.

Two days will be spent in this city of more than two million people. The first afternoon in Cairo will be at the leisure of the individual travelers for sightseeing and shopping.

Sightseeing in Cairo is a major source of revenue and a look around this city of contrasts explains why.

Cairo offers dramatic contrasts between the old and the new. The city is cosmopolitan and has numerous modern buildings that make it look like any major city in the world. However, the visitor will soon find himself in an area that will bring him back to the times of the Pharaohs and the Crusades which were repelled in the 12th century.

TRIP TO DESERT

Organized tours, on the second day in Cairo, will be conducted to the Egyptian Museum in the city and to the pyramids, the Great Sphinx and the Granite Temple in the arid land near the city.

The free afternoon, however, will provide the visitors time to browse through 14th, 16th and ninth century mosques as well as the Cairo, Egyptian, and American Universities.

Weather in Cairo is subtropic with an average rainfall of slightly more than one inch. No other major city in the world is located in such an arid region. It is on the bank of the Nile River at the head of the Delta where traffic from east to west and from north to south converge.

When the pilgrims venture into the surrounding desert, they will leave the new completely and go into a world preserved since before the Roman Empire. Even the transportation will take a dip into antiquity when the pilgrims will board donkeys or camels. The outdoor trip will have little chance of being rained out.

The visit to the past will finish in time to return to the hotel in Cairo and dinner. On Aug. 1, the trip will again get under way with a flight to Beirut, Lebanon and another two days of sightseeing.

After Lebanon, pilgrims will go to Damascus, Jerusalem, Tiberius, Galilee, Tel Aviv, Rome, Lourdes and Paris, returning to New York Aug. 19.

Monstrance From Paris For Annunciation Convent

Treasures Of Art World Adorn Churches, Convents

Beautiful and unusual altar appointments from both the United States and abroad are now in chapels of convents and schools as well as in churches of the Diocese of Miami.

According to Mrs. Maytag McCahill, sole owner of The Key, religious articles shop located in the Northside Shopping Center, orders have been placed in Madrid, Barcelona and Paris for sacred vessels and sanctuary appointments which will furnish newly-erected convents, school chapels, churches and other diocesan institutions.

DONATED BY PARISHIONERS

An ostensorium with back of bronze and an overlay finish of grained walnut; candlesticks of patinated bronze and carillon bells recently arrived in Miami from Paris for the Annunciation convent in Hollywood, residence of the School Sisters of Notre Dame who staff the parochial school and Madonna Academy.

The tabernacle for the new St. Timothy Church, in Miami's southwest section, is of smoked bronze and was imported from Madrid with matching candlesticks, and a hand-hammered silver chalice with carved ivory node executed by Xavier Corbero. All were donated by parishioners of the church which will be blessed by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll Sunday March 4.

Corbero, a noted Spanish artist, also executed the beautiful crucifix which will hang above the altar in the chapel of the new home for dependent children now being rushed to completion on property adjoining Holy Rosary Church in Perrine. A bronze corpus and enameled extremities are outstanding features of the crucifix carved from green limed oak.

Altar appointments of bronze and enamel made in the U. S. are featured in the recently completed convent chapel of the Adrian Dominican Sisters who staff St. Elizabeth School in Pompano Beach. Cerulean blue naugahyde has been used on prie dioux in the chapel where the wall behind the altar is decorated with vinyl.

Similar wall covering will be used in the chapels at Cardinal Newman High School, West Palm Beach and at the children's home.

SYMBOLS IN BRONZE

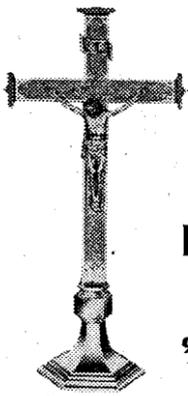

Liturgical symbols in bronze adorn the tabernacle and candlesticks made in their native Spain for members of the Teresian Institute in Coral Gables. Wheat shades dominate the draperies and floor covering in the chapel of the house, first foundation of the secular order in the United States. Future plans call for the installation of a stained glass window depicting Our Lady of Miami to replace the large glass pane now in back of the altar.

