The first meeting of the board will be held today at St. John Vianney Seminary.

AFTER CELEBRATING Mass at Vatican City on the occasion of Poland's Millennium, Pope Paul presented the chalice he used to Msgr. Bolelas Wyszynski of the Polish College in Rome.

Blind Atheism One Danger Spawned, Paul VI Declares

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Pope Paul VI has reminded Christian workers that the church has not and cannot adhere to "the false conception of man, history and the world which is typical of radical Marxism."

"The atheism it professes and promotes," he said, "is . . . a blindness which man and society will have to pay for in the end with the gravest consequences. The materialism which derives from it . . . extinguishes man's true spirituality and his transcendent hope."

"The class struggle raised to a system harms and impedes social peace and inevitably ends in violence and oppression, leading to the abolition of liberty and the establishment of a ponderously authoritarian system naturally inclined toward totalitarianism."

Nevertheless, he told 15,000 representatives of Christian labor, the lay apostolate and social action movements in 35 nations, "the church does not bypass any of the claims for justice and progress of laborers. Let it be once more affirmed that the Church by rectifying these errors and deviations does not exclude from its love any man — any worker."

The Pope's address followed a concelebrated Mass in St. Peter's basilica commemorating the 75th anniversary of the publication of Pope Leo XIII's famous encyclical on the condition of the workingman, Rerum Novarum, which has served as a blueprint for the Church's subsequent social teaching. Among the concelebrants from six continents was Bishop John J.

Pope Warns Of Evils Of Marxism

Wright of Pittsburgh, representing North America.

Following his talk, the Pope received 70 representatives of 45 organizations throughout the world, including William Toomey of Albany, N. Y., executive board member of the National Catholic Social Action Conference. Toomey is the U. S. delegate to the constitutional assembly of the World Movement of Christian Workers, which began May 23 in Rome.

Pope Paul reduced the message of Rerum Novarum to seven "elementary propositions," which he called fundamental axioms.

"First, the Church has been thoroughly interested in the social question. Nobody can reproach it for its absences from the problem, for its timidity, superficiality or inconsistency.

CRY HEADED

"The Church has heard the 'cry of anguish' of the worker proletariat and even made it its own, not as a tinder of hatred and revenge, but as a demand for love and justice.

The second axiom founded on Leo's encyclical, Pope Paul said, is that "the Church has proclaimed the dignity of labor of whatever kind so long as it is honest, and supported it with wonderful argumentation.

"What has the Church not said, what has it not proclaimed regarding the worker, his person, his singularity and his numerical unity in the midst of the crowd, which the Church does not call a 'mass' but a 'people'? What has the Church left unsaid about his conscience, his liberty, his inalienable and sacrosanct right to bread, to a family, to education, to spiritual hope and to a profession of religious beliefs?

"The third axiom is that the Church has made its own the principle of the progress of social justice, that is to say, of the necessity of promoting and implementing the common good, not only by its speculative doctrine (which it has maintained ever since the evangelical message proclaiming blessed also who hunger and thirst after justice) but also by its practical teaching.

"The fourth axiom," he said, is that "the Church has never been afraid to descend from the religious sphere proper to it to the sphere of the concrete conditions of social life.

"Like the Samaritan in the Gospel parable, the Church has descended from . . . its purely religious concern with the cult of worship and become a minister of charity — not only individual charity, but social charity. It has showed its concern in the economic field. It has spoken on the relationship between capital and labor, it has pronounced on the labor contract, on wages, assistance, family allowances, private property and savings — on a hundred practical questions essentially connected with the honest and legitimate necessities of life.

"The fifth axiom (is that) the Church has recognized the right to form trade unions. It has defended and promoted it, overcoming a certain theoretical and historical preference for corporative forms (guilds) and mixed associations. It took cognizance not only of the strength of numbers which the fact of unionizing was bound to exert upon a society oriented toward democracy, but also of the fruitfulness of the new order which could spring from workers' unions — an awareness on the part of the worker of his dignity and his position in the social framework, a sense of discipline and solidarity, a spur to professional and cultural advancement, a capacity to participate in the productive cycle no longer as a mere executive instrument, but to some extent at least as a sharer in responsibility and an interested participant as well."

The sixth axiom, the Pope said, is the "most discussed and most difficult of all of them. The Church has not and cannot adhere to social, ideological and political movements which, in finding their origins and strength in Marxism, have maintained its negative principles and methods, which result from the incomplete and therefore false conception of man, history and the world which is typical of radical Marxism.

"The atheism which it professes and promotes is not in favor of the scientific concept of the cosmos and of civilization, but is a blindness which man and society will have to pay for in the end with the gravest consequences. The materialism which derives from it exposes man to experiences and temptations which are extremely harmful. It extinguishes his true spirituality and his transcendent hope."

Hierarchy Is Indispensable In Faith's Chain, Pope Says

VATICAN CITY (NC) — The Church's hierarchy is "normally indispensable" for those who have received their faith from the Apostles, Pope Paul VI said here.

He told those attending his weekly general audience:

"The work of the visible hierarchy is concerned with the diffusion of the Holy Spirit among members of the Church. Its ministry is not indispensable to the operation of God's mercy, which may be diffused as God pleases. But it is normally indispensable for us who have the mandate and good fortune of having received the word of God, the grace of God, the guidance of God from the Apostles — that is to say from the ministers of the religious, supernatural life emanating from Christ."

The Holy Spirit is free to exercise His "mysterious action" directly, the Pope observed. "The council affirms this expressly and repeatedly . . .

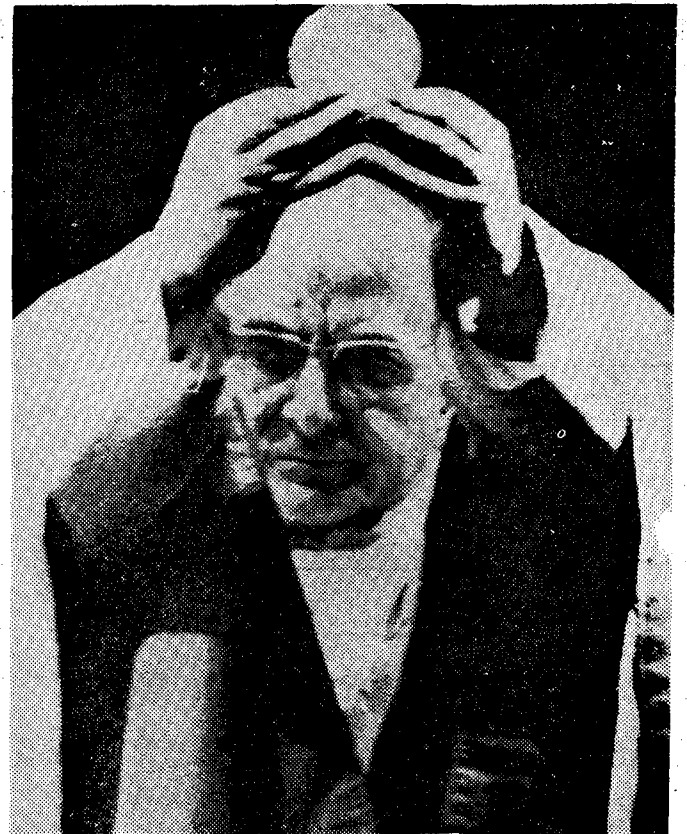

"Isn't the service which the Church intends to provide in teaching, sanctifying and guiding the faithful superfluous and cumbersome? Don't the faithful receive the Holy Spirit directly, without this human screen, this intermediary institution?"

"This is an essential point of the Church's doctrine and it is necessary to examine Christ's teaching. For Christ entrusted the fulfillment of His work among men to two different factors: the Holy Spirit and the Apostles. He promised to send the Holy Spirit and He sent His Apostles.

"These two missions both come from Christ. The indisputable design of the divine Founder of the Church intends that the Church be built by apostles and vivified by the Holy Spirit. Apostles build the body of the Church whose soul is the Spirit of Christ, and these two different agents are so linked to each other that St. Augustine affirms in his famous and incisive words that the work of one is the extension of the other: 'Nothing participates in the Spirit of Christ except the Body of Christ . . . Do you wish therefore to find life in the Spirit of Christ? Then be in the Body of Christ.' (Tract on John the Evangelist).

"And again: 'The Christian need fear nothing so much as to be separated from the Body of Christ. If in fact he is separated from the Body of Christ He is not His member; and if he is not His member, he is not nourished by His Spirit.'"

POPE PAUL elevates Host during Mass which marked the end of ceremonies at the Vatican observing Poland's Millennium.

Cardinal Warns Polish Reds To Respect Church's Rights

BERLIN (NC) — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski has bluntly warned the Polish government that unless it respects the Church's rights, the Church cannot "take responsibility for the future."

The archbishop of Warsaw and primate of Poland at the same time told a crowd of close to a quarter of a million people that the Church in Poland is not seeking to assume "the authority of Caesar." He said, however, that if the Polish regime exercises its authority in a Christian spirit, it will find that authority enhanced by the Church.

Cardinal Wyszynski was speaking at the scheduled observance of Poland's Christian millennium at Piekary Slaskie, key coal mining and industrial center about 11 miles northwest of Katowice in southern Poland. The bringing to Piekary of the pilgrim reproduction of the image of Our Lady of Czestochowa was arranged to coincide with the yearly men's pilgrimage to the shrine of Our Lady of Wielkie Piekary, Upper Silesia's most celebrated Marian sanctuary. Working men composed the great bulk of the masses of people who heard the cardinal speak.

The cardinal denied repeated charges by Polish communist leaders that the Church is opposed to change, and declared that the Church in Poland "has not existed for only 15 or 20 years, but for 1,000." He said also:

"After 10 centuries of Catholicism, we have a right to be a Catholic nation, and we do not relinquish that right."

TREMENDOUS WELCOME was given Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski and Bishops of Poland by hundreds of thousands of citizens at Krakow, who cheered and tossed flowers at a procession bearing the "Black Madonna of Czestochowa." The Cardinal is shown imparting his blessing to the multitude.

Bishop McNamara Dead; Headed Diocese Of Joliet

ROCHESTER, Minn. (NC) — Bishop Martin D. McNamara, 68, first bishop of Joliet, Ill., died at St. Mary's Hospital here following heart surgery. Three years ago, following heart surgery here, he was on the point of death for several days. He never fully recovered. He had been at St. Joseph's Hospital in Joliet for 11½ months prior to his recent entry to St. Mary's, Rochester.

Martin Dewey McNamara, the seventh of eight children, was born in Chicago. He began his studies for the priesthood at Old Cathedral College, now known as Quigley Preparatory Seminary North. He also studied at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, and at the Catholic University of America, Washington. In 1922 he was ordained in Chicago's Holy Name Cathedral by George Cardinal Mundelein.

In 1948 he was named to head the newly created diocese of Joliet, Ill. He was consecrated with Bishop William O'Connor of Springfield, Ill., and Bishop William Cousins, now Archbishop of Milwaukee, by Samuel Cardinal Stritch in 1949.

Six Priests Concelebrate Mass On Their 25th Year

The 25th anniversary of their ordination to the priesthood was observed by six priests in the Diocese of Miami during a Mass of Concelebration offered with Bishop Coleman F. Carroll in St. Raphael Chapel at St. John Vianney Seminary.

The Mass of Thanksgiving was concelebrated by Msgr. Rowan T. Rastatter, pastor, St. Brendan parish; Msgr. Joseph H. DeVaney, V.F., pastor, St. Francis Xavier parish, Fort Myers; Father James Keogh, pastor, St. Matthew parish, Hallandale; Father Timothy Carr, pastor, St. Jerome parish, Fort Lauderdale; Father Georges Beaugard, St. Lawrence parish, North Miami Beach, and Father Walter Roux, St. Vincent Ferrer parish, Delray Beach.

Another jubilarian, Father Bernard Hickey, pastor, St. Lucie parish, Port St. Lucie, was unable to be present.

During the Mass, Father Keogh told other members of the clergy and seminarians that "the occasion of a jubilee is, like retreat time, a time for prayer, a time for recollecting, a time for remembering; a time for regretting and a time for rejoicing.

"Were it not for the thought that in spite of our unworthiness, God Himself calls us to priests to work with Him as well as for Him," Father Keogh said. "And what a wealth of grace He has given us that more than supplies for our deficiencies. If it were not for His help our hearts would falter and our feet would fail."

Emphasizing that a jubilee is a time for rejoicing, Father Keogh pointed out that memories of frustrations and setbacks mingle with those times and opportunities when "we have extended helping hands to those in need in so many walks of life. Time for rejoicing when we recall the honorable company in which we walk, brothers to the mighty and the immortal dead. "We ask the prayers," Father Keogh said, "of all that the future years may be more blessed than those gone by. That the Wings of God's protecting providence may always overshadow us. That we may always walk in the shadows of the Immaculate Queen of Heaven. That we may follow in the footsteps of the saints whose names we bear."

At the conclusion of the Mass during which the seminary choir sang, Bishop Carroll extended his congratulations and the felicitations of other priests in the Diocese of Miami to the jubilarians, emphasizing that for the past 25 years the faithful in Florida have benefitted from their ministrations.

Bishop Carroll outlined in detail the directives of the Vatican Council decree on the Priesthood, pointing out that the primary work and duty of a priest is the proclaiming of the word of God.

"There was a time when the priest of a parish cared only for the needs of the Catholics within a confined area," Bishop Carroll declared.

"We are living in a new day and new age. It is the obligation of the priest to be concerned not only with those in his parish. He must be concerned with others, with their spiritual well-being."

Record On Saint's Birthplace Cleared

SAN JUAN, P.R. (NC) — For the benefit of the House of Representatives here, the Institute of Puerto Rican Culture has set the record straight on the birthplace of St. Rose of Lima.

The institute said St. Rose was born April 30, 1586, in Lima, Peru, not in Puerto Rico.

The House called for a study after several Puerto Rican historians disputed Peruvian claims that St. Rose, who was Isabel Flores de Oliva, was born in Lima. The Puerto Ricans claimed she was born here.

CCD Teachers Presented Awards By Bishop Carroll

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll has issued a plea to the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine workers of the Diocese to "fulfill the obligations" they have assumed "through prayer and study."

Bishop Carroll made the plea during a talk to CCD members from throughout the Diocese who attended ceremonies held at the Cathedral last Sunday.

During the ceremonies, probationary and permanent CCD teaching certificates were presented to the teachers by Bishop Carroll.

Among recipients of the certificates were 12 Sisters, 49 students at St. John Vianney Minor Seminary and 27 Spanish-speaking instructors.

More than 300 persons were eligible to receive the CCD awards for having successfully completed a course in Doctrine and Methods of teaching religion.

In his talk, Bishop Carroll reminded his listeners that if they were living in Cuba or some other Communist-controlled country they would not have the opportunity to do CCD work.

For this reason, he said, "your work should not be taken lightly."

"All of you have the obligation," he stressed, "to be Apostles — to bring the teachings of Christ to others."

Pointing out that the "prime obligation" of a bishop of a Diocese is "to teach," Bishop Carroll declared that in this work the bishop needs not only the assistance of priests but "in this day and age also needs the assistance of zealous, devoted lay men and lay women."

Those responsible for carrying out the CCD program, said Bishop Carroll, "feel that a special type of training is necessary now for those who teach CCD classes."

"This is different," he explained, from the type of training for "teachers who teach in Catholic schools."

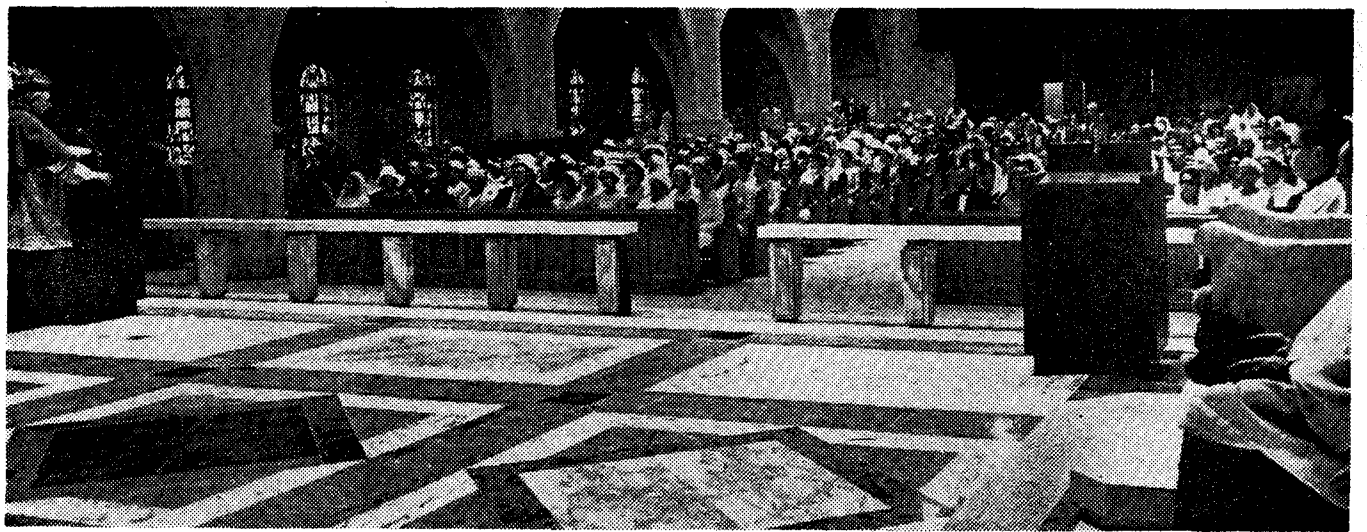

He emphasized that in performing their teaching duties the CCD workers were helping "to lighten a burden and responsibility that is primarily the bishop's."

Bishop Carroll urged his listeners to "continue their genuine interest" in CCD activities "particularly by way of study."

Citing the fact that only 25 per cent of Catholic boys and girls of high school age in the Diocese were in Catholic schools, he stressed that more CCD workers were "greatly needed."

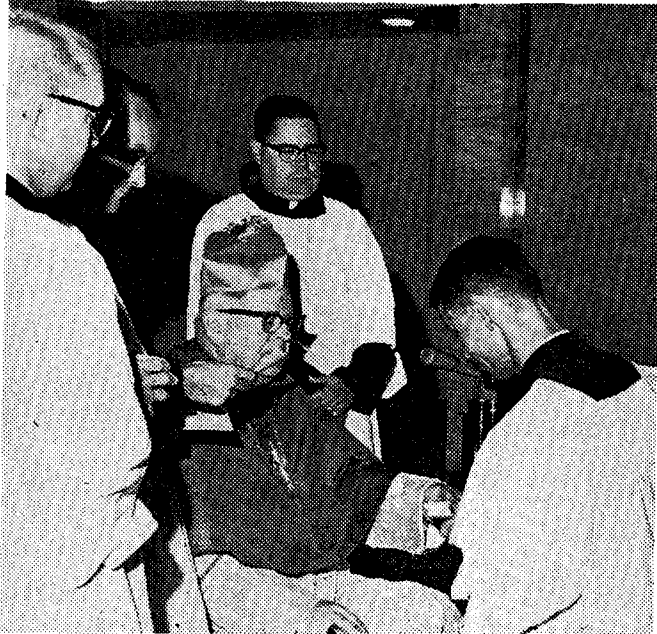

Bishop Carroll pointed out that in this Diocese, a large part of the "work of catechizing must of necessity fall upon the shoulders of the lay people."

He called on the congregation "to urge others to undertake this important work."

Are Americans Becoming A Nation Of Knockers?

Those concerned about the sharp criticism of the Church by Catholics ought to see the larger picture and come to realize that we Americans generally "by all odds have become the most self critical nation in existence."

So says James Reston of the New York Times. He claims: "The critics have taken over the country and everything, we are told, is falling apart. The American automobile is a wreck. The American bathroom is out of date. The American university is in revolt . . . Cries of anguish about Vietnam, Latin America, China, Johnson, McNamara, Rusk, Fullbright, the poverty program, and the Republican party. But elsewhere and despite all this we must be doing something right."

For good or ill, this is the spirit of the times, but it does wear on the nerves after a while. Everything has to be re-examined and re-appraised. Nothing is sacred. Nothing can be taken for granted. Downgrade the whole list, and see what survives. It's weakness to praise the good points; condemn what is wrong or unjust or too old, and watch things get better.

Perhaps Mr. Reston's suggestion ought to be taken seriously, namely, to have an off season for hunting politicians. . . a couple of days or even a week each month. While we're at it, let's plug for a comparable off season for criticism of religion, God, the spiritual life, celibacy and authority.

Racism Toppled Into Dust

Whatever one thinks of the outcome of Tuesday's contest for the Democratic nomination for governor, one aspect of the day's results should be welcome news to every citizen. This is the fact that racism was dealt a stunning blow.

After studying the returns, analysts are strong in conviction that the race issue as a statewide political weapon has disappeared. Mr. Burns thrust ancient racial fears before the citizens of this state as a magnet for votes, and even in the rural areas where, it was believed, racism could be a powerful factor, the people did not buy it.

No one should be naive enough to conclude that racial problems are now about to be easily solved or that the issue will never be raised in less important elections in certain areas. But at least the citizens of Florida proved they have a sense of responsibility towards their neighbor and can use mature judgment in refusing to allow the color of skin to influence their preference for a candidate.

A Towering Man Of Peace

Feelings of frustration arising from the war in Vietnam are reflected in the latest Gallup poll. If the Buddhist-backed military forces and Premier Ky's government are going to fight on a large scale among themselves, the majority of Americans, according to the poll, want U. S. forces to pull out completely. And if the South Vietnamese decide to quit fighting altogether, most U. S. citizens are in favor of our troops coming home.

Of all the events in recent years which have been shrouded in mystery and defy clear analysis, perhaps most of us would select the Vietnam situation as the least understandable. Until this recent poll, we seemed hopelessly divided on all issues related to our policies there. Close friends and even families disagreed sharply on the basic issue of whether or not we belong there.

It seems now that the internal bickering of the South Vietnamese is uniting our public opinion at last into a hope of withdraw-

PENTECOST is a time for us to recall the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles. The fire which Our Lord spoke of (Cfr. Luke 12:49) refers to the purifying and cleansing power which the Gospel, through the grace of the Holy Spirit, will exercise upon mankind. Drawing by Father Arthur J. King.

al. But actually this does not solve the larger problem. It surely offers no guarantee of peace.

Perhaps the clouds of pessimism are settling down over us most of all because all the promising peace hopes of the past year or two seem to have been dashed. Even Pope Paul's peace efforts, which were watched with so great interest and care by people across the earth, seem to have been stymied by the unwillingness of North Vietnam to negotiate.

Despite the frustration of it all, it seems certain that Pope Paul has emerged as a universally accepted peace mediator. The list of the men who have conferred with him on the cessation of the war in Vietnam indicates clearly that he is now accepted as a powerful force for good in world affairs.

Perhaps the only glimmer of light in the increasing gloom is the consoling fact that sectional differences in the free world are being forgotten in a united effort to bring peace to all men.

Must Pray For Vietnam Peace, Pope Tells Crowd From Window

VATICAN CITY (NC) — Troubled by the deteriorating situation in Viet Nam, Pope Paul VI again asked for prayers for the restoration of peace.

Speaking from his apartment window to the Sunday noon crowd gathered in St. Peter's Square, the Pope referred to the "painful situation" revealed in current news from Viet Nam.

"We must pray," he said, "that there may be no further divisions and no further struggles to afflict this beloved and so sorely tried country, and that concord, order and finally peace may be happily granted it."

Make Memorial Day A Time To Replace Strife With Love

By MSGR. HENRY G. BAUER
President, National Catholic
Cemetery Conference

On this Memorial Day as we come to honor the War Dead, the flag of our nation will be flying over the graves of thousands of veterans. Some graves will be old; others fresh with the recent victims of Vietnam.

Though disease, accidents and age must take their toll, we cannot but be saddened to see the flag of glory flying over the graves of young men and women because of the slaughter necessitated by war. Before Vietnam there was a Korea; before Korea; World Wars II and I; conflict, strife and war because civilized man has not learned to live with his fellow man.

That nations should be at odds with one another is no surprise when we consider families, who collectively make up the nation are frequently torn with strife and dissension.

If in this basic unit of society the family, we would learn to observe the message of Christ — the message of love for one another — then Memorial Day could be a day of honoring those soldiers of life who through their example, not the shedding of their blood, have made this a better world in which to live.

In tune with this thought we find the most excellent statement ever to be written to have come from the pen of one named Sirach who lived about 200 years before Christ. Sirach, praising the great Ancestors of Israel could have envisaged the type of society to be founded by Christ where love must someday flourish in the hearts of all men. Let us listen to the words of this great sage who under divine inspiration composed this statement, more than appropriate for this and all Memorial Days.

Now I will praise these Godly men,
Our ancestors, each in his own time;
Rulers of the earth by their authority,
Men of renown for their might,
Or Counselors in their wisdom,
Or seers in all things in prophecy;
Resolute governors of peoples
Or judges with discretion.
Authors skilled in composition
Or poets with collected proverbs
Composers of melodious psalms
Or discourses on lyric themes.
Stalwart men, solidly established

And at peace in their own estates
All these were glorious in their time.
Each illustrious in his day.
Some of them have left behind a name
That is remembered to their praise;
But of others there is no memory,
For it perished when they perished,
And they are as though they had never lived,
They and their children after them.
Yet these also were godly men
Whose virtues have not been forgotten;
Their wealth remains in their families,
Their heritage with their descendants;
Through God's covenant with them their family endures,
And their hopes are never shattered.
And these are buried in peace,
But their name lives on and on.
At gatherings their wisdom is retold
And the assembly sings their praise.
(The Book of Sirach from the Holy Bible Ch. 44, 1-15)
In this war torn world, seeded with hatred and dissension, hunger and despair, greed for might and power, the law of love seems a millennium in the hope of attainment. But each one of us living today can begin to bring an end to the futile shedding of blood on the battle fields of the world by recognizing the dignity of all men. Man, made to the image and likeness of God, must be treated with fairness and justice mellowed by the love that brother must have for brother. This state will not come among nations first but will begin with you and me, living in peace and harmony with our families and in our community. Justice can conquer and overcome hunger; love will destroy hatred.
There will be other Koreas and Vietnams before the virtue of love has been planted in the hearts of all men, unless we begin now to implement this law of love in our lives. If we do not act, Memorial Day in all future years will continue to focus attention on the fresh sod of new graves of those fallen in war. Then instead of honoring our ancestors, as did Sirach, for the way they lived we will continue to honor men for the way they died.

Idiotic Attacks On Devotions To Mary

By Msgr. JAMES J. WALSH

TRUTH OF THE MATTER

MSGR. WALSH

Among the vatniks, the avant garde in radical post-council thinking, downgrading devotion to Mary is now "in." You hear about them publicly pulling a rosary apart or digging a hole to bury the neighborhood's beads. All of this more or less pure corn is meant to symbolize melodramatically the end of this ancient devotion to Mary.

Their sensitive nature is offended by the sight of a statue of Mary in church. And the very idea of people going to church to pray by means of a novena is rather revolting to them. When "Novena Notes" recently discontinued publication after a generation of contact with the devotees of the Sorrowful Mother Novena, some of the way-out people were delighted, as if at long last the first rays of the era of enlightenment had pierced our granite skulls.