The Religious of the Society of the Sacred Heart and Mrs. McCahill are conferring with artists of several European cities regarding the remodeling of a sunporch in the Coconut Grove Convent of the Sacred Heart to serve as a chapel for the Sisters and students now enrolled in the new school.

Stained glass windows from the Henry Hunt Studio in Pittsburgh will be installed in the hospital chapel which is a gift to the diocesan institution from a prominent Miami family.

Monsignor Pace High School .o Register For Next Year

Registration of new students who plan to attend Monsignor Edward Pace High School next year will begin Sunday, Feb. 25, according to an announcement made this week by Father Louis C. Roberts, supervising principal.

In September, Father Roberts said, the high school located at 16500 NW 32nd Ave., will accept girls in a ninth grade class and boys in grades nine, 10 and 11. All new students must register for a March 24 placement test, time and place of which will be announced at a later date.

Eighth grade parochial school students may register in their own schools during the week of Feb. 25. All other students must register at their parish rectory after Masses on Sunday, Feb. 25. No one will be permitted to take the test unless registered in advance.

Monsignor Pace High School last September inaugurated classes for boys, staffed by Marist Brothers. Facilities for girls will be added through funds donated to the 1962 Diocesan Development Fund campaign now being organized. The faculty for the girls' section will be announced later.

Mardi Gras Festivities Head List Of Activities

Traditional pre-Lenten Mardi Gras festivities head the list of activities planned by organizations and clubs throughout parishes in South Florida. Included are dances, and carnivals which are scheduled to be held before Ash Wednesday, March 7.

WEST HOLLYWOOD — Parish members of Annunciation parish will hold their first annual Mardi Gras festival Thursday through Sunday, March 1-4 on the church grounds.

Rides for children and entertainment for adults will be provided between 1 and 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., Sunday. Proceeds will be donated to the building fund.

NORTH MIAMI BEACH — An evening of dancing, games, entertainment and refreshments is planned by the combined parish organizations of St. Lawrence parish at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 3 at the North Miami Armory. Costumes are optional and tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Joseph Abate at WI 5-3644. Mrs. Harry Mitchell is general chairman of arrangements assisted by Mrs. Thomas Cullen, publicity.

CORAL GABLES — Latin American food delicacies and many imported items donated by Spanish-speaking families and Americans who have traveled abroad will be featured during the annual festival under the auspices of the parish organizations of Little Flower Church.

The circus-theme benefit will be held on the school grounds, from 1:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday, March 1 and 2. A costume parade for children will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and prizes will be awarded for costumes as well as the most attractively decorated booths.

A dance for teenagers sponsored by the parish CYO will be held in the school cafeteria from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday. Charlie Murdock of radio station WQAM will be guest entertainer.

Mrs. William B. Denhart, Jr. is general chairman of the festival assisted by Mrs. G. Randazzo, Mrs. P. McMahon, Mrs. P. Lambright, Mrs. A. Kelly, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. H. Freitag, Mrs. Aura Montana and members of the Home and School

Association and Holy Name Society.

Entire proceeds will be donated to the parochial school.

NORTH MIAMI — Entertainment for young people and adults will highlight St. James parish Mardi Gras scheduled to be held Thursday, March 1 on the school grounds, NW Seventh Ave. and 131st St. Festivities begin at 11 a.m. and conclude with a games party at 7 p.m. in the church extension.

MIAMI SPRINGS — A Masked Costume Ball under the auspices of Blessed Trinity parish will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 24 at the Municipal Auditorium, 4700 Palm Ave., Hialeah.

Awards will be made for the most original, most beautiful and funniest costume selected by a panel of judges. A king and queen will be named and more than 60 young girls and boys will comprise the adult court while first graders from the parochial school will form a junior court. Refreshments will be served.

Gesu parish carnival in downtown Miami will be held Sunday and Monday, Feb. 25 and 26 in the parish center. A dance for teenagers and a variety of booths will be featured. On both days dinner will be served in the school cafeteria. Sunday's menu will include turkey and a ham dinner will be served Monday.

MIAMI SHORES — The annual festival sponsored by the Mothers' Club of St. Rose of Lima School will be held in the parish hall, from noon until 10 p.m., Saturday, March 3.

Ceramics, plants, canned goods, rummage and white elephant items will be featured as well as a teenage treasure chest. Mrs. Donald Stout is general chairman assisted by members.

Rides for the children will be available on the grounds at NE Fourth Ave. and 107th St., and a barbecue chicken dinner will be served in the school cafeteria from 4 to 7 p.m.

'In-Laws Have Taken Over My Home'

By FATHER JOHN L. THOMAS S. J.

I'm seriously thinking of divorce. In 18 years of marriage we have lived alone only two years. At first we lived with her folks because my wife wanted this. I finally talked her into having a house of our own, but shortly afterwards she insisted her mother move in with us. Now every Sunday the whole family of relatives moves in all day to visit mother. Their children leave the house a wreck. If I complain, my wife says, "Don't be selfish," or, "Mother won't live forever." We have no friends — just the gang of her relatives who never grew up. I've just about had it!

I think you mean you've been had, Bill. For the most part the picture you paint — and I have only reproduced the essential part of it — is familiar enough to a marriage counselor. We might say you not only married an immature, dependent girl; you married into an immature, dependent family. There are such families, and while they're very interesting to study, I quite agree with you they're difficult to live with unless you happen to be one of their kind.

What we are dealing with is a peculiar, primitive-like type of the extended family system, in which none of the members ever really grow up because they always remain dependent parts of the one big family. By this I mean, that even when they marry, they tend to think of themselves first as members of the family and only secondly as independent individuals.

Although, as you remark, the children in such families receive little guidance and discipline, they remain emotionally attached to their parents and other family members, seldom forming strong outside attachments. In marriage they assume that their partners will become part of the one big family, but if they refuse, it is the marriage rather than the family ties that must give.

This is a special kind of in-law problem, Bill, because it involves a state of mind, a definition of the situation that you find difficult to accept.

Place Little Value On Privacy

As far as your wife and in-laws are concerned, living in with other members of the family, or devoting all of your Sundays and holidays to a chaotic big family get-together are quite normal and to be expected.

They were raised to be group-minded and place little value on privacy or couple-centered solidarity. In a sense, they see the family as a loosely structured, self-enclosed, self-sufficient clan or tribe, capable of supplying their social and emotional needs without having recourse to outsiders.

Hence they find it difficult to understand the cause of your dissatisfaction. If you protest that a couple should cultivate a wider circle of friends and acquaintances, your wife takes it as criticism of her family. If you want to reprimand your relatives' uninhibited youngsters as they run through the house, wrecking all they touch, she stops you with, "Their feelings may be hurt, and besides, they're not opposed to ours doing the same thing in their homes." If you tire of driving her mother around to visit the tribe, she says, "Don't be selfish, it isn't far."

Select Items To Start With

What can you do? Unfortunately, Bill, you're starting a little late — long established habits and customs are not easily changed, and it is apparent from your letter that your wife doesn't take your protests very seriously now. Of course hindsight is always better than foresight, but you would have found it relatively easy to have established a different pattern if you had been firm in the very beginning of your marriage.

However, if you are really as fed up with the whole affair as you claim you are, you should make this very clear to your wife. Tell her not only that you don't like the present pattern but that you're firmly resolved to change it.

Since it is not realistic to expect to modify the whole pattern of family relationships at once, select several positive items to start with and insist that they be adopted. For example, if your mother-in-law wishes to visit her sons or daughters, they should drive over and pick her up. You might also arrange to take the family on a trip or to visit your relatives or friends on several Sundays of the month.

It would be surprising if you did not meet with stiff opposition from your wife in the beginning, since this is an unexpected turn of events and she will expect to deal with it as she has so successfully in the past. Hence you should think over the past arguments and methods she has used and prepare to handle them. In reality this means that you will succeed only if you have the strong, inner conviction that what you demand is just as reasonable.

Be prepared for a little rough going. This is certainly better than just walking out on your marriage, and your wife may be happy to discover that she married a man with a mind of his own.

Father Thomas will be unable to answer personal letters.