These oddball doings are scandalizing many, who are not familiar with the characteristic nutty approach of extremists. It is faintly reminiscent of the goings-on in the Protestant Reformation, when Mary became a target of ridicule and vandalism. Statues and images were destroyed, her shrines pillaged, and the Christian barbarians expected a reward from God and man for being so orthodox.

This is not to say that the vatniks necessarily are attempting to deny the Church's dogmas on Our Lady. What bugs them for the moment is devotion, not doctrine. For a variety of reasons they feel something dramatic and radical must be done about devotion to her. All that some of them can think up for the moment, however, is a program of ridicule in what they think is a humorous, but reverent vein.

SOME ABUSES

They are indeed right when they claim there are abuses in devotion to Mary. This came out often in the council talks of the Bishops from almost every part of the world. In some places among those with little or no education, there is considerable superstition related to Mary. No one can deny this. Missionaries recognize that some private devotions are artificial and shallow and mechanical, like the prayer wheels in India. And even in the U.S., among those who have had instruction in religion, there is no doubt that some, perhaps many, have devotions to Our Lady which are sentimental, nondoctrinal and indeed a scandal to sincere Protestants.

Pope Paul time and again has referred to this and has called on us to "purify and embellish the forms of our Marian piety, never allowing it to be detached from its doctrinal sources, but finding in them the norms and stimulus for pouring itself forth in genuine expression."

However, the recent rash of idiotic protest against Marian devotions indicates that the vatniks want no half measures here. They are once again trying to throw the baby out with the bath water. Why? There may be several explanations.

Some sincerely are so intent on emphasizing the supreme importance of the eucharistic celebration that they want all other "distractions" done away with. They want nothing in the Church except the altar of sacrifice, and the very idea of one reciting the rosary during Mass or kneeling before a statue does violence to their sense of fitness.

MAJOR PROBLEM

Others are motivated by ecumenical considerations. They are deeply involved in the quest of unity with all Christians and want to avoid anything that can wound the sensibilities of our Protestant friends. They realize that a major problem in ecumenism is the person and cult of Mary. Father Walter Burghardt, S.J. emphasized this latter point when he said: "Save for the Catholic concept of the Church, the single theological issue which most effectively strangles the ecumenical dialogue is the Catholic vision of Mary. She is the 'wall' — if only because she is, for the Protestant, the visible symbol of Catholic 'idolatry'; the Roman abandonment of scripture, of history and of Christ . . ."

Father Burghardt is not exaggerating.

Proof of this "wall" is found in the admissions of many notable converts to Catholicism. Gilbert Chesterton, for instance, said: "The instant I remembered the Catholic Church, I remembered her. When I tried to forget the Catholic Church, I tried to forget her; when I finally saw what was nobler than my fate, the freest and hardest of all my acts of freedom, it was in front of a gilded and very gaudy little image of her in the port of Brindisi, that I promised the things I would do, if I returned to my own land."

Charles Stoddard, a confirmed agnostic for many years, said that this greatest difficulty in the long painful process of conversion was not the doctrine of penance or indulgences, but the prejudices of his childhood against the reverence paid to Mary.

Another trend today, and a most important one, is to center all spirituality on Christ and to emphasize the Scriptures far more than in recent centuries. Some have mistakenly interpreted this so literally that they feel no attention at all should be directed to Mary and the saints.

'REVIVE DEVOTION'

Pope Paul in a magnificent talk to the bishops at the opening of the second session stressed the need to center everything on Christ. But then and many times since he has reaffirmed the need of devotion to Mary. He stated that the Church would be impoverished and compromised without devoted and reasonable honor rendered to Mary. Just three months ago he said, "It is, therefore, necessary that we revive our devotion to Our Lady, seeking the truths which give it life in Biblical origins . . ."

Downgrading devotion to Mary, therefore, needless to say, is not the intention of the Holy Fathers or the Bishops. Some have interpreted wrongly the debate in Rome on how the council should treat the question of Mary — whether to have a separate schema on her role or to include it as one chapter in the constitution on the Church. The final decision to make Mary's role part of the great document on the Church has given her new honor and prestige.

But this interesting question needs more space.

Fatima Message And Vatican II

FATIMA (NC) — The harmony between the message of the Virgin Mary when she appeared here and the decrees of the second Vatican Council were stressed by Giuseppe Cardinal Ferretto, representative of Pope Paul VI at the 49th anniversary of the apparitions here.

The message of Our Lady, he said, is that we would all live in the state of grace and that we should all be apostles among those with whom we live so that Christ can reign in the temporal order.

CATHOLIC WELFARE BUREAU USUALLY SUCCEEDS

The Hard Task Of Bringing A Stray Sheep Back To The Fold

By Msgr. R. T. RASTATTER
Necessan Director of Catholic Charities

It is usually comforting to read about success stories. Even as children we loved to hear tales that ended, "and they lived happily ever afterward."

It is, likewise, a pleasure to write about them. But such is not always the end result in our scheme of things. We have our failures, too.

In the past in these columns we have narrated a few instances of wayward boys or girls who were straightened out by the zeal and good works of the people who staff the institutions administered by your Catholic Welfare Bureau. These were children who, though they had the innate goodness of character, were tempted to seek what they thought were rosier paths or greener fields.

While each presented problems pertinent to his or her own family life and environment, somewhere inside each there remained a spark sufficient for the fires of love to be ignited into a glowing ember of truth and understanding.

But like the Good Shepherd who abandoned 99 of His good sheep to find one stray, so do we find that there may be one in a hundred of these lambs of ours who needs special attention.

Yet, we also find that perhaps in one of a hundred cases processed by your Catholic Welfare Bureau, the lamb turns out to be a wolf . . . one who knows Op and Pop . . . who is "in" and "camp" and sometimes "beat" and uses vile language not even found in questionable paperbacks . . . one who can hurt and scar his or her parents and teachers.

END USUALLY GOOD

The usual devoted attention, love and experience are bestowed upon this one recalcitrant youngster. Generally, the eventual response is gratifying and heart-warming . . . and quite productive of good citizens and soldiers of Christ. But, as the saying goes, "You can't win 'em all," . . . and we are then faced with another problem: what to do with a most unruly, obstreperous child who will not respond to all the balm, the pleas, the training and the inducements of those who are responsible for his rehabilitation?

What would you do?

Abandon him and say, "We tried — God's will be done!?" . . . or —

Continue to try with every means and facility at your command to bring the child into line?

Certainly the latter is the right course. It has worked with the majority of children. But there comes a time when there seems to be no recourse . . . no answer . . . to the antagonism that misfortune has so deeply rooted in some of our unfortunate, dependent children.

So, try as we may . . . we sometimes fail. Even the exposure to psychiatrists is fruitless. We seem to reach a sort of Berlin Wall, a mental block that pleading or probing cannot penetrate . . . and we have only one recourse: your prayers. If you, like so many others of us, have had occasion to realize or benefit from the power of prayer . . . then you know full well why we solicit yours in such times of our seeming failures.

Oh, let's not dwell on the biblical histories of the many sinners who turned their lives around. We are all too familiar with how Saint Augustine, after a misspent youth, grew to be one of the giants of the Church; how Saint Paul who so persecuted Christ, became one of the Church's leading Apostles; how Mary Magdalen was restored, by Christ Himself, from evil ways to a life of Sainthood . . . and the countless others.

SAINT REBELLED

But let us never forget there was a Saint in Heaven who also rebelled. He took charge of a legion of Fallen Angels. Thankfully, their departure made room for us in heaven for our own eternal bliss. But even they who were blessed by existence in the sight and dazzling glory of God in Heaven's bounty and its eternal happiness, chose to rebel — to the point of defying their Creator and their God, and suffered expulsion and damnation for all time.

So if a few of our mortals . . . a few of our own children choose to rebel, we must keep trying to provide them with a sense of true values and an appreciation of the infinite goodness of God.

Difficult? In all of the cases we receive, yes. Impossible? Only in the rare instances in which we fail. Yet we dare not suspend our operation . . . we dare not retreat. Failure is a spur: Christ's death gave life to us all. Even one of the thieves crucified alongside Christ was taken into heaven with Him on the day of His death.

And so we say again: your prayers and your charity have their rewards and their fruits. Despite — and perhaps because of — the few failures we encounter, we once again place before you the great and growing need of the dependent children of our Diocese . . . our homeless aged . . . and our unwed mothers. Our failures may be your failures — failures to recognize that we each represent an important part of our community . . . of the Diocese of Miami.

To those of you who bless each day with a prayer of gratitude, of hope, faith and charity, we offer our prayers. May God bless you, and please pray for those whom we somehow cannot seem to help!

GOD LOVE YOU

Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen

One day Our Blessed Lord was seated at the base of one of the great columns of the Temple of Jerusalem. From that point of vantage, He could see the 13 trumpets (not musical trumpets) which received alms from the pious and the devout. He probably saw thousands dropping in coins, but there was only one person who attracted Him so much that He spoke about it to the Apostles and they, in turn, wrote it in the Gospel. It was a poor widow who put into the trumpet the two smallest coins in the realm as her offering. Our Blessed Lord said "She gave all that she had." Evidently Our Blessed Lord judges not so much by what we give, but what we have left. She had nothing left; therefore, she gave everything.

A beautiful example of the Gospel widow is the following letter written by a daughter about her widowed mother: "My mother receives a pension each month from the Government for my father's services during the first World War. She wishes to donate a portion of this over a five-year period to educate a young man for the priesthood. Her entire life has been dedicated to helping others to find the true faith. Although partially crippled all her life, she reared eight children and, with limited finances and time, was able to personally convert an entire family of colored people, a grandmother, a mother and eight children. Recently, when the grandmother died and the family was without money to provide a grave, mother insisted that this woman be buried in our family plot with my father and brother. Now, though completely disabled with arthritis, she keeps in touch with this family and encourages them to live up to their faith and to spread it to others of their race. Once, though in constant pain from arthritis, she called on every home in our parish begging funds to dress a First Communion class in the Missions. Through sheer determination, her efforts resulted in 60 little girls being dressed well to receive Our Lord for the first time. I know she would be horrified if she knew that I had related this to you, or if anyone were to think that she had done anything out of the ordinary. She has taught us all our lives 'take the first step and Almighty God will do the rest. You have no idea what just a little bit of kindness can do'."

Our powers of dispossession are greater than our powers of possession. We can never get the whole world into our hands, but we can wash our hands of the whole world. That is why poverty, the spirit of poverty and the vow of poverty, create an emptiness which God can fill. We can never get any one of our readers to put his arms around the globe and say, "I love everyone," until like Mary he puts his arms around Christ and says, "I love You." You cannot put your arms around Christ if they are clutching the things of this world. It does not matter how much you have. It does not matter how much you give. It does matter when you give how much you have left — how much room you have left for God. God Love You!

GOD LOVE YOU to M.H. for $50. "Recently, while driving home from work in our car pool we commented on how fortunate we are: we have a good job, we live in an affluent society. Talking about it, we decided that most of us had two of everything: two TV's; more than two radios, new homes all have two bathrooms, sometimes even two living rooms — one formal and the other called the "family" room. Many folks have two cars, two children, even two big debts. I even received two salary increases this year. So after thinking it over, I have decided that with two of so many things, I would give my two raises to the world's poor. I know it will be stretched to cover the needs of many more than two." . . . To Anon. for $250.

Not all giving has to be painful. By taking out an Annuity with The Society for the Propagation of the Faith you can, at the same time, give to the Holy Father's missions and receive an income while you live. You reduce your taxes and, at death, the remainder goes to the Holy Father to be distributed to the poor. Don't waste time worrying about your money, securities, property. For more information write to me, including the date of your birth, at 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001.

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifice to it and mail it to Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001, or to your Diocesan Director, Rev. Neil J. Flemming, Chancery Office, 6301 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami 38, Florida.

JOSEPH EGAN ELECTED DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Serrans' Role As Lay Apostles Stressed

BOYNTON BEACH — The important role of the Serran as a lay apostle in the Church was emphasized by Bishop Coleman F. Carroll when he spoke to officers and chaplains of Serra Clubs in District 30 during a Serra Spring Policy Meeting at the Major Seminary of St. Vincent de Paul.

Joseph Egan, past president of Indian River Serra Club, and member of St. Helen parish, Vero Beach, was elected Serra District Governor during the one day meeting. He succeeds Otto Trott, past president of the Broward Serra Club who served as chairman for the Spring meeting.

CONCELEBRATED MASS

Highlight of the meeting was a Mass of Concelebration offered by eight priests with Bishop Coleman F. Carroll. Those concelebrating were Father Carey L. Leonard, C. M., rector, St. Vincent de Paul Seminary; Msgr. James J. Walsh, chaplain, Serra Club of Miami; Msgr. J. P. O'Mahoney, P. A., chaplain, Serra Club of Palm Beach; Msgr. Michael J. Beerhalter, chaplain, Indian River Serra Club; Msgr. David Bushey, assistant chaplain, Miami Serra Club; Father Joseph P. Cronin, chaplain, Serra Club of Broward County; Father Thomas M. Anglim, assistant chaplain, Serra Club of Palm Beach; and Father Charles L. Judah, S. J., chaplain, Serra Club of Kingston, Jamaica.

Following the Mass Serra officers and chaplains were joined by major seminarians studying for the priesthood of the Diocese of Miami for luncheon in the seminary refectory.