Exclusive White-Tite Process Means Coating That Is Guaranteed For Years

SPARKLING WHITE is this barrel tile roof on the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baines, 3830 NW First St., Miami, since it was cleaned, sealed and given two coats of lasting White-Tite five months ago. Many homes in South Florida have roofs which still look clean and new . . . even though their White-Tite coating was applied as much as five or six years ago . . . with no mold, mildew or fungus on the tile. The exclusive coating White-Tite uses stays brilliantly white for years. In fact, the White-Tite coating is much whiter than the paper this photo is printed on. "Not only is the roof still free of mold and fungus," states Jesse Scalzo, owner of White-Tite, "but the roof still is brilliantly white, as you can see. The White-Tite process used on all jobs is exclusive with White-Tite. This process has been developed and perfected over a period of 16 years. This is what was done on the Baines roof. First the roof was thoroughly cleaned and then the edges of the tile were sealed by our special, exclusive process. The sealing process offered by White-Tite rebinds all loose tile and provides better drainage from the roof, as well as giving extra protection against hurricane winds. After the sealing process, two coats of lasting White-Tite coating were put on the entire roof on consecutive days. We are proud of our quality and lasting work. We also feature a three coat process for gravel roofs, which gives the gravel a permanent bond to the roof. All cleaning and coating work is unconditionally guaranteed for two years against mold and fungus and we give you a five-year warranty. When White-Tite does the job for you, we will return anytime for the next two years and clean your walks, walls, patio, awnings, and screens free of charge. White-Tite is the "World's Largest Roof Cleaning-Sealing-Coating Company." Scalzo, the founder of White-Tite, Inc., has had 16 years of experience in the roofing business. This experience and the reputation of White-Tite, Inc., "guarantees" you the finest roof coating, best service and best value. "You can pay cash or finance your White-Tite coating," Scalzo said. "And, there's no interest charge on financing with White-Tite, since we handle our own financing. Get the best, call White-Tite today! Every White-Tite truck is radio dispatched by two-way radios for fast service." Complete information and a free estimate for tile or gravel roof cleaning, sealing and coating may be secured at your convenience by calling White-Tite at NE 3-8511 or NE 5-3603 in Miami, or LU 1-6550 or LU 1-6551 in Broward County. White-Tite is licensed, insured and bonded and is a member of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Fort Lauderdale Chamber of Commerce. "White-Tite is recommended by many architects and builders," Scalzo explained. "Do not accept a substitute! The material used by White-Tite, Inc. is exclusive with us . . . it is not available in any stores or from any other roof cleaning firm. Nothing else is as good as White-Tite!"

12 St. Brendan Girl Scouts Featured At Dade Camporee

Twelve girl scouts from St. Brendan parish were among 1,200 who attended a Dade County camporee last weekend but the girls from St. Brendan had a good portion of Miami TV viewers watching their activities.

The girls arrived at the campsite the same time on Friday afternoon as a local TV cameraman and he spent more than an hour photographing them as they prepared their tent for the weekend. They appeared on a newscast Friday night.

There are 17 girls in the troop which is sponsored by the St. Brendan Women's Club. Accompanying them at the camporee was Mrs. Claire Cegelis, whose daughter Barbara is a member of the troop. The parish has more than 100 girls in its various Brownie and Intermediate groups.

Father Laurence Conway of St. Brendan Church offered Mass on the camp grounds at Tropical Park Sunday morning.

The camporee was held in conjunction with the golden anniversary of the girl scouts and was highlighted by a special ceremony Saturday night which drew more than 8,000 people to the campsite.

Girls engaged in various demonstrations ranging from signaling and tent raising to cooking.

GIRL SCOUTS from St. Brendan parish were featured on a Miami TV newscast as they prepared their tents for the Dade County Camporee

Columbus High Speakers Win Forensic Tournament

The speech team of Christopher Columbus High School took first place in the Diocesan Forensic League's Grand Tournament, competing against nine other diocesan schools.

Columbus speakers had a total of 102 points, followed by St. Thomas Aquinas High School with 82 points and Notre Dame Academy placed in third place with 74 points. Immaculata Academy came in a close fourth with 71.

A total of 85 contestants represented the 10 schools which also included Archbishop Curley, Monsignor Pace, St. Patrick's, Chaminade, Cardinal Gibbons and LaSalle High Schools.

Three round eliminations were held and only the top two contestants in each category were qualified to represent the Diocese in the National Catholic Tournament at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, May 31.

The winners were Ben Mingle of Columbus and Mary Pat Byrnes of Immaculata in oratorical interpretation, Rose Marie Bailey of St. Thomas and John Sattler of Columbus in original oratory, Hank Daum of St. Thomas and Louis Vitale of St. Patrick's in boy's extemporaneous speaking and Mary Ann Partridge of Immaculata and Margaret Cardet of Notre Dame in girl's extemporaneous speaking.

The tourney took place at Immaculata Academy.

The debate section of the tournament is scheduled for Feb. 24 at St. Thomas High School, Fort Lauderdale.

The music and drama department of St. Patrick's High School, Miami Beach, will present the musical, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", Feb. 27 and 28 at the school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Cecelia Hiribarne will portray the lead role of Cornelia with Bernadette Leahy and Jane Fergusson alternating in the role of Emily.

Other leading roles will be portrayed by Claude Bolent, Josh Lasser, Bernardo Hiribarne, Kenneth Bourke, Paul Shofner, Tom Doyle, Joe Lasser and Olga Fernandez.

The musical is open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the door at the school during the day.

YOUTH

Is Asking...?

Heels, Lipstick
 For Girl, 13?

Dear Doris:

I'm 13-years-old and go to a Catholic high school. My parents won't let me go to games and parties with my friends if there is not an adult going with us. They won't let me wear makeup or a lite shade of lipstick. And I can't wear a one inch heel to Church
 Joyce K.

The battle of parents versus cosmetics goes on. This time I'm on your mother's side.

The next time you read, hear or see a cosmetic ad pay attention and you will realize that cosmetics are manufactured not for teenagers, but for older women. The advertisements promise to help them recapture the fresh, clear complexion of youth, to make them look young and beautiful. You are young. You have a clear youthful complexion. Why cover it with some pasty preparation that just makes you look pasty? Save your money.

In a recent article in a popular secular magazine the writer made a plea to teenagers to put off dating and unchaperoned parties until 15. Among other points he explained there are too many responsibilities connected with these social activities and at 13 you are not able to handle them. When you try you usually have an awful time. Don't rush things Joyce. Go along with your parents.

St. Rose Jr. CYO Dance Set Saturday

Junior CYO members in the Greater Miami area have been invited to attend a pre-Lenten dance in St. Rose of Lima auditorium, Saturday, Feb. 23, at 8 p.m.

Members of St. Rose Junior
 CYO will be hosts from 9:30 to 11 p.m. at 10690 NE Fifth Ave.,

Five Diocesan Cage Teams Enter District Tournaments

Five Diocese of Miami basketball squads enter the state high school district tournaments next week but only two teams will be able to move up to the state finals at the University of Florida.

Four of the five are in the Class A District 8 meet from which only one team will survive the eliminations. St. Patrick's, ranked as the number 1 Class C team in South Florida, will host the District 8 meet for its classification and will be the tournament favorite.

The Class A competition will be held in two sites with St. Thomas Aquinas of Fort Lauderdale and Cardinal Newman of West Palm Beach in the Northern half at West Palm Beach Forest Hill High and Archbishop Curley and Christopher Columbus taking part in the Southern group at Miami Central High school.

STARTS WEDNESDAY

Both the Northern and Southern halves start on Wednesday night with the two winners meeting on Saturday at Miami Central.

Although not seeded in the Northern meet because of the few games it played against Class A competition, St. Thomas must be considered the tournament favorite.

The Raiders have played mainly the larger Class AA schools and have run up a 16-3 record for the year.

In Bill Zloch, Frank Walker and Les Freeman, the Raiders have a trio of good scorers.

Cardinal Newman, with Bucky McGann closing out his fabulous high school career, rates as a tournament darkhorse.

Parochials Hold Tourney

The final rounds in the second annual Diocese parochial school basketball tournament will be run-off Saturday and Sunday at the Christopher Columbus High gym.

The tournament, which is sponsored by Columbus and attracted 16 teams, started Thursday.

Top seeded in the meet were Holy Family, SS. Peter and Paul, St. Anthony's of Fort Lauderdale, and St. Rose of Lima. St. Anthony's is the defending champion.