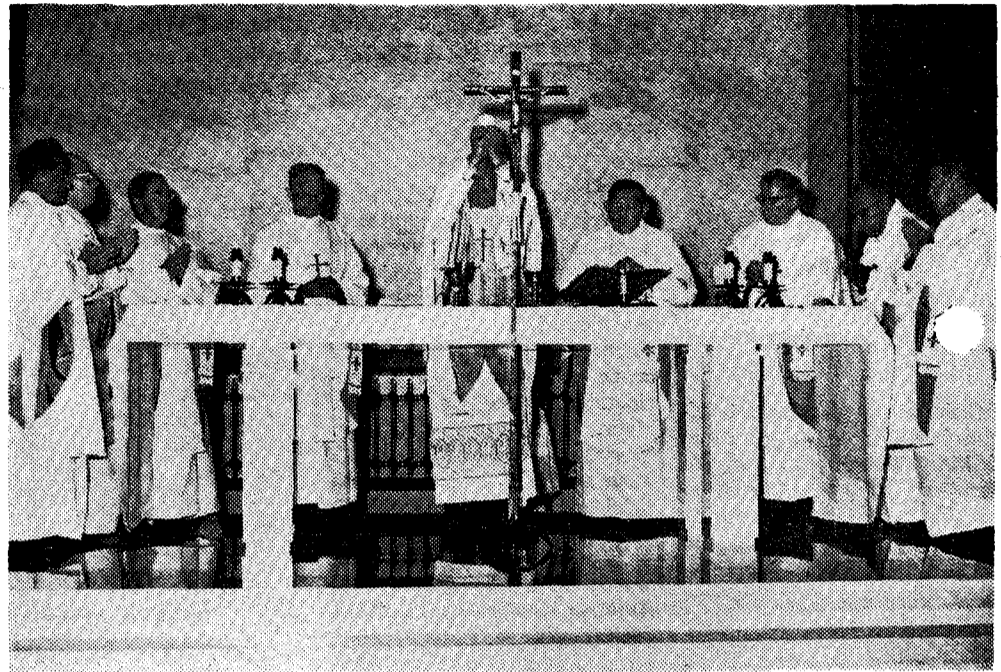

During the luncheon Bishop Carroll stressed the work of Serrans as lay apostles especially dedicated to fostering vocations. He pointed out that while the good results of their work cannot be measured, that it is certain they have contributed much to the cause of vocations through their prayers, lectures and other activities.

An informal dialogue between seminarians and Serrans was included in the program. Topics of discussion included "What Do Serra Men Expect Of Their Priests?" "What Do Seminarians Expect Of Serra Men?" "How Can There Be A Closer Bond Between Serrans And Seminarians?" and "In What Ways Can Serrans Aid in the Preparation of Candidates for the Priesthood?"

BY BISHOP COLEMAN F. CARROLL

'Preach Gospel,' Young Orators Urged

Bishop Coleman F. Carroll urged contestants in the National Catholic Forensic League tournament to make "the teachings of Christ known to all."

Bishop Carroll pointed out that the decree of the Second Vatican Council on the lay apostolate made it clear that everyone has an obligation to "preach the Gospel."

In his talk to the contestants following a Pontifical Low Mass he celebrated at the opening of the three-day tournament, he explained they could do this "by example, by dialogue and by discussion."

Site of the tournament was the Americana Hotel. The finals in the speech competition were held last Saturday.

Bishop Carroll told his listeners they had a duty to "Christianize as best you can the community in which you live."

"It is not only enough to be concerned with saving your own soul," he asserted, but you also should be concerned with the welfare of the souls of others."

"You must take care of your brother in need," Bishop Carroll stressed, "when his rights are denied him, when he is rejected because of his color or when he is looked down on because he is a refugee."

He reminded the Forensic League contestants that because of the special training they had received in public speaking they would be better able to carry "the teachings of Christ into the marketplace."

In a talk delivered at the Mass, Father Patrick S. McDonnell, diocesan superintendent of high schools, said there was a special need today for "articulate Catholic leaders."

"Whereas before," he said, "we had only to develop the Christian man, today we must develop the Christian man who can, in turn, Christianize the world."

Broward Pupils Get Merit Awards

They are: Eileen McDargh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McDargh, members of St. Pius X parish, Fort Lauderdale;

And Theresa Hayest, daughter of Mrs. Vasco Zangrando of St. Elizabeth parish, Pompano Beach.

Eileen is a senior at Cardinal Gibbons High School where she is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council and Scholarship Club.

Theresa, an eighth grader, is organist at the 8 a.m. daily Mass in St. Elizabeth Church. A "B" student, she plays tennis and swims.

Forensic League Debaters, Coaches, Attend Tournament Banquet

"Are you willing," Father McDonnell challenged his listeners, "to go out into society and not accept it but change it — are you willing to get involved in social justice?"

Father McDonnell especially urged the high school youths to develop "sincerity" as an important character trait.

During a banquet held at the Americana on the opening day of the tournament program, Judge Mallory Horton was the main speaker. More than 700 contestants and their moderators attended the banquet.

In his talk, Judge Horton said "there can be no greater use of your talent or art of good articulation than to explain and teach those among us the meaning of the true Church and the true Faith."

"What greater reward and satisfaction," he asked, "can one receive than to know that, through his ability to explain and teach, a single soul may have accepted Christ or returned to the Church?"

Judge Horton called on the high school speech contestants not to "emulate the Biblical character who was given one talent by his master."

"Use it, don't bury it," he said.

Judge Horton said that "although most any field of human endeavor requires some form of communication, there are, however, certain vocations in which good articulation is a must."

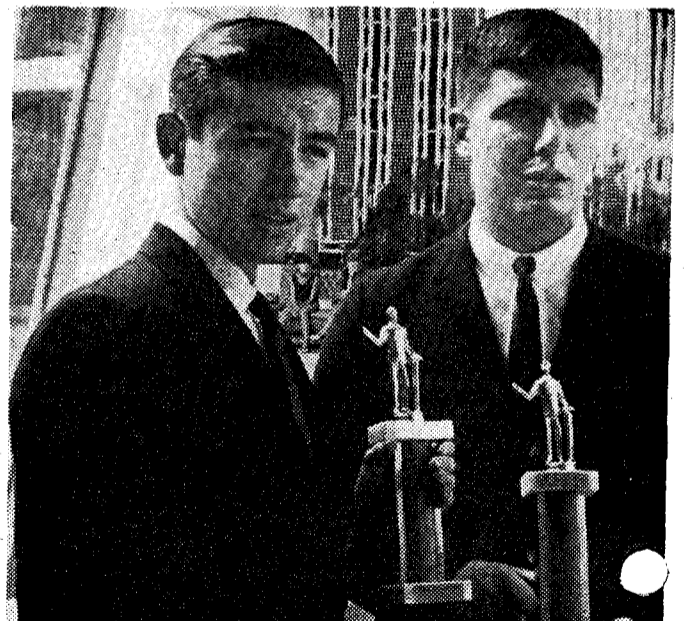

He listed as being among these the vocations to being a newscaster on radio or TV, a lawyer or a teacher.

"Last but probably most important," he declared, "is the ability of those choosing the religious life to properly and adequately express themselves."

More than 500 high school contestants from dioceses throughout the country competed in the Forensic tournament which ended last Saturday.

Bishop Carroll Addresses Contestants

WINNERS OF trophies for being finalists in the National Catholic Forensic League Tournament were: from left, Henry Vasquez and Steven Nohe, both Columbus High School students.

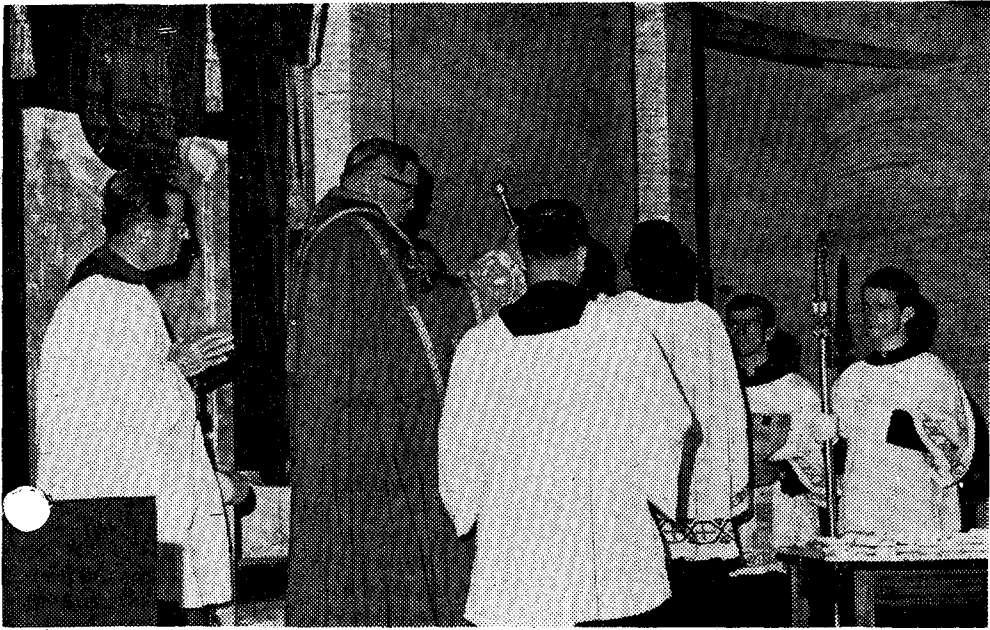

At an awards luncheon held last Saturday afternoon, it was announced that Christopher Columbus High School had placed eighth in the overall team judging.

Regis High School of New York City took first place.

Two Columbus students, Steven Nohe and Henry Vasquez were among the finalists in Original Oratory and Oratorical Interpretation respectively.

The eight first place awards in the various categories of Forensic League competition were won by students from schools in New York, Pennsylvania and Louisiana.

Brother Stephen Luke, F.M.S., of the Columbus High faculty, was elected first vice president of the Executive Council of the Forensic League. Brother Stephen formerly had served as the League's secretary.

The annual diocese all-star track team reflects these prospects for the future with junior James Jones of Archbishop Curley High as the outstanding performer and Brother Ronald, F.S.C., of LaSalle again picked as the coach of the year.

Jones was considered one of the top dash men in the Class AA circles of South Florida gaining all-city recognition in Miami with season bests of 9.9 for the 100 and 49.3 for the 440.

He won championships in both events in the 23-school Gold Coast Conference meet although not able to compete in the state championships.

Brother Ronald's LaSalle squad was the class of the diocese schools, winning the South Atlantic Conference championship and although only a Class A school, the Royals scored several upset victories over Class AA schools.

Of note for the future years are the fine efforts turned in by a pair of sophomores, Tom O'Malley of LaSalle and Rick Tabit of St. Thomas Aquinas. O'Malley had a 51.4 clocking for the 440 while Tabit had a diocese's best of 4:41.5 for the mile run.

Another underclassman of exceptional ability is David Canady of LaSalle, a junior who also gained all-Miami track honors. Canady had 9.9 and 22.4 times for the 100 and 220 events, respectively.

Also gaining special recognition is junior Silvester Dorsey of St. Thomas whose leap of 21-6 in the long jump was good enough for Broward County honors.

The Voice Of Sports

Herron To Join Biscayne Varsity

Larry Herron, all-diocese basketball center from Archbishop Curley, is the first diocese player to gain a basketball scholarship at Miami's Biscayne College.

Biscayne will begin its inaugural varsity program this coming winter. The 6-4 Herron was also a second-team All-Miami selection as he averaged 11.9 points a game and 12.0 in rebounds to help Curley to a 26-2 season's record and the runner-up spot in the Class AA regional tournament.

Coach Ken Stibler of Biscayne plans on using the big Herron at forward.

"We're happy to have Larry as the first local boy to gain a scholarship and we're hoping that he'll be the first of many," Stibler said.

"I'm also impressed with his attitude and desire, in addition to his basketball ability," he added. "Larry is just the kind of boy we like to have at Biscayne."

CYAC Will Present Two Plays Sunday

St. John Seminary

By ADAM THELEN

St. John Vianney Minor Seminary echoes the sigh of relief heard round the world by students and teachers this week . . . summer vacation is here!

The Vincentian Fathers who staff the Seminary have received their summer appointments, and the majority of the seminarians plan on summer jobs to occupy their time and supplement the family income.

Many of the seminarians interested in various fields of endeavor will pursue studies in those areas.

The Seminary C.Y.O. Softball team lost the Diocesan Softball championship to St. Mary's C.Y.O. on Sunday in a 5 to 1 defeat. St. John's finished second in the League with a record of seven wins and two losses.

As the year draws to a close the seminarians look back upon it as a memorable one.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Maytag McCahill, St. John Vianney now includes a permanent chapel.

A goodly number of clubs and organizations saw their inception this year on St. John's campus, and social work now plays an integral part in the life of the seminarian.

To all who have taken the time to read our column weekly, we say thank you. See you in September.

Muere Desterrado el Ultimo General de Independencia Cubana

Por Gustavo Pena Monte

El Cementerio Católico "Our Lady of Mercy", de Miami, guarda los restos del último de los generales de la gesta independentista cubana, el General Generoso Campos Marquetti.

El negro mambí terminó su vida heroica a los 94 años, librando una nueva batalla por la libertad de su patria. Se encontraba en la ciudad de Washington, en gestiones por la causa cubana, cuando lo sorprendió la muerte el pasado día 19 de mayo, aniversario de la muerte del Apóstol de la Independencia de Cuba, José Martí, y un día antes de la conmemoración de la Independencia de Cuba, 20 de Mayo, fecha en la que el General debía participar en una ceremonia al efecto en el Congreso de los Estados Unidos.

Como tantos miles de cubanos, el General Generoso tuvo que abandonar la patria a la que ayudó a liberar con las armas en la mano. Su avanzada edad le impedía lanzarse de nuevo la manigua para arrojar del poder a los que habían entregado su isla a un nuevo coloniaje y vino al destierro de Miami, para trabajar incansablemente por su Cuba.