The entry list also included St. Stephen's, Holy Redeemer, Sacred Heart, St. Mary's, Epiphany, Little Flower, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, St. Michael's, St. Theresa's, Immaculate Conception, St. Clement's and Corpus Christi.

The quarter-finals in the tournament are slated for Saturday morning with games at 10, 11, 1 p.m. and 2 p.m.

Semi-finals will be Saturday night at 7 and 8:30 with the championship game on Sunday afternoon at 4, preceded by the game for third-place at 2:30.

Bathing Beauty Contests Called Womanhood Insult

BATON ROUGE, La. (NC) — Bathing beauty contests "subtly propose a tribute to woman's beauty" but then proceed "to insult the very qualities that most contribute to her beauty, purity and modesty," Bishop Robert E. Tracy observed at the 55th anniversary dinner of Court Marie Louise of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Una Extraña Oración

Por el Padre ANTONIO NAVARRETE

Adjunto le remito una oración, que me ha entregado una amiga, diciéndome que debo rezarla dos veces al día ante una imagen de Santa Bárbara. Yo no sé qué pensar, pues me parece muy extraña.

En verdad que dicha oración es extraña e incoherente y parece escrita o por un tonto o por un trastornado mental o por un cínico que intenta desprestigiar cosas tan santas como la religión, de la que la oración es una manifestación.

La Iglesia prohíbe formalmente la impresión de cualquier oración, si previamente no tiene la debida autorización del Obispo de la Diócesis, que debe llevar estampada en el impreso. Por lo tanto cualquier oración o libro pladoso que le ofrezcan, si no lleva consignada tal autorización, destrúyalo y colabore de esa manera a la escarada de tan mala hierba como pulula por esos mundos de Dios.

Cualquiera no Puede ser Padrino

Tenemos un amigo muy unido de siempre a la familia. El se ha ofrecido a ser padrino de bautismo de nuestro hijo y esto nos ha agradado sobremanera, pero tenemos un gran disgusto, porque el sacerdote, al enterarse de que no está casado por la Iglesia, no le permite que sea él padrino. No nos explicamos el por qué.

Existe una lamentable ignorancia sobre las disposiciones de la Iglesia respecto a las cualidades que deben reunir los padrinos de bautismo. Cuando llega la hora de echar mano de unos padrinos, muchas personas solo tienen en cuenta el grado de parentesco o de amistad que con ellos les une. La palabra padrino y madrina derivan de la palabra padre y madre. Los padrinos contraen con el ahijado un auténtico parentesco espiritual. Tal parentesco espiritual entraña ciertas obligaciones; la principal no es, ni mucho menos, regalar unos juguetes al ahijado. Es algo más, mucho más. Al final de la ceremonia del bautismo el sacerdote pone en las manos de los padrinos una vela encendida. He aquí lo que esto significa. La luz de la vela simboliza la luz de la fe que Dios acaba de prender en el alma del recién bautizado.

Los padrinos aceptan la responsabilidad y de ella darán cuenta a Dios, de que esa fe nunca se apague, sino que seguirá siendo la luz que ilumine toda la vida del ahijado. Es decir, que no sea un católico únicamente porque su nombre se halla inscrito en el Registro de la Iglesia, sino porque viva una vida auténticamente cristiana, regida y sostenida por el fiel cumplimiento de los diez mandamientos.

Tal obligación de los padrinos, de mirar por el bien espiritual del ahijado, recobra toda su actualidad y urgencia si los padres vienen a morir o si descuidan esa obligación, que por derecho propio y natural les incumbe a ellos. Por todo ello, la Iglesia exige que los padrinos sean personas ejemplares en el cumplimiento de sus deberes religiosos y así lo tiene establecido en el Derecho Canónico. ¿Cómo se pueden comprometer a velar por la fe del ahijado quienes perdieron esa misma fe que deberían custodiar o viven como si no la tuvieran?...

Conferencias de Cuaresma en el Centro Hispano Católico

Del 5 de marzo al 12 de abril se efectuará en el Centro Hispano Católico un ciclo de Conferencias Cuaresmales, que estará a cargo de los reverendos padres Villaronga y Santamaría, en el que se hará una revisión del mensaje cristiano, abordando temas sociales, problemas morales y cuestiones doctrinales.