Antes de venir al destierro, el anciano prócer independentista tuvo que buscar albergue en un convento católico de La Habana para eludir los vejámenes de una dictadura que lo despreció después de que él se negó a rendirle pleitesía.

Aquí, se le veía frecuentemente en la iglesia de San Juan Bosco, su parroquia, donde oraba ante la imagen de la Virgen de la Cavidad del Cobre, Patrona de Cuba, de la que era tan devoto. En esa, su iglesia, le fueron rendidas las honras fúnebres, en ceremonia en la que ofició su párroco, el padre Emilio Vallina.

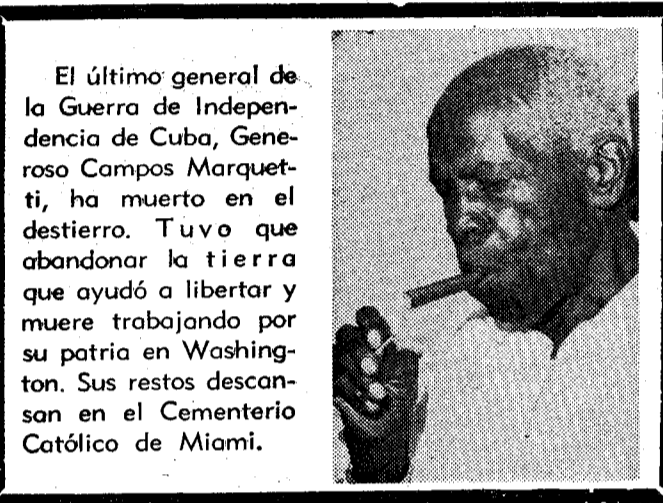

Su muerte fue una batalla más ganada por el mambí para su patria. A las cuatro de la tarde del lunes, el exilio cubano se unió en oración por la patria en torno al féretro que guardaba sus restos mortales.

Las naves de la iglesia de San Juan Bosco no pudieron dar cabida al numeroso público. En las calles que circundan el templo se agolpaban centenares de cubanos. El tránsito de la importante calle Flagler se vio interrumpido por horas mientras el cadáver era trasladado de la funeraria cubana Rivero a la iglesia y de allí al Cementerio Católico de Miami.

Tan pronto como el Padre Vallina, párroco del desaparecido general supo que el cadáver sería trasladado a Miami lo comunicó al Obispo Coleman F. Carroll, quien inmediatamente ofreció el Cementerio Católico para que sus restos descansaran en esa necrópolis que acoge ya los restos de más de un millar de cubanos que han muerto en el destierro.

Más de mil automóviles se unieron al cortejo fúnebre. Quizás la más grande demostración de duelo vista en la ciudad de Miami. Una demostración de unidad del pueblo cubano en el exilio, rindiendo postrer tributo al viejo mambí, que, con palabras de el Padre Emilio Vallina en la oración fúnebre pronunciada en la iglesia de San Juan Bosco, "seguirá desde el lugar que en el cielo tiene reservado, velando y orando por la Cuba que tanto amó".

El último general de la Guerra de Independencia de Cuba, Generoso Campos Marquetti, ha muerto en el destierro. Tuvo que abandonar la tierra que ayudó a libertar y muere trabajando por su patria en Washington. Sus restos descansan en el Cementerio Católico de Miami.

Episcopado Dominicano Publica Pastoral Sobre las Elecciones

En un clima de intensas pugnas, pero en un ambiente de amplias garantías, la República Dominicana se dispone a encaminarse al ritmo democrático a través de las elecciones que tendrán lugar el primero de junio.

El Gobierno provisional del doctor Héctor García Godoy se ha esforzado para ofrecer al pueblo dominicano una demostración de que puede decidir en forma civilista su futuro.

Estableciendo claramente que la posición de la Iglesia de la República Dominicana es de estricta neutralidad en las presentes circunstancias, el obispado de este país ha escrito una carta pastoral expresamente con motivo de las próximas elecciones.

A través de ella se exhorta al pueblo a sostener el gobierno que resulte elegido el próximo mes de junio y manifiestan que es deber del gobierno convertirse en el guardián del bienestar público y lo invita a respetar la opinión de cada ciudadano.

La carta advierte que no es misión de la Iglesia, ni de ningún eclesiástico intervenir en la solución del problema dominicano con fórmulas de carácter político, y que la Iglesia desaprueba la violencia como medio de resolver los problemas que aquejan a la sociedad dominicana.

Señala luego que es deber del gobierno robustecer la administración imparcial de la justicia en los tribunales, como medio de lograr una paz justa para todos. Asimismo, que las armas solamente deben estar en manos de personas legítimamente autorizadas.

Los obispos hacen referencia a que el odio de clases llevaría indefectiblemente a la ruina al país y que la Iglesia anhela que todos los ciudadanos, sin distinción alguna, puedan vivir dignamente, disponiendo de alimento, techo, educación y trabajo, dentro de un sistema de instituciones libres para la formación de la juventud.

Expresa también la Pastoral, que la Iglesia reconoce que es necesaria la existencia de los partidos políticos y que la participación en la política constituye para los fieles un deber propio y que deben inscribirse en partidos que defiendan una auténtica política nacional; recomendando al mismo tiempo que los católicos tienen el deber de votar, especialmente en las actuales circunstancias.

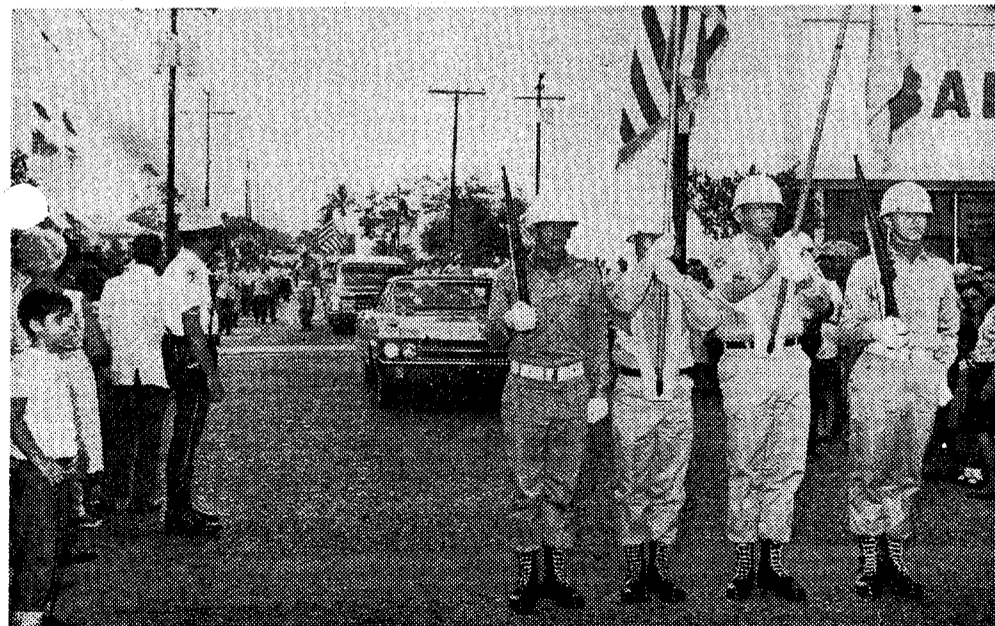

Las fuerzas se dividen entre Juan Bosch, el derrocado presidente que cuenta con el respaldo de la juventud y los sectores que se mueven hacia la izquierda —algunos de ellos de franca militancia marxista— y el otro candidato, J. Balaguer, que ha presentado un programa de gobierno que contempla amplias reivindicaciones sociales y reformas a fondo en la estructura dominicana, con una base bien definida, a diferencia del programa de Bosch, muy nebuloso.

El segundo cuenta con el respaldo de la población madura, del hombre mayor de 30 años, del campesino y el hombre de negocios. Un tercer candidato, Rafael Bonnelly, que ya ocupó la presidencia en forma provisional a la caída de Trujillo, aunque goza de grandes simpatías no parece tener la menor oportunidad y se espera que sus fuerzas se unan a las de Balaguer.

Manifestación Cubana de Duelo en El Cementerio Catolico de Miami

A pesar de la Intensa Lluvia, Centenares de Cubanos Acompañaron el Féretro Hasta su Tumba.

CON HONORES de General Muerto en Campaña, tributados por unidades del Ejército de E.E.U.U., el cortejo fúnebre que conduce los restos mortales del General Generoso Campos Marquetti, llega a la Iglesia de San Juan Bosco, donde se ofició la misa de cuerpo presente que constituyó una manifestación de unidad cubana en la oración por el eterno descanso del viejo mambí y por la libertad de la patria.

EL PADRE Emilio Vallina, párroco de San Juan Bosco bendice el féretro que contiene los restos mortales del General Campos Marquetti. Se destacan al fondo, monseñor Bryan O. Walsh, director del programa diocesano para refugiados cubanos y monseñor John J. Fitzpatrick, Canciller de la Diócesis de Miami, que presidió la misa de réquiem.

La Confianza

Por Manolo Reyes

El correr de los años, la experiencia y la vida misma nos han enseñado que la mejor forma de cimentar amistades y a la vez descubrir el adversario, es aplicar este sistema:

Cada vez que se conozca una persona, salvo raras excepciones, se le debe abrir una cuenta bancaria espiritual de cien mil dólares, por así decirlo, en nuestro fuero interno. De ahí en adelante esa persona girará cheques o hará depósitos en esa cuenta inmaterial de acuerdo con su comportamiento en general y en particular, hacia nosotros.

Un buen día si queremos saber en qué condiciones está el individuo, pasamos balance en su cuenta. Si ha aumentado sus cien mil dólares espirituales, su amistad es una buena adquisición. Si el ingreso que se le hizo ha disminuido con sus actos, esta es una amistad a la que hay que cuidar. Si su cuenta está en cero o en rojo, su compañía es nociva.

Con este ejemplo hemos querido hacer patente un factor principal de convivencia que tiene la humanidad, la democracia y la sociedad. Ese factor esencial es la confianza.

Uno de los delitos más castigables es precisamente la desconfianza que trae consigo la destrucción de la tranquilidad y la buena marcha hacia la superación de la familia. Gráfico ejemplo lo tenemos actualmente en Cuba.

El comunismo con su secuela de odio ha separado a padres de hijos, esposas de esposos, hermanos de hermanas.

Los mismos cuerpos militares se ha reportado que son nido de vigilancia mortal, de unos contra otros. Los comités de barrio constituyen un servicio de espías de Cubanos contra Cubanos.

Hay que ver las caras, las reacciones, los ojos llenos de reservas de muchos exilados Cubanos cuando pisan tierras de libertad a pesar de la inmensa alegría que los invade.

Por eso, una de las conquistas fundamentales a que deben aspirar los anticomunistas es la confianza.

La confianza como prenda de buena fe, acaba siempre por descubrir al mal intencionado. La confianza une a los hombres en la lucha por sus ideales. La confianza enraiza a dimensiones insospechadas los pilares de las relaciones humanas y la familia.

La confianza con su aureola de sonrisas, apretones sinceros de manos y palabras gratas de aliento es el mejor aliado en el exilio y uno de los mayores antidotos contra el comunismo.

PAUL CLAUDEL

1868-1955

Poeta, escritor y diplomático francés. El día de Navidad de 1886 experimentó un súbito despertar de los sentimientos religiosos, mientras asistía a Misa en la Catedral de Notre Dame en París. Poco después se convirtió al catolicismo.

Claudel llegó a ser reconocido como uno de los más grandes y originales autores de la época moderna, y a través de todas sus obras el Catolicismo permaneció como su principal inspiración. A su muerte el gobierno francés le otorgó en su funeral los honores de un héroe nacional.

ORIENTACION SOCIAL

Subraya el Papa la Necesidad de Mayor Justicia Social

“Los bienes y frutos de este mundo son para todos. Nadie tiene el derecho de guardarlos para sí ni las personas naturales ni las comunidades. Todos tenemos el deber de ponerlos al servicio de los demás”. Esto manifestó el Papa Paulo VI durante la audiencia especial que concedió al grupo de expertos prelados y laicos que se ha reunido en Roma por primera vez para estudiar la forma en que la Iglesia Católica ayude a aliviar la pobreza y promueva la justicia social entre las naciones.

Este grupo de prelados y laicos que lleva el nombre de “Comisión Pontificia de Trabajo” fue establecida por el mismo Papa Paulo VI a raíz del decreto del Concilio Ecuménico Vaticano II sobre la Misión de Iglesia en el Mundo Moderno. Está dirigida por el Obispo Edward E. Swansstrom del Servicio de Ayuda Católica de los Estados Unidos, y por Mons. Jean Rhodain, de Caritas Internacional de París.

Los veinte integrantes de la Comisión Pontificia de Trabajo se encuentran discutiendo el proyecto de creación de una nueva Secretaría del Vaticano para que dirija la lucha internacional contra la pobreza.

En su discurso que les dirigió el Santo Padre, dijo: “no sólo se trata de reducir la sorprendente desigualdad que pone al 15 por ciento de la gente en posesión del 85 por ciento de la renta mundial. No se trata tan sólo de poner en ejercicio el desarrollo técnico y económico, sino también de promover un perfeccionamiento armónico e integral de los seres humanos, que permita a cada uno llevar una vida de acuerdo con su dignidad, como ser creado a la imagen y semejanza de Dios.”

También manifestó que la Iglesia Católica no pretende realizar una acción espectacular, sino que desea hacer todo lo posible para contribuir a la solución del angustioso problema del hambre y del atraso. Luego dió a conocer la actividad que el Vaticano tiene la intención de cumplir en este campo: hacer conocer de la mejor manera posible y en toda su dramática realidad actual, ayudar a la opinión pública a descubrir sus gigantescas proporciones, indicar los medios para remediarla, y despertar en los hombres “una conciencia de las obligaciones derivadas de la fraternidad universal”.

Confirmaciones en la Catedral

Una solemne misa pontifical será oficiada por el Obispo Coleman F. Carroll el domingo, día 29, a las 10 a.m., en la Iglesia Catedral, en conmemoración de la fiesta de Pentecostés, en la que se observa el nacimiento de la iglesia y la primera manifestación del Espíritu Santo a los discípulos.

A las 3 p.m., en la Catedral, el Obispo Carroll administrará el sacramento de la confirmación a adultos de toda la Diócesis.

Pentecostés en Roma

Por Enrique Ruiloba

“Cuando llegó el día de Pentecostés, estando todos juntos en un lugar, se produjo de repente un ruido del cielo, como el de un viento impetuoso, que invadió toda la casa en que residían. Y aparecieron como divididas lenguas de fuego que se posaron sobre cada uno de ellos, quedando todos ellos llenos del Espíritu Santo”.

Con esas palabras de San Lucas, recoge el capítulo segundo de los Hechos de los Apóstoles, el suceso que cumplió la promesa de Cristo a sus seguidores, la venida del Espíritu Consolador. Y en efecto, ese día se movían los cimientos del mundo y con el sermón de los pescadores y el bautismo de más de 3,000 oyentes, se rasgaba la oscuridad y comenzaba a transmitirse a los últimos confines la luz de la Verdad.

Una radical transformación se verificaba en aquellos que ante el suplicio del Calvario dejaron solo a Jesús. Su cobardía se trocaba en valor y audacia. La ignorancia en sabiduría. El silencio en elocuencia vibrante.

Ahora que la rebeldía es el abono de infinidad de conciencias, que se vive entre violentas convulsiones, y que los tentáculos de la guerra, la pobreza y el hambre se extienden a mayor número de víctimas, el Espíritu Santo hace sentir Su presencia vigorosamente, para impedir que el desaliento se apoderen de los que defienden la fe.

El buen Papa Juan vislumbraba un “nuevo Pentecostés para la Iglesia”, y es una feliz y significativa coincidencia que en la conmemoración del primer Pentecostés tras la terminación del Concilio, se celebre en Roma la Primera “Ultreya” Internacional del Movimiento de Cursosillos.

“Ultreya”, voz de apoyo y entusiasmo que utilizaban los peregrinos de Santiago de Compostela, es para el Cursoillo un convivir general de hermanos que por los caminos de la vida avanzan hacia el Padre.

Y es en la capital de la Cristiandad donde resuenan aún las deliberaciones y plegarias de los Padres Conciliares, y junto al Pastor Supremo mo donde vibra latente el aire fresco que cundió en el corazón de la Iglesia que con nuevos bríos lleva el Evangelio a las voluntades del siglo, que se congregarán los cursillistas de los cinco continentes.

Vivísima demostración constituirá del testimonio de los laicos que después del Concilio emergen proyectados más que nunca como columna vital del Cuerpo Místico. Es que un día besaron la Cruz ante un Sagrario donde Cristo les llamó y comprometió con Su gracia, enarbolarán en lazo de caridad, el estandarte del apostolado seglar.

Obispos, sacerdotes y seglares se acercarán al Santo Padre para agradecer en su persona a todos los Obispos, la celebración del Concilio; para demostrar la gratitud de la obra de Cursosillos por la designación de San Pablo como patrón del Movimiento, que hizo Paulo VI; y para compartir con los hermanos cursillistas de los diversos países, el comunicar jubiloso del vivir cristiano.

Un caudal de actividades ocupará cada momento. Audiencia con el Papa, hora apostólica en cada una de las lenguas, reunión de grupo a escala internacional, sesiones de estudio para dirigentes, Vía Crucis en el Coliseo, y participar en la Misa que el Santo Padre celebrará el 29 de mayo, aniversario de la Venida del Espíritu Santo.

Promesa y esperanza se funden en esta fiesta de la cosecha de Dios. En cada Cursoillo se repite Pentecostés, y hombres y mujeres se lanzan a renovar la faz de la tierra.

En presencia física, o a través de la oración, estemos seguros que será el principio de muchas cosas. Y como es también el mes de María, la Madre de la Iglesia, arranquemos de Ella la perseverancia para alcanzar nuevas cumbres de victoria. Así será, si nos mantenemos al lado de Cristo, firmes en la fe, prontos a la acción y animosos hasta el sacrificio.

Oración sin fe?—Pro-nación. Sin esperanza?—Mueca. Sin caridad?—Rutina.

El Obispo Coleman F. Carroll Habla a los Antiguos Alumnos Lasallistas de Cuba.

Día del Antiguo Alumno Lasallista

Como todos los años el pasado domingo en la cafetería de la Inmaculata se reunieron los antiguos alumnos del Colegio La Salle de Cuba hoy en el exilio.

En esta ocasión la nota triste recayó en que por primera vez desde que se está celebrando esta reunión familiar la figura venerable y querida del Reverendo Hermano Victorino fundador del Colegio La Salle de Cuba no estuvo presente. Como informamos oportunamente el Hermano Victorino falleció en Puerto Rico el 16 de abril último.

El Obispo de Miami Monseñor Coleman F. Carroll ofició la Santa Misa a las once de la mañana en la primera parte de la reunión. Asistieron al Obispo los Reverendos Monseñores J. Fitzpatrick y B. L. Walsh. La misa fue por el eterno descanso del Hno. Victorino.

El sermón fue dicho por el Reverendo Padre Eugenio del Busto quien declaró la personalidad del Hermano Victorino y su obra apostólica tanto en Cuba como en el exilio.

Procedente de Santo Domingo e invitado especial por la Fraternidad de Antiguos Alumnos de la Salle vino el Reverendo Hermano Alfredo Gabriel quien dió lectura a una carta del Hermano Visitador de las Antillas. En la misma se pedía extender por un año más los poderes de la actual directiva de la Fraternidad para celebrar elecciones completas el próximo año. Los 350 lasallistas allí presentes dieron su aprobación.

La Directiva está formada por Manolo Reyes Presidente; José Miguel Morales Gómez Vicepresidente; Julio Pascual Secretario; Jorge Briñas Vicesecretario; José R. Garrigó Tesorero; Amado Viña Vicetesorero. Y Vocales: James Allyn, Amaury Betancourt Leslie Pantin Jr., Humberto López Alió, Javier Souto, Ricardo Sarabasa Camilo López, Manolo Campa, Gerardo Salmán, Arturo Avendaño y Guillermo Urbizu.

ALREDEDOR DEL MUNDO

● Paulo VI Censura a Gobierno Polaco

Con toda claridad el Papa Paulo VI reprobó (mayo 15) al régimen comunista de Polonia por la interferencia sistemática que realizó a los actos que se prepararon para conmemorar el milenio de cristiandad en aquel país de detrás del telón de acero.

En un extenso sermón que predicó durante la misa especial celebrada en la Basílica de San Pedro para conmemorar el milenio, el Papa se expresó con franqueza sobre la creciente pugna entre la Iglesia y el Estado de Polonia. Unas 10,000 personas colmaban el templo, la mitad de ellas polacas venidas de distintas partes del mundo para asistir al Santo Oficio.

"No creo que la celebración del milenio del carácter cristiano del pueblo polaco pueda ser sospechosa de anti-nacionalismo o reivindicatoria de privilegios teocráticos o de arcaicas formas políticas o sociales", expresó. Luego añadió: "La celebración debe considerarse como la expresión y la inspiración de un pueblo creyente en una auténtica libertad civil y religiosa, debido a una característica tradición secular y muy honrosa. Así es como entendemos que las ceremonias conmemorativas no pueden, en realidad, ser contrarias al bien y al progreso de una sociedad moderna sino que se debe considerar que son en su honor y en su provecho".

Su Santidad manifestó también que había deseado viajar a Polonia en respuesta a la invitación del Cardenal Stefan Wyszynski, y se declaró "muy desilusionado" porque el gobierno polaco no ha permitido que haga el peregrinaje a Varsovia.

● Frei Elogia a Padres de Maryknoll

El Presidente chileno, Eduardo Frei, ha elogiado a los Padres De Maryknoll por sus 23 años de trabajo en dicho país y destacó la labor de uno de sus sacerdotes misioneros por su trabajo entre los pobres. Frei manifestó sus elogios en una recepción especial ofrecida al R.P. Arthur J. Dwyer, superior de los Maryknoll en Chile. El R.P. Miguel D'Escote, M.M. natural de Nicaragua y quien es director de la Central Nacional de Pobladores de Chile en esta capital fue alabado por su labor en educación y trabajos especiales como "el sacerdote de las barriadas".

● Cooperación Interamericana

El estudio de proyectos concretos y la aspiración de lanzar nuevas iniciativas de cooperación internacional en el área latinoamericana, fue el tema fundamental del seminario que se realizó en Buenos Aires del 4 al 7 del presente mes por la Asociación Cristiana de Dirigentes de Empresa (ACDE). Entre sus formulaciones concretas señaló los siguientes puntos: "Papel del sector privado en el proceso intergracionista latinoamericano". "Papel de las instituciones privadas en la programación del desarrollo continental", y "Formas de cooperación y ayuda mutua para coordinar el esfuerzo colectivo regional en un concepto de solidaridad de acuerdo al clima de la Alianza para el Progreso".

Tanto el R.P. Paul Ramlot OP, director del Instituto de Estudios Políticos de América Latina, y el Contador Héctor María Sapriza, directivo de la ACDE, manifestaron: "Hay que formar dirigentes, no sólo empresarios sino políticos y gremiales. Sólo así se podrán enfrentar las nuevas perspectivas del proceso integracionista latinoamericano. Es necesario poner especial énfasis en la creación de centros de formación que con un esfuerzo multinacional proporcionen la alta capacitación que requieren los constructores de la nueva América".

Santoral de la Semana

DOMINGO 29. SANTA MARIA MAGDALENA DE PAZZI. Nacida en rica familia de Florencia, abandonó toda riqueza material e ingresó en un convento de religiosas carmelitas. De gran amor por la Eucaristía y radiante caridad con los pobres, su dulzura y profunda vida espiritual la hicieron admirada de todos. Realizó aún en vida muchos milagros, y durante su dolorosa y final enfermedad dió gran ejemplo de heroica virtud. Falleció en 1607.

LUNES 30. SANTA JUANA DE ARCO. "La doncella de Orleans", como se le conoce, desempeñó un importante papel en la lucha de Francia contra Inglaterra en la gúerra de los 100 años. Siguiendo el llamado de Dios, logró conducir al desmoralizado ejército francés a la victoria en Orleans, hizo coronar en Rheims al rey Carlos VII, y cayó prisionera de los ingleses en Compiègne. Acusada falsamente de herejía, fue condenada a la hoguera en 1431. El Papa Benedicto XV la canonizó en 1920.

MARTES 31. LA SANTISIMA VIRGEN MARIA, REINA. Desde los primeros tiempos del Cristianismo, los fieles han tributado a María oraciones y alabanzas como Madre de Dios y Reina del Universo. Es así, como la invocan Reina de los ángeles, patriarcas, confesores, mártires, profetas, vírgenes, apóstoles de la paz. El Papa Pío XII en 1954, instituyó la celebración de esta fiesta en toda la iglesia.

MIÉRCOLES 1 DE JUNIO. SANTA ANGELA DE MERICI. Nacida en Desenzano, Italia, quedó huérfana desde niña, e ingresó en la tercera orden franciscana, dedicándose a la educación de las niñas. En Brescia fundó la primera casa de lo que más tarde sería la orden de religiosas Ursulinas, consagradas a la enseñanza de la juventud. Solía decir "el desorden de la sociedad es el resultado del desorden en las familias". Falleció en santidad en 1540.

JUEVES 2. SANTOS MARCELINO Y PEDRO, MARTIRES. Durante la sangrienta persecución del emperador romano Diocleciano, el sacerdote Marcelino, muy querido en Roma, acudió a la prisión donde estaba un cristiano llamado Pedro que había convertido al carcelero y su familia, para bautizarlos. Descubiertos y llevados ante el juez Sereno, defendiendo con valor y firmeza su fe. Tras crueles tormentos fueron decapitados en el año 304.

VIERNES 3. LOS MARTIRES DE UGANDA. En Uganda, África un grupo de hombres y jóvenes entre los que se contaban Charles Lwanga y Joseph M'kasa, fueron martirizados por orden del rey M'wanga en 1886. Fueron canonizados por el Papa Paulo VI en 1964 asistiendo a las ceremonias todos los Obispos presentes para el Concilio Vaticano II.

SABADO 4. SAN FRANCISCO CARACCILOLO. Curado de la lepra a la edad de 22 años, estudió para el sacerdocio, y más tarde ayudó a fundar la Congregación de Frailes Menores Regulares. De carácter gentil y extraordinaria rectitud, este santo vió expandirse su obra por toda Italia, dando misiones, visitando los hospitales y llevando vida de sacrificio. A los 44 años murió en el 1608.

● Integración Centroamericana

"Nuestra propia defensa la dicta la integración istmica," afirmaron los participantes al Primer Congreso Centroamericano de Estudiantes de Derecho, que concluyó (mayo 7) en la Universidad Católica Rafael Landívar, Guatemala.

La primera conclusión a la que llegaron los futuros abogados centroamericanos dice que "es necesidad impostergable la integración política de Centroamérica. La imponen las exigencias del mundo actual donde los países pequeños son absorbidos por las grandes potencias." Los estudiantes reconocieron que los principales obstáculos para lograr dicha integración eran los regímenes antidemocráticos. También recomendaron a los países del istmo dar dinamismo a las actuales estructuras de integración.