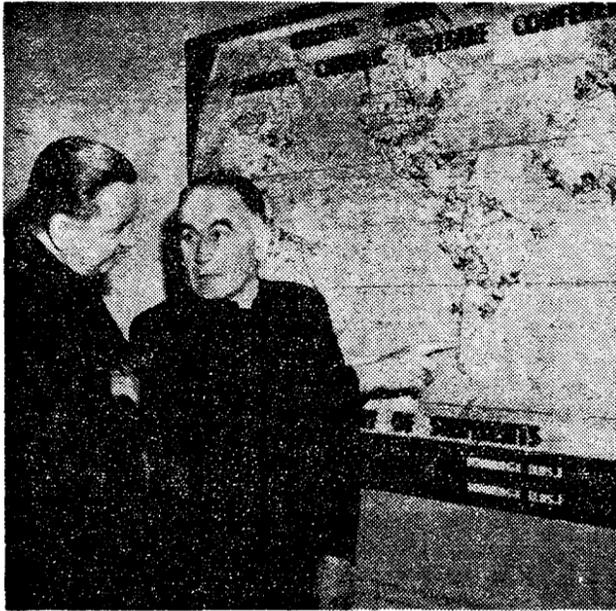

tiones doctrinales.

Las conferencias se ofrecerán a las 7 y 30 P.M., estando lunes y miércoles a cargo del Padre Santamaría O. P. y martes jueves a cargo del Padre Villaronga O.F.M. ...

Las mencionadas conferencias cuaresmales tratarán sobre puntos tan interesantes como los de los siguientes títulos: "Los Caminos de la Gracia", "Las Fuentes del Derecho", "El Orden de la Providencia", "Mediación de María", "Doctrina Social de la Iglesia", "Los Seglares en el Gobierno Eclesiástico", "Unidad de las Iglesias", "Los concilios Ecueménicos."

Tienen estas conferencias el propósito de facilitar a los católicos de habla hispana la forma de intensificar su vida espiritual en este Tiempo de Cuaresma que se aproxima. A este fin se organizarán otros actos de culto, de que informaremos oportunamente.

EL NUEVO CARDENAL chileno, Mons. Raúl Silva Enríquez, aparece en la foto departiendo con Mons. Edward E. Swansong, director del Catholic Relief Service, sobre la ayuda de esta organización a la obra de Caritas chilena, que dirige el nuevo Cardenal a fin de socorrer a los necesitados de Chile.

Organiza la Diócesis de Miami una Peregrinación a Europa y Tierra Santa

Una peregrinación de veintidós días a Europa y Tierra Santa, está siendo organizada por la Diócesis de Miami. Los puntos culminantes de la peregrinación serán la Misa de la Fiesta de la Asunción en la Gruta de Lourdes y una audiencia con Su Santidad el Papa Juan XXIII de la cual se espera confirmación.

El Padre John O'Dowd, V. F., Párroco de la Iglesia de la Epifanía en Miami, será el director espiritual de la peregrinación.

El viaje comenzará en el aeropuerto de Idelwild, en Nueva York el 29 de julio y terminará en el mismo aeropuerto el 19 de agosto. Se puede arreglar, sin embargo para comenzar el viaje en Miami.

Los peregrinos saldrán de Nueva York en un jet de la Air France que los llevará a el Cairo, Egipto, donde permanecerán dos días, se hará una excursión a las pirámides usando camellos y burros, este antiguo modo de transporte solo se usará por esta vez y los peregrinos continuarán su viaje hacia Beirut y el Líbano por ruta aérea.

Los turistas visitarán todas las partes del Jordán, Siria e Israel en carros privados. En avión se continuará el viaje hacia Roma, Lourdes y París.

Por lo menos una tarde de tiempo libre habrá en todos los puntos de interés. Habrá intérpretes en inglés.

En la Tierra Santa se visitarán las excavaciones de las ciudades antiguas, el Río Jordán, el Monte de la Tentación, la Tumba de Nuestro Señor, la Iglesia del Santo Sepulcro, el Monte de los Olivos, la Tumba de Lázaro, el Huerto de Getsemaní y el Monte Calvario en donde se oficiará una misa.