Uno de los delegados, Danilo Marenko Sáenz, de la Universidad Autónoma Nacional de Nicaragua declaró: "Todos los participantes quedamos satisfechos por la libertad que se nos dió de exponer nuestras ideas".

CINE-GUIA

TRAIL. "Los Diez Mandamientos". Película norteamericana con títulos en español. Realizada en 1959. Director: Cecil B. de Mille. Intérpretes: Charlton Heston, Yul Brinner, Edgard G. Robinson, Yvonne de Carlo. En colores.

Puesta en el cine por segunda vez, ya que se realizó una primera versión muda, ahora viene "Los Diez Mandamientos" en colores, con una duración, con recursos ilimitados en extras y escenarios, con escenas de interés como el paso del Mar Rojo y con una nómina de actores entre los cuales sobresale un Charlton Heston interpretando bien a Moisés Ambas versiones, silente y sonora, han salido de las manos de un director ya fallecido: Cecil B. de Mille, pionero del cine norteamericano y cuyo argumento favorito fue la Biblia a la cual le dió en sus películas miles de extras y vastos lugares de filmación. De De Mille han dicho: "... En muchas de sus películas los argumentos corrieron parejas con los grandes ideales cristianos. Todo esto, bien mirado, constituye algo mejor que la faena hueca de otros muchos profesionales cinematográficos que poseen una filmografía de películas radicalmente materiales A-1, para toda la familia.

TIVOLI: "El Derecho de Querer". Película mexicana. Realizada en 1964. Intérpretes: Jorge Martínez, Beatriz Aguirre. Este film encierra un tema sentimental que se concentra en torno a un huérfano que encuentra amigos y logra solucionar su vida. Clasificación moral: A-1. (Para toda la familia).

"A volar Joven". Película mexicana. Realizada en 1947. Director: Miguel M. Delgado. Intérprete: Mario Moreno (Cantinflás). Haciendo gala de nuevo de su patentado "Cantinflismo", un peculiar modo de hablar en el que no se dice nada en concreto y se dejan muchas cosas en el aire, Mario Moreno aparece en otra de sus aventuras. Este film, discreto en realización se enclava en un ciclo decadente para las películas cantinflascas que se inicia en 1945 y que llega hasta 1950; año en que se recompone el nivel original de sus obras y brota a la pantalla un Cantinflás depurado. Clasificación moral: A-2 (Jóvenes)

TOWER "Dios te Salve Psiquiatra". Realización de 1965. Filmado en Miami con personal cubano. Producción y dirección: Guillermo Alvarez Guedes. Actores: Guillermo Alvarez Guedes, Gina Romand, Olga Lidia Rodríguez. En colores. Filmada teniendo como base un guión de Bernardo Viera Trejo. "Dios te Salve Psiquiatra" está dividido en tres cuentos diferentes. Aunque su manufactura técnica es normal y logra entretener, aunque sin grandes aciertos ni errores, no dejamos de apreciar el esfuerzo que ha sido construir esta película por técnicos cubanos exiliados y hubiéramos deseado que su argumento y realización hubieran estado despojados de todo reparo moral para recomendarla a toda la familia.

Lo moral: Presencia del adulterio en el primer cuento aunque se diluye por lo tonto y risible de su presentación. Trato irreverente de una religión y de libros sagrados, aunque no católicos, en el segundo cuento. Diálogos algo groseros, escenas sugerentes y vestimenta inconveniente. Clasificación moral: A-4 (Mayores con reparos).

Rosemary-Scented Foods Are Alluring

By FLORENCE DEVANEY

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." But how do we plan this campaign, to get his taste buds and stomach to take favorable notice of some special treat you've cooked just for him?

If food is beautifully seasoned, even the most absentminded man will look alive and say, "M-M-M! What smells so good?" Just a pinch of rosemary, for instance, gives delightful aroma to a wide variety of dishes — fruit cups, canned chicken soup, marinated seafood, roast lamb, spoon bread, fancy molded fruit salads.

Rosemary leaves look like little one-inch pine needles and are available nationally only in whole form. Measure them first, then crush, using the thumb of one hand against the palm of the other as a sort of convenient mortar and pestle. It's one of the more potent herbs, so, when you're learning to use rosemary in some of your own tried-and-true recipes, try the flavor power of ¼ teaspoonful per 6 servings before adding more. It takes between 10 and 15 minutes simmering to release the full aroma of rosemary.

As you will note by reading the recipes which follow, rosemary can be used with many other kinds of spices and herbs, especially baking spices such as cinnamon, cloves, ginger. Add it confidently to pepper, and dehydrated onion and garlic products, mustard, etc. — those spices ordinarily used in meat cookery.

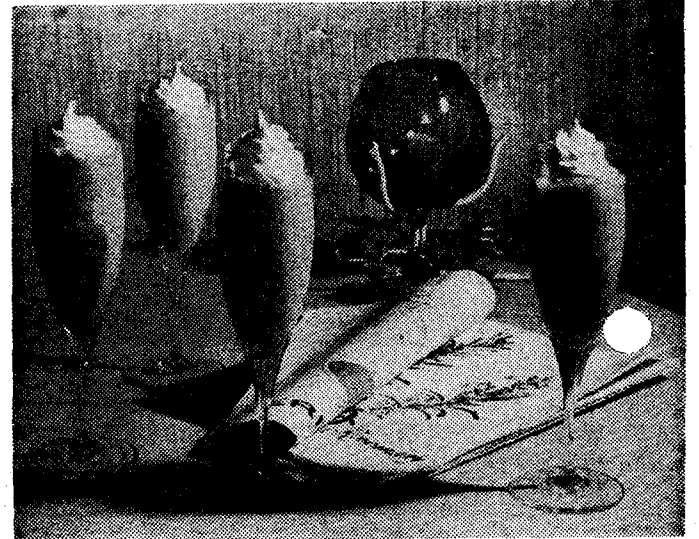

What with Father's Day, graduations and bridal showers, June is a festive month. Home economists of the American Spice Trade Association suggest the following rosemary-scented recipes serving 8 to 12 which may help you in planning luncheon or party menus.

Fresh Rhubarb Rosemary Parfaits

- |                                       |                                   |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 3½ lbs. diced fresh rhubarb           | 1 cup fresh orange juice          |
| 2½ cups sugar                         | 1 pint fresh strawberries, sliced |
| 1½ teaspoons rosemary leaves, crushed | ¾ cup heavy cream, whipped        |
| ¼ teaspoon salt                       | 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar |
| ¾ cup boiling water                   | 12 whole fresh strawberries       |
| 4 pkgs. unflavored gelatine           |                                   |

Place rhubarb in deep saucepan with next 4 ingredients. Cook, covered, over low heat, until rhubarb is tender, about 35 minutes. Transfer some to the container of an electric blender

MORE DASH TO THE DISH

THE SWEET freshness of rosemary leaves helps to make rhubarb parfait an excellent dessert when guests are on hand.

and blend until smooth. Depending on the size of blender, work small amounts at a time until it is all blended. Strain and pour back into saucepan. Sprinkle gelatine over orange juice. Stir to dissolve. Add to hot rhubarb mixture. Stir until blended. Cool until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Fold in sliced strawberries. Spoon mixture into parfait glasses. Refrigerate. Before serving, garnish with whipped cream sweetened with confectioners' sugar and a whole strawberry.

YIELD: 12 servings.

Rosemary Shrimp Pastry Loaf

- |                                     |                                     |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Pastry made from 2½ cups flour      | 2 tablespoons brandy                |
| 2½ lbs. shrimp, peeled and deveined | 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice     |
| 1 cup white wine                    | 2 teaspoons salt                    |

| 1 cup heavy cream                   | 1 large egg, lightly beaten         |

With part of pastry, line a 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan, reserve remainder for top crust. Poach shrimp in a well seasoned court bouillon made with white wine and water. Drain and cool. Put shrimp through fine blade of grinder or mince in a blender. Combine shrimp with next 11 ingredients. Mix well. Spoon shrimp mixture into pastrylined pan. Cover with top crust, sealing edges well. Brush top with beaten egg. For steam to escape, make 2 holes, the size of nickels, on top. To "set" crust, bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 F.) for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to (350 F.) and continue baking for 65 minutes. Remove to rack and let cool. Refrigerate overnight before removing from pan. Slice and serve cold.

YIELD: 12 servings.

Rosemary Glazed Chicken

- |                                       |                                      |

| ½ cup cider vinegar                   | ¼ teaspoon salt                      |
| 1 cup drained, crushed pineapple      | 1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper    |
| 2 tablespoons soy sauce               | 4 broiler chickens, 2½ lbs. each     |

Combine instant minced onion, powdered mustard and water. Let stand 10 min.

stir occasionally. In a deep, heavy saucepan combine next 10 ingredients. Blend well. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Quarter chicken and place, skin side up, under a preheated broiler about 6 inches from heat source; brush with pineapple sauce and cook slowly, turning and basting with sauce, until tender and nicely browned, about 30 to 45 minutes. Extra sauce may be stored in a covered jar in refrigerator. This is a delicious sauce for barbecued chicken.

YIELD: 8 servings (½ chicken each).

Her Mistake: Marrying Too Young

THE FAMILY CLINIC

I made the mistake of marrying too young and after three and a half years our marriage ended. I am twenty-four years of age and recently met a widower of thirty. He is the nicest man I have ever known. I like him very much. I want to do things for him and help him any way I can and most of all I like to be with him. I never loved my husband and I have the insecure feeling that I cannot love anybody and will never love anybody. Is this possible? I do not want to hurt this man, I respect him and if this is my case, I do not want to continue my association.

By JOHN J. KANE, Ph.D.

Before any effort is made to answer the general question you raised, Helen, I think it would be wise to become a bit introspective about your own life. You were married at the age of about 20, which is not quite young by today's standards. After 3½ years your marriage was broken. I am not surprised that you are anxious, fearful and somewhat insecure about the whole matter of love relationship. You may have suffered, what is commonly called a "traumatic" experience and this does leave marks on our personality.

Put into somewhat plainer English, you may be on the rebound and the first person you meet looks particularly good to you. You say this man is the nicest of all the men you have ever known. I wonder if you ever said or thought that about your former husband? When we are in love, or when we think we are in love, we are not likely to be very objective.

But this is the second point I would like to make. Don't permit what seems to be a great contrast between this man and your husband to overwhelm you. The difference may be somewhat less than you think. Third, the fact that you enjoy being with him would be some indication that you may be in love with him. But nowhere in your letter do you raise some of the very important issues that you will have to face before your association continues at all.

Church Regulations

If you were married in the Church, if the marriage were not annulled but you simply obtained a civil divorce, then you cannot remarry while your husband is living. You say nothing about this man's religion, and I have no way of determining whether he is a Catholic or not. But in the event he is a Catholic, as a widower he would be free to marry, but he would not be free to marry a divorcee. If you are really anxious not to injure him in any way, then if your status is that of a divorcee, I would suggest that you break off the association.

Some readers may consider this a harsh judgment but I would refer you to one of your parish priests for confirmation of what I have just written. If you are a Catholic and sincerely believe in the teachings of the Church, such a marriage is going to be a source of constant concern and anxiety for you. If this man with whom you believe you are in love is a Catholic the same will be true of him.

However, in all fairness to you, you do not mention the possibility of marriage. And yet it seems to crop out between every line. If this feeling is reciprocated by him I feel that marriage between the two of you would be inevitable. Therefore, I have raised the caution above.

Your major question is whether or not there are persons who cannot love anybody. Yes, it is possible.

Effect Of Urban Living

Urban living seems to make people somewhat more ego centric or self-centered than rural living did. Recently, we heard of the murder of a young girl in New York City whose screams had aroused some 39 persons but not one of whom even called the police. Again and again we read of occasions where older people or young girls or boys are attacked or beaten on the street in the presence of witnesses without anyone's raising a hand to assist. Certainly, the spirit of brotherly love and the zeal of a good Samaritan seem to be rather conspicuous by their frequent absence in our society.

People must learn how to love. Most of this is accomplished during our childhood days within our own families. We learn to love because we have been loved by a mother, a father, probably grandparents and very likely brothers and sisters. Conjugal love is somewhat different but this too is learned partly by our observation or our own parents who teach us what the meaning of conjugal love should be in their dealings, words and actions. When each is willing to make sacrifices for the other, when each thinks deeply and movingly of each other, children are aware of it. When they do not, children are likewise aware of it.

There are people who simply do not know how to love and part of the answer is that they have never learned how to do so. I don't believe such cases are utterly beyond help. I am not certain whether or not you fall into this category but you seem to think you do. Hence it would be wise to seek professional help on this matter and I refer both to the moral and the emotional levels. I suggest you see one of the parish priests, a physician or someone in Catholic Social Service. But don't leap to conclusions before you are more certain of your position.

Is Popularity Of TV's 'Batman' Waning?

By WILLIAM H. MOORING

HOLLYWOOD Calif. — "Batman" may not sustain a wild Summer madness.

Already there are signs that the fever is going out of the craze.

This is not to say that Adam West is going there in a hurry.

Nor is there a mite of doubt that when producer William Dozier started the "Batman" cult (we might as well agree that it IS a state of mind and not just another series!) he struck overtones that are going to re-echo loudly through the new Fall programs.

VIEWS ON TELEVISION

Besides Dozier's own "Green Hornet," he is already working up a sort of Superwoman series. She may be called Wonder Woman so as not to confuse her with Superman.

Besides everybody knows women prefer to be regarded as Wonderful. And Dozier needs all the mothers on his side.

The trend obviously is still on. For instance Lee Meriwether, a former Miss America, now a regular in ABC's forthcoming science-fiction series, "The Time Tunnel," is playing the "Catwoman" in the "Batman" movie set for the theaters in August.

Burgess Meredith plays the Penguin. Frank Gorshin is the Riddler. Cesar Romero is the Joker.

Any of these "camp" characters might "spin-off" into a separate series, almost anytime.

If you're among the parents who wish their youngsters would quit this stuff, listen to Lucille Ball.

"Tell the kids you like it and sit in with them a coupla times," she suggests. "Anything the old fossils enjoy is pronto out of date with the 'in' crowd."

She doesn't suggest a remedy for all those parents who tune in "Batman" before junior can get to the switch!

Bill Dozier, whom some critics accuse of "letting down TV" (from where to where, I wonder?) knows that "Batman" and his ilk are apt to be "here today; gone tomorrow."

"But so too," he adds with a cynical grin, "were 'Playhouse 90,' 'Studio One' and a few other high-tone shows with which I once had something to do."

HERE AND THERE: Bob Hope wisecracked on his NBC special, hoping to help Mexican officials to laugh off their recent beef with Frank Sinatra, over his "disrespectful" movie, "Marriage on the Rocks." They had both better forget it. The film was a stinker anyway. Bob had better remember that where there's smirk, there's fire . . . Soap operas according to an NBC admission, are going out of style in Hawaii. So may be washed out . . . CBS is readying "Wall Street — Where the Money Is." IS?

"SOUTH FLORIDA Neighborhood Youth Corps" will be the topic of a panel discussion on "The Church and the World Today" program at 11 a.m. this Sunday, May 29, over Channel 7, WCKT. Taking part in the panel will be: from left, Msgr. Bryan O. Walsh, diocesan director of the Cuban Children's program of the Catholic Welfare Bureau who will serve as moderator; George Koski, counselor for the South Florida Neighborhood Youth Corps; Mrs. Lydia Nessman, supervisor for the Day Care Services of the James E. Scott Community Association; and Miss Judy Shuler, enrollee in the Youth Corps.

Two-Part Series On Church To Be Televised On Ch. 4

"The Church: New Structures, New Voices," a two-part filmed documentary series will be seen on the Look Up and Live, program of the CBS-TV Network, on Sunday, June 5, and Sunday, June 12.

("Look Up and Live" is carried over Channel 4, WTVJ, at 10:30 a.m. each Sunday.)

Shot in Montreal, Oklahoma City and Elyria, Ohio, the series reports on experiments in democratic procedures in the Catholic Church — and on favorable and unfavorable local reactions.

Typical experiments include plans for a representative Little Council (based on Vatican Council II) in Oklahoma City and the Organization of St. Maurice, a Montreal parish in which the pastor has turned final authority in all temporal matters to the parishioners.

The Oklahoma Little Council has the blessing of Bishop Victor Reed, but has aroused bitter opposition among local conservative Catholic groups. The programs include interviews with Catholic spokesmen for the various shades of opposition to current diocesan policies.

The portion from St. Mary's parish in Elyria, Ohio, tells the story of Catholic lay theologian, Don Nicodemus, and his work in organizing a parish senate to form policy subject only to the pastor's approval.

In Montreal, Emile Cardinal Leger, in a comprehensive interview, explains the reorganization of his archdiocese for the purpose of involving lower clergy and laity at every level of decision-making and administration.

"The Church: New Structures, New Voices" is produced by CBS News in cooperation with the National Council of Catholic Men.

Producer for CBS is Ted Holmes; for NCCM, Robert J. Allen.

Executive producer for CBS is Pamela Hott; for NCCM, Richard J. Walsh.

The series is written by Madeline Karr.

MY SON, THE PRIEST

THE HOLY FATHER'S MISSION AID TO THE ORIENTAL CHURCH

A FUTURE PRIEST NEEDS SOMEONE'S HELP

Have you ever wished you had a son a priest? Now you can have a 'priest of your own'—and share forever in all the good he does. . . . Throughout the Near East this week, grateful bishops are ordaining new priests trained by people like you. . . . Their own families are too poor to support them in training, but good Catholics in lucky America 'adopted' these seminarians, encouraged them all the way to ordination. . . . In some inspiring cases, this support was given at personal sacrifice. . . . How can you begin? Write to us now. We'll send you the name of a young seminarian who needs you, and he will write to you. Make the payments for his training to suit your convenience ($8.50 a month, or $100 a year, or the total $600 all at once). Join your sacrifices to his, and at every Sacrifice of the Mass, he will always remember who made it possible.

TRAIN A SISTER, TOO

Native Sisters in 18 developing countries are teaching children of the poor, preparing them for First Communion, giving medical care to lepers, cancer sufferers, the aging. A Sister's training lasts two years, costs $12.50 a month, $150 a year, or $900 altogether. . . . We'll send you the name of a Sister you can train, as soon as we receive your first payment. She will pray for you and write to you.

HUNGER CAN'T WAIT

Any day now you may receive a letter containing the Holy Father's appeal for the forgotten Arab refugees—1.3 million people without a country . . . most of them destitute . . . more than half of them children. . . . By training these children for future self-sufficiency, we can help bring peace and new self-help to the Holy Land, still divided by war. . . . But why wait for your mail? Hunger can't wait. Neither can peace. Send your gift now in any amount ($500, $200, $100, $75, $50, $25, $20, $15, $10, $5, $2, $1) and the Holy Father can put it to work right away. Only $10 will feed a family for a month!

The Question Box

Where Is Grave Of Mary?

By MSGR. J. D. CONWAY

Q. Some time ago you wrote about the death of the Virgin Mary. I saw an article in another Catholic paper a few years ago which stated that Mary was supposed to have died in Ephesus and to be buried outside the city where the Turks continue to this day to venerate her at her grave, but that the Turkish government will not permit the Catholic Church to make official investigations.

A. There are two traditions about the death, or dormition, of the Blessed Virgin: The more probable one, that she died in Jerusalem, where her reputed grave can be visited; the other that she died at Ephesus, in Asia Minor, where she had gone with St. John.

The shrine of the Virgin Mary at Ephesus is, indeed, held in veneration by the Moslem people; and it is my understanding that research and reconstruction is now being made in that area, especially on the great church of early centuries which was dedicated to the Blessed Virgin and St. John.

Q. I want to buy a new missal. Could you tell me when the latest one, with the new changes, will be in the stores.

A. You are right on time. At least two editions should be in your store right now, and others are coming.

Q. In a recent column you said, "To the best of my knowledge the limbo of the Fathers ceased to exist either with our Lord's Resurrection or His Ascension into heaven." I go to a Catholic high school and my religion teacher, a Brother, told us that there still is an existing limbo, which is used for the unbaptized who have died.

A. There may be an existing limbo for unbaptized babies. God knows. But it is not the ancient Limbo of the Fathers which existed before heaven was created for redeemed men.

Q. In school we had a discussion on ecumenism and a remark was made that it all seemed to be one-sided. The Protestants are the ones expected to make the steps toward Christian unity and we are to stand ready to receive them back into the fold.

A. Many of the letters I receive make the opposite objection. They say that ever since the Council began we are the ones who have been making all the overtures and concessions. We have updated our concept of the Church, embraced our separated brethren as true brothers in Christ, asked pardon for Catholic sins of the past, revised our liturgy, condemned anti-Semitism, opted for religious freedom, made friendly gestures to pagans and even to Communists, revised some of our laws, and considered adapting some of our moral concepts to non-Catholic thought.

Certainly we will not get far with ecumenism if we stand still and expect our separated brethren to make all the approaches. Neither will we get far if we carefully measure our every step and begrudge every conciliatory gesture we make if it does not receive reciprocal gesture from the other side. Actually our Protestant friends were working at ecumenism for many years before we got into it; so a number of rapid steps were rightly expected of us.

One rule for ecumenism is. Never try to prejudice or anticipate the terms of reunion. There are many things which keep us apart: Doctrine, customs and traditions, forms of worship, structure of the Church and the psychological trauma of past injuries and prejudices. If Church structure seems an immediate barrier to unity, that is no reason to call off all efforts in other areas. The ultimate outcome is in the hands of God. It is our task to work in faith, hope and love toward a better understanding of each other.

Christian Family Group Plans Convention

A group of Christian Family Movement couples from the Diocese of Miami will attend the CFM southern area convention to be held July 29-31 at St. Mary's Dominican College in New Orleans, La.

Among the couples planning to attend are: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glynn of St. Hugh parish and Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Healy of Holy Family parish.

The Healys and the Glynn's are the president couple and the secretary couple respectively of the Miami Federation of the CFM.

Mrs. Healy said a bus has been temporarily rented to carry Diocese of Miami CFM couples to the convention and back.

She said a total of 18 diocesan couples have indicated thus far that they plan to attend the convention.

Any CFM couple interested in making the trip by bus may obtain further information by contacting Mrs. Healy at WI 5-7413.

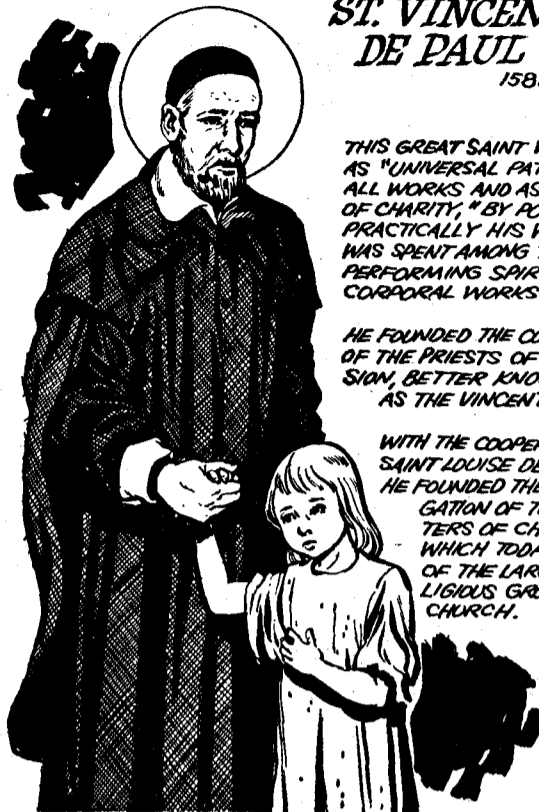

CFM groups have been established in a number of parishes in the Diocese including St. Ambrose, Deerfield Beach; Little Flower, Hollywood; St. Vincent, Margate; St. Hugh; Holy Family; St. Louis; Corpus Christi; and Epiphany. A CFM group also has been organized at Homestead Air Force Base.

In addition to Florida, CFM couples are expected to attend the convention from Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Nassau and the Virgin Islands.

SHARING OUR TREASURE

A Crop Of 25 Converts Grew From Inquiry Class

By FATHER JOHN A. O'BRIEN

Katherine McIntee was attending Mass one Sunday at Holy Cross parish, South Bend, Ind., when she heard an announcement that an Inquiry Class would be conducted in the school auditorium on two evenings each week for three months. She listened with particular interest when she heard me say:

"Please look over the list of your acquaintances and friends and see if there isn't some churchless person whom you could bring to this class. Many people are curious to know just what the Church teaches. They've heard various distortions of Catholic belief and often would like to know the truth about us Catholics."

"Here is their chance to learn what we really believe and practice. Invite them to the class and offer to come with them."

"Every Catholic is obliged in conscience to help bring Christ and His saving truths to those who are without them. On Judgment Day God will ask for a strict accounting of your stewardship in this regard."

REMEMBERS

It was the first time that Katherine McIntee had ever heard that the laity is obliged to help in extending Christ's kingdom among the souls of men. She reviewed the list of her friends and suddenly the name of Louise Brown popped up. She has a Catholic husband and a seven-year-old daughter Beverley, thought Katherine, and this class may help her see the light and thus unify the spiritual life of her family.

In order that the news of the Inquiry Class might reach the largest number of people in South Bend and Mishawaka, the pastor, Father Walter J. Higgins, C.S.C., ran a good-sized ad in the South Bend Tribune which enters virtually every home in the area.

When Mrs. Martha Lachot saw that ad, she called her husband's attention to it. "Noble," she said, "this is just the dish for you. You've often wanted to get an intelligent 'closeup' of the Catholic religion. Here's your chance. I'll go with you."

At the first lecture I was delighted to see a large turnout of Catholics and non-Catholics. There in one of the front rows were Katherine McIntee and Louise Brown. Just a few rows back of them were Dr. and Mrs. Lachot.

It was an interested audience that I faced each Monday and Friday evening for the next three months. I lectured for an hour and then remained for another half-hour to answer private the questions of any individual who experienced the slightest difficulty.

Arriving at the hall about a half-hour before the lecture, I met each as he or she entered and had a little visit with as many as possible. In this way I was able to supplement the general lecture with individual contacts and conferences and thus keep my finger on the pulse of each inquirer.

Three months later at a crowded Sunday Mass I was privileged to receive 25 converts into the fold — the largest ever received at one time at Holy Cross church.

NOTICE ANYTHING DIFFERENT?

We're sure you noticed the "see thru" windows we put in our building for this ad. But, did you notice the roominess of the floor plans in the apartments you can now look into. Why they are as big as a house . . . which is exactly the point we are trying to put across. You don't have to sacrifice space in order to enjoy the advantages of Hi-Rise Apartment living, not if you live at Biscayne 21. We don't ask you to give up anything . . . Well, almost. You do have to give up mowing the lawn, paying property taxes, etc. But, we try to make up for that in other ways. Such as free central heating and air conditioning, free indoor parking, a powder room in every apartment, convenient location and on, and on. We feel that it compensates. Why don't you stop by and see if you agree.

Directions: From Biscayne Boulevard turn east on N.E. 21st St. to North Bayshore Drive, turn left into parking space provided at Biscayne 21.