Después de 8 días en Tierra Santa, los turistas abordarán un avión en Tel Aviv que los llevará hacia Roma donde permanecerán cuatro días.

Se continuará el viaje a Lourdes, en donde los peregrinos tendrán dos días para sus devociones privadas y otras actividades; el día de la Asunción se conmemorará con una misa especial en la Gruta.

Después en vuelo a París, los peregrinos asistirán a Misa en la Capilla de La Medalla Milagrosa, se visitarán los Campos Elíseos, la Bastilla, la Opera, la Torre Eiffel, el Arco del Triunfo, la Catedral de Nuestra Señora y la Basílica del Sagrado Corazón.

Chinese Sister Dies After Six Years In Jail

HONG KONG (NC) — Sister Jeanne de St. Pacifique (Chow Man Ying) of the Little Sisters of the Poor, died in Shanghai on Jan. 25, at the age of 60, according to reports reaching here. She had spent six years in a communist prison and had been released only to die within two months.

The Sister was one of the more than 300 Catholics arrested with Bishop Ignatius Kung of Shanghai on Sept. 8, 1955.

Requiem For Educator

BUFFALO, N. Y. (NC) — A Requiem Mass was offered in the chapel of Canisius College here for Father James P. Sweeney, S.J., president of the college from 1934 to 1937. From 1939 to 1943 he was provincial of the Jesuits' Maryland-New York province, and from 1943 to 1945 he was provincial of the New York province when it was first formed.

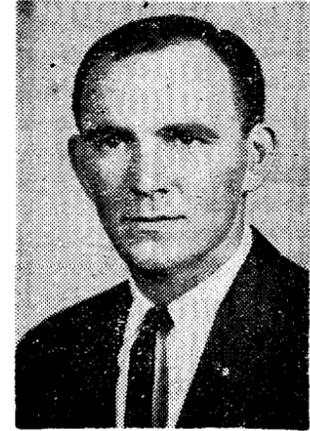

Bishop Curtis Offers Requiem For Mother

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (NC) — Bishop Walter W. Curtis of Bridgeport, Conn., offered Requiem Mass at St. John the Baptist church here for his mother Mrs. Delia Costello Curtis. She was 91 and was also the mother of Sister Mary Alouise, vicarress general of the Sisters of St. Dominic of Caldwell, N. J.

Jesuit In Red Jail

HONG KONG (NC) — A Jesuit priest who disappeared from sight when the Chinese communists arrested him and Bishop Ignatius Kung Pin-mei of Shanghai in 1955 now is reported to be in a Nanking prison.

A reliable report said Father Joseph Ting Jou-jen, S.J., has been sentenced to 17 years' imprisonment. He appears to have been sentenced only recently.

Priest Dies 26 Years After Being Paralyzed

SAN FRANCISCO (NC) — A priest paralyzed 26 years after he was shot by a gunman died at Notre Dame Hospital. Father Louis Galli, S.D.B., was shot on Christmas Day, 1935, when he shouted a warning after two men with drawn guns entered the rectory of St. Joseph's parish in Oakland, Cal.

The Salesian priest was unable to speak or move since that time. The two men convicted of the shooting, were sentenced to terms of five years to life but are now free.

"TO KNOW HOW TO GROW OLD IS THE MASTER WORK OF WISDOM . . ." Amiel

Although it is believed in many quarters that wisdom is a very certain by-product of age, such, unfortunately, is not always the case. Not all oldsters can lay claim to the wisdom that should be their heritage — the wisdom that might enable a maximum of contentment.

The business of growing old imposes physical limitations, of course, but to live wisely within these limitations is a knowledge which should be picked up along the way.

No one can beat the calendar, so how much wiser it is to fall in step with it gracefully and with dignity.

It is wise, also, at time of bereavement to rely on the comfort of a service that leaves no detail unattended. Such services, complete in every respect, are available at G. D. PEDEN FUNERAL HOME, Catholic Funeral Home, 8231 Bird Road. Ambulance service. Phone CA 6-1811.
